ANSWER "PRESENT"

Red Cross Roll Call comes around again—are you present with your name and your dollar ? This is an opportunity to invest at little cost, in one of the biggest and best enterprises in the world. Dividends are paid constantly, not in money, but in the consciousness of having done your bit in helping your less-fortunate brother. Fire or flood, pestilence or famine, whatever the crisis, the American Red Cross is right on the job, administering relief, comfort and healing in every way. Your dollar may save a life; your dollar may save a soul. Do you DARE NOT give it ?

WHAT IS AN AMERICAN ?

We frequently hear the phrase that man is a true American. When you have heard that expression did you ever stop to think what it means ? Rabbi Stephen S. Wise tersely sums up the word "American" in the following style—

Let me answer the question by asking and answering yet another—what Americanism is not. Americanism is not a matter of birth and ancestry, for the American is self-made, not born. Americanism, being ever in the making, is of present content and not of ancient context; is not a birthright privilege but a lifelong responsibility.

America is not a place, not a region, not a locality; America is an atmosphere, an ideal, a vision as yet unfulfilled.

No man is an American who does not place America first, before himself . He must serve America: America must not serve him. . . . He is no American who cherishes prejudices, whether these be social or racial, or religious. All this is only another way of saying that an American is a conscious, vigilant, fraternal, unwearied creator of America who scorns the notion that America bears a charmed life, and that democracy, even though it be of the American brand, guarantees the automatic solution of its own problems.

Not America for Americans. but Americans for America, and America for the world.

FEDERALSBURG

Parent-Teacher's Association Meets

The second meeting of the Parent-Teacher's Association was held Monday evening at the high school with a good attendance present and a lively interest displayed.

The program was as usual, interesting and well done. First came a song and recitation by fourth-grade pupils, followed by a talk on "The First Thanksgiving" by Miss May Thompson. Mr. W. E. Somers, principal, also made some timely remarks bearing on "Some Things to be Thankful For," when Misses Louise Brooks, Miriam Stowell and Mr. George Messick presented a sketch from an O. Henry story which strikingly illustrated the necessity of "Better English." As a culmination to the program a quartet by four teachers—Misses Thompson, Covey, Stevens and Elben—was next "rendered" with Miss Mary Davis at the piano. "Silently Steal Away" was the song, and silently did each songstress steal away before the audience realized the full suggestive title and its import. The applause showed appreciation of the young ladies' "attempt."

During the business session which followed Mrs. J. W. Stowell announced a gift to the school by the School Board of two dozen Norway maple trees for planting on the grounds. Messrs. J. R. Charles, F. L. Williams and J. E. Hallowell were appointed as a committee to direct the planting.

During the past week $183.02 was collected for the Janitor's fund and it was decided at this meeting to augment this sum by giving a benefit moving picture on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 22 and 23. The evening's collection was $2.90 Refreshments of apples and candy were provided by a special committee and enjoyed by all present.

Union Evangelistic Services Close..

The special evangelistic services engaged in jointly by the two churches of the town—Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant—closed Sunday night after four week's continuance with many decisions, conversions and reconsecrations during the period. The services were held alternately at the M. E. and M. P. Church each week, Rev. F. C. MacSorley and Rev. G. E. MacDorman being the respective pastors.

Art Exhibit Next Week.

The Elson Art Exhibit, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association, both as a means of aiding a community appreciation of art and of securing a number of fine pictures for the school, will be held at the high school on November 22 to 24.

Youthful ticket sellers have been busy this week canvassing the town, vieing with each other in their efforts to sell the greatest number of tickets, as the grade which sells the most will receive a picture for their room.

The art exhibit promises to be of no little educative and entertaining value as the pictures are said to be wonderful reproductions of the world's masterpieces, and afford an unusual opportunity for one unacquainted with art to get some conception of its wonders.

The proceeds from tickets will purchase pictures to be selected from the collection for the high school.

Another High School Teacher to Wed

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Mary Lucille Tull, a teacher in the Federalsburg High School, to Mr. Raymond I. Dean of this town. Miss Tull, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Tull, of Tull's Corner, near Crisfield, has taught in this school since the fall of 1921. Mr. Dean is a broker and express agent here.

The wedding, which will take place during the winter, will mark the second yield to Hymen's call among the faculty, Miss Sophie Kirwan's engagement to Mr. Arthur Jones of Cambridge, having recently been announced also.

Woman's Club Aspires to Clubhouse

At its meeting last week the Woman Club launched a drive for a clubhouse carrying a motion to devote 25 per cent of all moneys earned by the club to a Clubhouse Fund.

Plans for a bazaar to be held December 8 are going forward. This bazaar will embrace a variety of offerings, appealing especially to the Christmas gift-seeker. Bags, baskets, aprons, caps, decorative articles, handkerchiefs, dolls, a wide variety of children's apparel and the ever-welcome sweets—cakes, candies, etc.,—will be found there in profusion to tempt the purse of whoever beholds these displays.

Mrs. J. F. Short is chairman of the bazaar with eight sub-chairman with their respective committees assisting.

Cambridge Ice Company Plays Host

The local branch of the Cambridge Ice Company held its annual reception to its patrons on Monday evening at the Temple where the farmers who bring milk to the creamery here were all invited to meet and enjoy their products after being frozen into ice cream by the company. The occasion was much enjoyed.

Mr. G. H. Jefferson is manager of the local branch of the company.

Mrs. Edna Melson Hurley Injured

Mrs. Edna Melson Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Melson, of near here, and wife of Albert B. Hurley, formerly of Seaford, was very seriously, if not fatally injured by an automobile on Monday in Washington, D C., where she and her husband resided. Mrs. Hurley was crossing the street when she was struck, and according to reports received by relatives, was suffering from concussion of the brain, fractures of the legs and other injuries. Her death is feared. She was a graduate of Federalsburg High School about ten years ago.

First National Building Going Up

Work on the new building of the First National Bank at the southeast corner of Bridge and Main Streets is progressing satisfactorily. The material is iron-spotted buff brick, with Indiana limestone trimming. The structure will be two-story with offices above the large banking room, with entrances on both Main and Bridge streets.

Influx of Warriors Here

Tuesday brought unusual occurrences here. First a fluttering of mammoth wings caused all to glance skyward to watch the gyrations of some birdman overhead who, circling several times above the town, finally landed north of town. Whether he brought any Redmen here or not was not ascertained, but certainly they began to arrive early and in large numbers for by evening the downtown streets were filled with Redmen from all sections of the Shore, who united with the local Naumkeag Tribe No. 102 in preparing for a street parade. There were large numbers of witnesses. Main Street was lined on either side with automobiles. Sixteen tribes were represented in the parade, most of them dressed in their regalia, and some appearing quite savage-like indeed. Quite a number of "squaws" marched in the parade.

Following the parade a class of adoption as held in the Opera House followed by an open meeting addressed by several men prominent in the order.

Some of the towns whose tribes attended this grand rally were Trappe, Oxford, St. Michaels, Crapo, Tilghman, Cambridge, Denton, Graysville, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Wittman, Preston, Queenstown.

Personal and Social Mention

Mrs. T. N. Finnegan of Baltimore is spending some time at the home of her uncle, Mr. Fred N. Wright.

Mrs. Sarah Williams is again confined to her bed by illness. Her condition is slightly improved at this writing.

Mrs. W. T. Eddington spent several days of last week visiting Philadelphia friends.

Mrs. A. C. Brower is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. A. Smith, at Ridgely.

Miss Rachel Jefferson attended a football game last Saturday at New-Del., between Delaware University and Haverford College, remaining for the banquet and dance which followed. She was the guest of Miss Mary Handy overnight.

Mrs. Mary Louser, of Lebanon, Pa., is spending some time here with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Eddington.

Mrs. Lottie Adams of Seaford is the guest of her nieces, Misses Addie and Myra Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Elliott left last Friday for Rochester, N. Y., where they expect to spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. Thomas N. Dodd.

Mr. Roland Handy of Dover spent the past week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Handy.

Mr. Everett Nuttle of Washington College, Chestertown, spent part of last week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nuttle.

Mr. Albert Willoughby of the U. S. Army stationed at West Point, spent several days here recently with his sister, Mrs. Calvert Todd.

Misses Iva and Esther Griffeth of Delaware City and Wilmington, respectively, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Greenbury Griffith.

Miss Mary Handy, of University of Delaware, Newark, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Handy

Mrs. H. B. Messenger is reported much improved after an illness of several weeks at her home on Buena Vista Avenue.

Mrs. Jennie Logan has returned from several weeks' stay with friends at Darby and Llanerch, Pa.

Mrs. W. P. McKown spent the past week end with her daughter, Miss Alice McKown, at Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McIntosh and little son Stewart, Jr., of Lewes, Del. spent the week end with Federalsburg friends.

Miss Esther Calloway, a nurse at the Maryland University Hospital, of Baltimore, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Calloway.

Miss Kathleen Todd, a freshman at Western Maryland College, is home nursing a sprained ankle. The injury was received during a basket-ball game and is so severe that the ankle must be kept in a plaster cast for some time. Miss Todd's mother, Mrs. Harry Fluharty together with Mr. Hubert Noble and Miss Elsie Slocum, motored to Westminster last Thursday bringing Miss Todd home with them.

Rev. George C. Williams, who for several years has been pastor of Mc Cabe Memorial M. E. Church, Wilmington, has recently been transferred to a pastorate at Knoxville, Tenn. Mr. Williams spent last Thursday and Friday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Williams and brother, Mr. F. L. Williams, before leaving with his family for his southern home.

The Union M. E. parsonage is vastly improved in appearance now, a fresh dainty dress of paint adding the finishing touch to the elevation of the house and porch extension before mentioned.
