FEDERALSBURG

Commencement Week, with its attendant functions and festivities, was an arduous one for graduates here, who, in addition to the usual exercises of Class and Commencement days, presented in the evening between the two occasions the Senior Class Play, for which rehearsals had been constantly held, and which were made irksome by the excessive heat. The three events passed off successfully however in spite of the temperature which reached the zenith on Thursday evening, the night of the play, but failed to mar the effective acting in "The Charm School," an entertaining and well-depicted drama of boarding school life. The audience was very large and appreciative of the histrionic talent displayed.

Beginning with the Sermon to the Graduates on Sunday morning, June 17, delivered by Rev. F. C. MacSorley in Union M. E. Church, the events of the week followed rapidly, rehearsals claiming the seniors' every available hour.

On Wednesday night in the high school auditorium the Class Day exercises were held. These embraced the usual features of such occasions, when the retiring seniors, relaxing from their wonted dignity, take a last fling at their classmates, teachers, and subordinates in school. One novel feature of this entertainment was the introduction of a class jester, Miss Miriam Stowell, who diverted and amused the audience by characteristic merriment and jests.

Following the play on Thursday night came Commencement on Friday morning. Music of exceptionally fine character by the Girls' Glee Club, with Miss Mary Davis directing, was the outstanding feature of this occasion. Some of the fine selections of the two evenings were Kipling's ballad, "On the Road to Mandalay," Shubert's "Serenade," Harriet Ware's beautiful "Boat Song," Denza's "A Merry Life," and the negro spiritual, "O, Mary Don't You Weep." All were splendidly rendered, as was the processional, "Lead On, O King Eternal," and the class song, adapted to the Italian "Sole Mia." The speaker of the occasion was ex-Governor Emerson C. Harrington, of Cambridge, who spoke inspiringly, being introduced by the Principal, Mr. W. E. Somers, who also spoke a few brief words to the class. Miss Helen Kinder, as valedictorian, was the only member of the class to speak, addressing her classmates as weavers of the tapestry of life, and adjuring them to weave therein only the strong colors of lasting qualities of character, omitting the baser things, thus weaving a fabric of enduring texture and beautiful design. The figure was poetically developed and impressively delivered.

The diplomas were presented by Mr. Walter Wright, president of the School Board.

The class of 1923 was composed of the following: Misses Helen Kinder, Katherine Wright, Ida Nabb, Louise Brooks, Elizabeth Willoughby, Florence St. James, Grace Roe, Rosaleen Moore, Mildred Scott, Mildred Meredith, Adelia Jefferson, Miriam Stowell, and Messrs. George Messick, Smith Taylor and Lawrence Howard.

On Monday of this week the final festivity of the season was held, when the Senior Class, together with members of the faculty and other friends, were entertained at a lawn party on the high school campus, where mirth and glee prevailed all evening and everyone enjoyed the frolicsome entertainment provided by the class of '24, as well as the delicious refreshments.

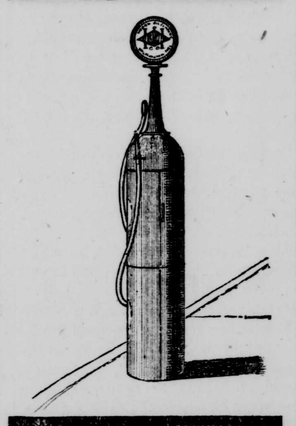
HEARN GASOLINE

Is Uniform and Dependable because it is tested before it is sold

All Hearn Gasoline is subjected to a series of tests before it is sold. These tests are important because they assure you of a high quality motor fuel that is always the same, not only at one station, but wherever the name HEARN marks a pump.



Among the most important tests to which Hearn Gasoline is subjected are: (1) the Distillation Test, (2) the Sulphur Test, (3) the Evaporation Test, and (4) the Sulphonation Test.

The Distillation Test is your assurance of a gasoline that starts easily, burns evenly, and gives power.

The Sulphur Test is your assurance of a gasoline free from sulphur and the consequent corrosion of certain metal parts, such as the exhaust valves, etc.

The Evaporation Test is your assurance that you are using ALL GASOLINE, with NO TRACE OF KEROSENE in it.

The Sulphonation Test is your assurance of a gasoline that is not carbon-forming, and is free from certain corrosive foreign matter.

You are entitled to know about the gasoline you buy. When you stop at a Hearn Filling Station you KNOW that the fuel you purchase has HAD to measure up to rigid specifications. You buy a gasoline that is always the same, no matter where or how often you buy it. It is uniform and reliable, because it is tested.

ANOTHER SPECIFICATION, EQUALLY IMPORTANT, TO WHICH ALL HEARN GASOLINE IS SUBJECTED, WILL BE EXPLAINED IN THE NEXT ADVERTISEMENT.

That "Minimum Service" Charge

While the family's away this summer, and you're on the road or living at some hotel, you may wonder why you get an electric bill every month as usual with a charge for "minimum service."

If you're a business man, however, you'll understand "capital invested" in meters and equipment and "overhead" on the wages of meter readers and clerical force who must examine and record your meter reading every thirty days as long as the meter remains on your premises.

Then, too, electric service must be maintained, ready for instant use day or night should you or the family return unexpectedly. If you've ever groped your way into a dark, deserted house, you know something about the convenience of an instant flood of light. That monthly "minimum service" charge insures current ready and waiting for the press of the button.
