NOTICE

To the Republican Voters of Caroline County:

For the purpose of discussing party conditions in general and looking forward to the nomination of a Republican State and County ticket to be voted for at the November election next; you are requested to meet in the Court House, in Denton, on Tuesday afternoon, July 24th, at 2 o'clock.

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE FOR CAROLINE COUNTY Pol. Ad 12-2

Candidates are Lining Up

out the Nomination Blank—send it or bring it to The American Union office at once. If you don't want to nominate yourself, you may nominate a friend. It doesn't cost anything either way and you will always be glad you did it. Upon receipt of the nomination blank, campaign headquarters will immediately forward you complete details together with supplies and all necessary accessories. If you desirie any information concerning nominating yourself or a friend call at The American Union office or telephone Denton 20 and have everything explained to you in detail.

List of Candidates Appears Today.

The list of names of the candidates nominated up to the time of going to press appears in this issue. The vote standing will appear in The American Union and Upper Dorchester News each week. Be sure that your name appears in the list, so that your friends will know you are in the campaign.

Only One Way.

Remember, there's only one way to make nominations. Candidates must either nominate themselves or be the choice of some friend who will do it for them. The management will not place any names in the campaign and if you want to be sure that your name is among those from which the own- of the Jewett and Ford automobiles and other grand prizes are to be chosen you must get your name in at once.

A Small Fortune to the Winner

In a few short weeks some reader of this paper will be given a prize that represents a small fortune—which is more than the average man makes in a year and more than the average family saves in an entire life time.

Ambition, energy, with plenty of "pep" are the only requisites for success. Those who start early will of course have the advantage, but the opportunities now are even for everyone. The first step toward winning this brand new $1,195 Jewett is to send in the nomination blank which appears in this issue. Filling out and sending in the nomination blank, good for 5,000 votes, starts you off. Then you can begin the pleasurable task of gathering in the votes which are given for new and renewal subscriptions to The American Union and Upper Dorchester News and in free votes which appear in every number of these papers.

Now is the Time.

Right now—TODAY—is the time to begin. If you want a $1,195 Jewett of your own so that you can ride when you wish and take your friends or family out for a spin you should get busy NOW and nominate yourself without further delay. Think of having a car of your own, to go where you please and stay as long as you like —a car that has a reputation for reliability, power and luxuriousness. That's just what you can have if you are willnig to put forth a little hustle and a little effort during your spare time.

More Votes Given Now.

Understand, too, that there will be more votes for subscriptions now than at any other time. This is done in fairness to the ones who get out and hustle at the start and it prevents anyone stepping in at the last minute. You can't buy these prizes—but you can win them by your own honest and enthusiastic efforts. Bear in mind that votes cannot be bought—the votes are given for subscription payments and by means of the free voting coupons.

Read the announcement on another page and start today. Once started, if you are the ambitious sort, you will become possessor of the kind of enthusiasm that should make the big automobile or one of the other grand prizes yours.

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR 3 DOLLINGS COMPANIES

Columbus, Ohio, July 14.—The R. L. Dollings Companies of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania and the International Note and Mortgage Company, a subsidiarv for which from $75,000,000 to $80,000,000 in stock is said to have been sold to more than 80,000 persons, face receivership proceedings.

Thirteen stockholders asked the court today that a receiver be appointed for the four companies, that investigation be made into the books, records and assets; that stock subscriptions be declared null and void; that the money paid by the plaintiffs' for certificates of stock be made a debt, and that judgment be awarded for thi samount and the remainder be divided among other stockholders.

The plaintiffs also ask that William G. Benham, president of the Ohio Company, and Dwight Harrison, vice-president and secretary, as well as all other officers, be enjoined from all disposing of property or assets.

The petition alleged that the companies have been declaring dividends arbitrarily; that the dividends have been paid out of capital assets of the subsidiary companies and not from profit, and that they have been paying large operating deficits for some of its subsidiaries.

Hearing on the application will be given next Friday.

The petition alleged that the R. L. Dollings Company of Ohio has no assets but stock and securities owned by its subsidiaries except cash on hand, "the amount of which is unknown,' and that therefore "it has no earning capacity except through dividends and commissions."

It is alleged by those seeking the receivership that officers of the company have refused to pay them back their stock subscriptions "on demand" as promised by their agents, and that "Benham and Harrison dominate the board of directors so that the board has no voice in the affairs which come before them."

That the concern is being managed for the purpose of selling stock and not for the benefit of stockholders is also charged.

The International Note and Mortgage Company of Ohio is capitalized for $10,000,000, the petition says, and a company of the same name, with capitalization of $2,500,000 has been incorporated in Indiana. Proceeds from the sale of this stock, it is alleged, have been loaned the R. L. Dollings Company of Ohio and Indiana with security and by them loaned to subsidiary companies.

The Miracle in the Can

Our Grandmother's Day and Now

In the days gone by our dear old Grandmother stood over a hot wood stove for hours at a time to prepare food for her family. Little wonder, with such long and constant practice, she became a positive magician with viands.

Her ideas and skill have been transferred to the modern canning and preserving plant so that the housewife of today can enjoy the bountiful provisions of Nature as fresh and sweet as when plucked from the tree or dug from Mothe Earth.

This is a wonderful age in which we live.
