MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

The most prolific cause of war is the conviction that one can lick the other fellow.

One of the most striking differences between a cat and a lie is that the cat has only nine lives.

One thing that makes it hard to find ideal servants is the scarcity of ideal employers.

The negative man says, "I don't think it can be done." The peptomist says, "I just did it."

He who is careful with the spark may not have to battle with the flame.

Being ignorant is not so much a shame as being unwilling to learn.

Light travels inconceivably fast until it encounters a human mind.

The dollar can never fall so low as the means some people adopt to get it.

All the time which God allows us is just enough for the work which God allots us.

We must not look for a golden life in an iron age.

Voltaire said, "I hate life, and yet I hate to die." Paul said, "For me to live in Christ, to die is gain."

A word of praise will often help another along the road to success, while a word of censure would hold him back.

Do as well as you can today and perhaps tomorrow you may be able to do better.

Those who try to do something and utterly fail are much better than those who try to do nothing and succeed beautifully.

Eastern Shore Happenings

Georgetown, Del., July 5—Prominent ministers from all sections of the Delmarvia Peninsula are expected this year at Fenwick's Island Camp, which opens August 8 and continues for 10 days.

For the last 5 years this camp has been noted as a meeting place for the ministers in the summer during which time they are able to have some recreation and enjoy the breezes of the Atlantic.

On the shores of the sea in a beautiful woodland, Fenwick's Island Camp is an ideal spot for an outing. An able corps of ministers will preach at the camp.

With not a trickle of water coming through from the ocean to Rehoboth Bay and the Indian River, thousands of crabs and fish are dying, according to a telegram sent Wednesday to U. S. Senator Coleman duPont, by L. P. Faucett, wealthy business man of Philadelphia, who has a country home on the bay.

The State at the last session of the Legislature, appropriated $30,000 towards opening the inlet but Mr. Faucett contends that immediate action is necessary within the next 24 hours to open the inlet and remove the sand between the ocean and bay.

The present dry weather has left the pond and lakes which feed the river, almost dry.

Easton, Md., July 3—The Talbot Bank of Easton has just declared a 50 per cent. divided on its capital stock. In addition to this, a 4 per cent. quarterly dividend has also been declared. Both dividends are payable in cash on and after July.

The bank is growing rapidly, and has a surplus three times the amount of its capital stock. The 50 per cent. dividend was paid out of undivided profits. Each quarter the bank pays a 4 per cent. dividend.

Seaford, Del., July 3—County Agent Malloy C. Vaughn is the champion wheat producer of Sussex county this year, it is claimed, with a record of 31¼ bushels to the acre on his farm near Cool Spring.

Considering this is an off wheat year in southern Delaware, Vaughn's yield is remarkable. He attributes his record-breaking production to the top-dressing of fertilizer used.

Early apples from Delaware, which promise to be the best ever turned out by orchards in the state will be more widely distributed this year than ever before in the state's history. Prices which also indicate a very strong demand for the fruit promise to bring to the growers the best returns they have ever received for a crop of the early varieties, according to reports made to Wilmer T. Derickson, Director of the Bureau of Markets of the State Board of Agriculture.

Residents of Smyrna are much concerned over the rumor that the Pennsylvania Railroad contemplates discontinuing the branch line between Clayton and Smyrna. The Smyrna Chamber of Commerce called a citizen's mass meeting which was held in the town hall, to protest against the proposed course of action by the railway Superintendent Sinclair and other officials of the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania railroad system were present to discuss the matter and to set forth their reasons for the change.

* * *

Seaford, June 30—Wholesale riddance of Seaford of worthless and ownerless dogs began yesterday, by the arrival of Willard Hobbs and his helpers from Laurel in a motor truck. Hobbs had been previously supplied with a list of about 100 worthless dogs and he and his assistants at once got busy in catching them.

* * *

Elkton, Md., July 3—The first victim of fire crackers, near this section, was Edward Corba, of North East, who with another boy, tried to put off a big cracker, which failed to explode until the lad had picked it up to examine it. Then it exploded, tearing his teeth out and cutting his face badly.

Final arrangements have about been made for the encampment of Battery "A" 1sep. Bn. Del. N. G. located at Laurel which will be held this year at Fort Hancock.

The men will entrain at the Pennsylvania depot on the morning of July 18th bound for Jersey City. From there they will go direct to Fort Hancock.

* * *

Laurel, Del., July3—Quite a sensation was created here late yesterday afternoon when it became known that Jimmy Baily, aged 15, had been kidnapped.

Young Baily is the son ofJude Bily. When the Bailys separated about 12 years ago their three children were put in homes. William Tyndall took Jimmy to raise. The youth was last seen with Richard Mitchell who has served two terms in jail for bootlegging. The State Police are on the case and it is expected the youth will be returned in a stort time.

Seaford, Del.—Special trains in large numbers are daily passing through Seaford loaded solidly with Eastern Shore of Virginia "Spuds" enroute to markets in all sections of the United States.

With more than 400 carloads of potatoes moving daily from Northampton and Accomac counties, that are averaging $4 a barrel f. o. b. and better, approximately $300,000 a day is being carried back to the Shore farmers and should continue at this rate for the next week.

With the receipt Tuesday of a personal check for $2,500 from United States Senator Coleman duPont by Colonel Earl I. Brown, Corps U. S. Engineers, Wilmington district, the first lifeline has been thrown to save Rehoboth Bay and Indian River Bay from destruction of their great natural seafood resources. The bay has been closed up by a sand bar seven feet high, closing in on large food fish.

* * *

Dover, June 29—Thomas Ross, colored, who has been held in Kent county jail since June 20 awaiting trial on a charge of driving off an automobile without the consent of the owner, made his escape this morning, and is still at large. Mrs. Howard Wicks, wife of the sheriff, was at a door leading to the prison, handing some of the other prisoners a disenfectant for use in the jail when Ross pushed her to one side and ran out. He jumped a fence and disappeared. The alarm was give and officers started in pursuit.

Artificial irrigation has proven a profit-maker with strawberries in Wicomico county this season. Although "overhead" irrigation has been in use for some time, with certain crops, the method known as "surface" irrigation never received a fair trial until this year.

Under this system wells were sunk and water pumped to the fields. where it was led into the furrows between the rows of strawberry plants and allowed to soak into the ground. The initial cost of the surface system, it has been proven, is slight compared to the overhead method.

Salisbury's automatic electrical traffic signal device, erected at the corner of Main and Division streets for a 30-day trial, will be used permanently at that busy intersection, the "City Fathers" decreed Monday evening when, after its purchase had been recommended by the Traffic Commission, a resolution embodying the recommendation was passed.

President John Hart, of the Midland Food Products Co., Charleston, W. Va., which is fitting up a cucumber pickling plant at Salisbury, expects to start operations about July 10th, it was announced this week.

The company is figuring on packing more than 72,000 eleven ounce jars of pickles during the coming season. Just the number of people which the plant will employ depends upon the amount of machinery to be installed later.

To miraculously escape death by a mere matter of moments and inches, twice within ten days, is the unusual experience of Emory Powell, night-engineer at the Centreville electric plant.

Compared with his nerve-racking escapes, the escapades of the popular movie thriller sink into comparative insignificance.

Monday of last week he came close to being blown to atoms when a cylinder head exploded on one of the massive steam engines at the municipal electric plant. Last Tuesday he emerged, practically unhurt, from a Ford car which was crushed to bits between a train and a shifting freight car in the Centreville railroad yards.

Salisbury, Md., July 3—Constructed and fully equipped, the smart seagoing pleasure yacht Aleedo, valued at $100,000, will leave the ways of the shipyard here at noon tomorrow and simultaneously becomes the property of George W. C. Drexel, retired Philadelphia banker.

Miss Irma Johnson Smith, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith of Salisbury, has been chosen by the new owner to christen the craft.

Illness will prevent Mr. Drexel from attending the launching, but members of the family and friends will witness the event.

The Aleedo will compare favorably with the highest class pleasure yacht on the Atlantic seaboard, its builders claim. She is 105 feet long and will carry a crew of fifteen. There are twelve staterooms and several subsidiary chambers for guests, besides the crew's quarters.
