SATURDAY,.....FEBRUARY 16, 1877

THE death of Pope Pius IX, which has been long expected, occurred at Rome on the 7th inst. No other pontiff has ever held the chair of the Pope so long.

THE death of William Welch at Philadelphia last Monday is very much lamented. For many years past he has been conspicuous in that city for his manly opposition to all sorts of political corruption.

GOVERNOR HOLLYDAY of Virginia is certainly a true reformer. On Monday last, through Gen. Echols, of the House of Delegates, he offered to reduce his salary one thousand dollars per annum. The offer could not be accepted on account of constitutional prohibitions. The House, as a compromise, amended the bill reducing the salaries of State officials twenty per cent., so as to allow the executive to pay his secretary out of his own funds. This virtually reduces the Governor's salary eight hundred dollars per annum if this bill is adopted.

THE Easton Star of the 12th inst., thus speaks of the Hon. R. C. Holliday, in connection with the next gubernatorial nomination: "A writer in the St. Michael's Comet names Hon. Richard C. Holliday, Secretary of State, for Governor, to succeed Gov. Carroll, and says he will be pressed by his friends, who are legion throughout the State, for the Democratic nomination. No man in Maryland is more familiar with the duties of the gubernatorial office, or would fill the position with more honor to the State, than Col. Holliday. Talbot would give him a hearty support.

THE following is the Bland silver bill in the shape in which the Senate is discussing it. The portion of it in brackets is the concluding clause of the House bill stricken out by the Senate Finance Committee, and the italicized portion is what the Senate committee added in place of the sentence stricken out:

"An Act to authorize the free coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character.

"Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be coined, at the several mints of the United States, silver dollars of the weight of four hundred and twelve and a half grains Troy of standard silver, as provided in the act of January eighteenth, eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, on which shall be the devices and superscriptions provided by said act; which coins, together with all silver dollars heretofore coined by the United States of like weight and fineness, shall be a legal tender, at their nominal value, for all debts and dues, public and private, except when otherwise provided by contract; [and any owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at any United States coinage mint or assay office, to be coined into such dollars, for his benefit, upon the same terms and conditions as gold bullion is deposited for coinage under existing laws.] And the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to purchase, from time to time, silver bullion at the market price thereof, not less than two million dollars per month, nor more than four million dollars per month, and cause the same to be coined into such dollars. And any gain or seigniorage arising from this coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the Treasury, as provided under existing laws relative to the subsidiary coinage; provided, that the amount of money at any one time invested in such silver bullion, exclusive of such resulting coin, shall not exceed five million dollars."

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate last week the following bills were passed:

House bill providing that convicts shall be allowed the the time of their confinement upon a new sentence between that and the first conviction or sentence, after the affirmation by the Court of Appeals of the judgment of the court below upon a writ of error or appeal; also Senate bill to authorize the appointment of additional justice of the peace for the second district of Kent county; also Senate bill to regulate the taking of fish and oysters in Synepuxent bay and its tributaries; also Senate bill empowering the Court of Appeals to award costs which may accrue in cases before them, and the costs below, in such manner as may seem right and proper to the court; House bill amending the local laws of Frederick county relating to fees of the sheriff; House bill to protect insectiverous birds in Somerset county; also House bill to create a new election district in Somerset county; also House bill to provide for the killing of hawks and owls in Somerset county, and House bill amending the charter of Ellicott City and Clarkville Turnpike Company. And the following passed the House: To amend section 199, article 1, codeII, relating to birds in Allegany county; relating to justices of the peace in Carrrol county; to amend chapter 156, acts of 1876, relating to birds and game of Wicomico county; Senate bill assigning the interest of the State in certain assets of Cyntice Cannon, deceased, to Catherine M. Cannon, of Dorchester county; Senate bill to create a new election district in Montgomery county, to be known as Darnestown district; Senate bill to repeal act of 1876 preventing the increase of gates upon the public roads in Calvert county.

Pursuant to adjournment on Friday, the Senate met on Tuesday, and among other matters, the canal bill was considered, on its third reading, but opened to amendments under a special agreement.

Mr. Gorman in reply to an inquiry said that the net earnings of the canal from 1872 to 1877 were $995,000. Before that the expenses were not paid.

Mr. Miller offered an amendment limiting the issue of the bonds to so much under $500,000 as may be necessary for the repair of the canal.

Mr. Bannon and Mr. Gorman replied that it was not intended to issue more of the bonds than will be necessary for the work, but the amount of authorization is put up to $500,000 so as to provide against the exigencies of another accident to the canal.

Mr. Peter also spoke in opposition to the amendment and Mr. Dennis in support of it. He said that thirty-five or forty years ago the State involved herself to the amount of about $11,000,000 for the benefit of this canal company, which now, principal and interest, sums up to over $20,000,000. He cannot say much of the beauties and benefits of the company. It may have made Montgomery county bloom and blossom, but not so with the other sections of the State. We on our shore have no flowers budding and blooming upon the banks of the canal, but we have the tax-gatherer making his annual visits to us, gathering from us the tolls for these beauties and bloomings. He then referred to the origin of the charter of the canal and the subsequent amendations and additions covering the extension to dam No. 6, and remarked that perhaps there was more than one taxpayer in the State who was now re-echoing with force and feeling, "Dam No. 6," and who wished heartily the canal had never gone beyond that, so as to show, among other things, the power of the company to issue bonds and put them upon the market for the canal repairs, and argued the utter uselessness of the present bill, most especially when it permits the issue of bonds for $500,000, when only $200,000 are necessary for the work upon a liberal estimate. Is the balance, he asked, to be put into the pockets of the officers of the company, or to go into its treasury, and for what purpose?

The amendment was lost. Yeas—Messrs. Dennis, Freeman, Garey, Hill, Miller and Steiner—6. Nay—Messrs. Bannon, Combs of Allegany, Combs of St. Mary's Cooper, Gorman, Hepron, Humphreys, Joyce Lancaster, Lee, McLane, Peter, Stump, Sullivane and Wedley—15.

Mr. Miller proposed an additional amendment placing the supervision of the work and the contracts for the same under the immediate control of the board of public works.

Mr. Combs of Allegany, said the effect of the amendment would virtually kill the canal, and to kill the canal will be to choke off the great interest of Western Maryland, for whom the canal has done so much; and to incorporate the amendment in the bill will be far worse than to strike out the enacting clause and end its provisions at once. The work of repairing the canal has already begun, or else it could never be finished in time to utilize the canal for the approaching season.

The amendment was rejected without division.

Mr. Garey proposed an amendment forbidding the sale of the bonds at less than par value or one hundred cents on the dollar. Lost—Yeas 3, nays 18.

The bill, without being further amended materially, as ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

In the House the following bills were passed: Relating to collectors of taxes in Prince George's county; amending act of 1868, chapter 330; to repeal act of 1867, chapter 164, providing for the payment of costs incurred before justices before appeals from their decisions shall be heard, (rejected—yeas 30, nays 34;) to add a section to article 30, code I, to provide for the punishment of embezzlement; to prevent the hunting or taking, killing or destroying terrapins or terrapin eggs in Anne Arundel or Chesapeake bay adjacent thereto from May 10 to October 15, in any year; to divide Dames Quater district and to annex to it a portion of Princess Anne's district, Somerset county; to amend sections 4, 6, 7 and 8, chapter 504, act 1874, regulating the manufacture and sale of oil for illuminating purposes; to refund taxes on oyster house, ordinary and retail liquor traders' licenses to Jacob Williams and others, of Talbot county, erroneously paid to to the State; to consolidate into one corporation "The Washington University of Baltimore" and the "College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore City;" to add a section to article 20, code I, (act 1868, chapter 471,) relating to the incorporation of corporations under the General laws of this State, relating to the competency of Jurors in criminal cases.

The House bill to pay Isaac M. Denson balance due for cement furnished for the use of the State to Thomas H. Moore, late weigher of live stock, being upon it third reading, was, on motion of Mr. Scharf, postponed to 1 o'clock P. M.

House bill to amend section 167, article 4, code I, relating to pleadings in courts in Baltimore City, being upon its third reading, the House went into committee on the whole on motion of Mitchell, of Baltimore, Mr. Johnson of Baltimore county in the chair. Mr. Hoblitzell moved to strike out the first section and then the second section of the bill, and both motions were adopted. The committee then rose and reported what had been done to the House and the House adopted the report.

A message was received from the Senate proposing that the committee of the two houses on inspections act as a joint committee, and that all questions pertaining to inspections or the inspecting system of the State be referred thereto.

Among other things which transpired in the Senate Wednesday a somewhat animated debate took place in regard to the division of this district, in which Senator Garey was conspicuous. The Balto. Sun of Thursday says Mr. Garey reported favorably the bill creating a new election district in Caroline county.

Mr. Sullivane asked the reference of this bill to the committee on elections for further consideration.

Mr. Garey said the matter was purely a local one, and having been properly considered by the committee, and the bill being agreeable to the delegates from his county, he could not see the reason for sending it to another committee. Now, sir, said Mr. Garey, there's a history to this motion and matter. A storm once arose and in consequence a certain Jonah was cast overboard. Last fall we had a like storm in my county and a political Jonah was thrown overboard by the democracy, (meaning Mr. Fields,) and I was elected to represent my county in this Senate, and I am here for that purpose, and I can't understand why I should be interfered with. But the Jonah is here. He has been thrown up by some fish, and is still pursuing his self-willed course, notwithstanding the lesson taught him last November, and thereby giving my county two Senators on this floor. Only one is needed, and I feel certain I can protect her interest. Mr. Garey then spoke in plain terms to Mr. Fields, (who was on the floor in the Senate at the time and seemed to to enjoy his arraignment, for he was smilling all the while,) and insinuated that he had better go home and attend to his business, and intimated that he (Mr. Fields) had attempted to get back here by using improper and unfair means at the election, but which were defeated, and said there was neither necessity nor propriety in Mr. Field's being here. I, said he, certainly do not want him for my partner in anything or any matter, for if we were partners, I would have to furnish all the money and labor, while he could furnish only bombast and chicanery. He has enough of this to make him call himself the watch-dog of the treasury, but he is a dog that barks at himself and bites other people.

Mr. Bannon made the point of order that the Senators remarks were not confined to the subject-matter under discussion.

The President decided the point well taken, and requested the Senator to speak in reference to the bill and motion.

Mr. Garey said: "I would not say one word against any Senator, but when a man who dared approach the the Senators here and elbow them around to do his wishes, I think I have the right to speak of it, for he is doing that which does not belong to a gentleman. I will content myself, however, by saying that I hope the reference will not be made."

Mr. Sullivane said that the reason for making the motion was because he had received letters from some of the most prominent citizens of Caroline county saying that the bill in question embraces an objectionable feature in regard to the voting place of the new district, and while they wanted a new district the one marked out by the bill was unsatisfactory. Hence his motion. He sent to clerk's desk and had read a letter from Mr. James B. Steele, of that county, which he said was a sample of those he had received.

Mr. Garey exhibited a map of the county, which the Senators examined, to show the central location of the voting place under the bill for the district.

After further discussion the bill to recommit was lost, and the bill was ordered to be printed

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Denver, (Col.) Tribune of last week says a petition to have Sergeant James A Barwick, of the Signal Office, retained in Denver after the expiration of his regular term next July, has been circulating in the city during the last few days. THE TRIBUNE, as one interested, is anxious to have the petition granted. Sergeant Barwick is certainly one of the most efficient officers of the whole signal service force. Ever attentive to his business, zealous to serve the public, and withal a pleasant gentleman, he has made himself a great favorite in Denver. Besides, he has become well acquainted with the character of our climate, having made it a study for two years, and is thus better fitted than a new man would be to perform the duties of the office to the satisfaction of both his department and the Colorado people. The petition has been signed by the leading citizens of the city, and will be forwarded to Washington.

ANDERSON'S SAFETY INKSTAND. 150,000 Sold.

THE ink doesn't spill when you upset it. To keep out the dust, and prevent evaporation, when not using you turn it upside down. There is no need to soil your fingers, and there is always plenty of ink till the last drop is used. Its shape makes it practically impossible to spoil pens points and it can be easily cleaned. Sold by all dealers, and wholesale and retail by American Book Exchange, 55 Beekman St., N. Y.

A NATIONAL LIBRARY.

ALL NEW BOOKS and all standard books supplied, in any quantity demanded, and loaned to all parts of the United States. Old and new books sold remarkably low for cash, or exchanged for other books. Immense catalogues in Book Exchange Monthly, 50 cents a year. Booksellers act as our agents.
