LOCAL INTELIGENCE.

THE Orphans' Court for Caroline county will meet on Tuesday the 12th March.

SCRAPS.

—Buy Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It cures. To be had at all druggists for 25 cents.

—The firm of Burns & Sloan, large lumber dealers, Baltimore, Md., has dissolved partnership.

—For the best and cheapest cigars, call on Mr. Frederick Gebhardt, Ridgely, Md. See card.

—I. C. W. Powell Esq. a member of the Easton bar, was in town last Saturday on professional business.

—See advertisement of the new firm of lumbermen, Geo. F. Sloan & Bro's, Baltimore. They furnish the best lumber and at very moderate prices.

—Miss Laura Dennis, sister of U. S. Senator Dennis, State Senator Dennis and Delegate Dennis, died Tuesday, the 19th ult., at the residence of the latter.

—Samuel Burns & Co., advertise in the JOURNAL this morning their extensive lumber business, at 104 Light Street Wharf. They are wide-awake and reliable men.

—We advertise in this issue the American Sewing Machine, Mr. Wm. H. Thawley, agent, Hillsborough, Md. This is said to be the best and lightest running machine made.

—An unpleasant passenger in a street car is a crying baby. In such cases Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup should be given to the little sufferer to ease its troubles. 25 cents a bottle.*

—The advocates of a general local option law for the State, including Baltimore city, seem to be largely in the majority in the legislature, and there is no doubt that such a law will pass the House.

—We understand our county commissioners contemplate making the much needed repairs on Denton Bridge in a short time. We think it would be better and cheaper, in the end, to have built an entirely new bridge.

—Some of our largest tax payers are anxious that the county commissioners shall have some improvement made in the road over the causeway between this town and the bridge. Petitions for this purpose are soon to be in circulation.

—Mr. Alexander Baker, residing near Burrsville, in cutting down an old chestnut tree a few days ago, found in the heart of it a large round lead ball. There being no mark of its having entered the tree, it is supposed to have lodged there over a hundred years ago, when it was a small sapling.

—The discussions of the Burrsville lyceum are becoming quite interesting. The question, "Resolved that conscience is an innate principle" was very instructively handled last Saturday evening by Dr. Saulsbury and the Rev. Jas. Sulivan in the affirmative and Messrs. Cowen and Smith on the negative. The former won.

—Sharp darting pains through the forehead and temples, alternating with periods of restless anxiety, and a constant disposition to change of thought, place and occupation, great irritability of stomach, provoking severe nausea—these are symptoms of another type of Headache, popularly termed "Sick Headache." The remedy giving instant relief is Keller's Vegetable Life Drops, which will soothe the irritated Stomach and assuage all pain in the Head.

MD. STEAMBOAT CO.—The Steamer Highland Light will be withdrawn for repairs early in March The Kent having been converted into a first-class night boat, will continue the route as now run until April, when, after the completion of the Highland Light, she will continue on the river, on the alternate nights with the Highland Light, thus making a boat every night from Baltimore, for the principal landings on the Choptank, and a boat three times a week to Denton. See advertisement elsewhere.

DENTON DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION.—This association will visit Federalsburg Saturday evening March 2nd, and Harrington, Del., Tuesday evening march 5th, where they will play the popular and very amusing drama, entitled "Breach of Promise," to conclude with with the very laughable farce of "The Toodles." Let none fail to see it. It will be a treat not often offered in the country. The object of these entertainments is a very laudable one as the proceeds will be devoted to replenish the Denton library.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given by the Dramatic Association of this town at the Court House on Saturday evening last was universally enjoyed by the spectators, and pronounced by them to be the best of its description ever given in this town. The characters were all so well taken that we cannot single out any to lavish our praise upon lest we be compelled to name them all. The beautiful scenery painted by Mr. Sansom added very much to the effectiveness of the plays and was deservedly much praised.

DOMESTIC MONTHLY.—The March number of this sterling magazine shows no abatement in the vigor of its management, and is, if anything, an improvement on the brilliant numbers which have preceded it this year.

IN JAIL.—We have now, for the first time since last October, a prisoner in our jail. John H. Dixon, a young colored man, attending school in this town, was arrested on Wednesday morning last by Sheriff Evitts, on a charge of stealing wheat from Mr. Geo. W. Spurry, residing in Tuckahoe Neck. It appears that the said Dixon was in Denton until a late hour on Tuesday night, when he went to the residence of Mr. Spurry with a team, and taking about seven bushels of wheat, drove to Greensborough with it and sold or exchanged it with Satterfield & Moore.

GOOD SENSE.—A writer puts a good deal of good sense and a good many p's in a small space in the follwing:—Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have peculiar power in pushing forward the public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket book kept plethoric by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to paper in peace; he paints his pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the persual of his paper is of more pleasure to his people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can perceive it. Be pleased, also, to ponder upon it thyself patiently and perseveringly, and profitably persistently practice its precepts perpetually.

ORPHANS' COURT.—The Court met on Tuesday last, present Judges Ford and Willis.

Edward R. Goslin, adm'r of Mitchell Covey, dec'd, was granted by the Court the order prayed for in his petition.

Edward R. Goslin, ext'r of David W. Chipp, dec'd, presented an account of sales of the personal estate of the deceased; passed.

Edward F. Davis and James H. Davis, adm'rs of Albert N. Davis, dec'd, presented an account of sales of the personal estate of said deceased; passed.

Isaac Pool, ext'r of Jonah Kelley, dec'd, presented a third and additional account of sperate debts due to the deceased, and also distribution of balance of the estate; passed.

Richard C. Carter, trustee for the sale of the real estate of Wm. M. Pearce, dec'd, presented the first account of his trusteeship; passed.

Margaret J. Bloxsom and Levin J. Bloxsom, adm'rs of John L. Bloxsom, dec'd, presented their first and final account of administration on the estate of the deceased, and distribution of balance of deceased's estate; passed.

Joseph J. Barthel and Daniel J. Zacharias, adm'rs of Joseph Barthel, dec'd, presented an account of sales of the personal estate of the deceased; passed.

New District.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—

As some persons of Caroline county and the American Union appear to be dissatisfied with some of the views and proceedings concerning the proposed new election district, I deem it just to kindly make some further statements and remarks relative thereto.

That the district in question should be divided, no one with unprejudiced feelings and in the least interested disputes.

A petition was forwarded to the Legislature, I understand, by some citizens of the neighborhood of Ridgely, asking that the new district comprise all of the third district west of the Choptank and a part of the second district adjoining the section of the third district above named, and to make Ridgely the voting place, the signers numbering 250 names as stated by the Union. It is alleged that the signers of the petition are residents of the second district and indiscriminately of the third, and I would not doubt that they are of the county at large.

A counter petition of 52 names was also forwarded from Hillsborough, asking a division of the third district, the new district to be only that part of the old one west of the Choptank, and to make Hillsborough the voting place.

The petition was not actively circulated for the reason that its projectors were not aware at the time that a conflicting petition was in existence. The district as is prayed for in the latter petition is, I think, of sufficient magnitude and will contain, I would roughly estimate, 400 or 500 voters. The number is small to what our citizens have been accustomed to, but will insure quiet, good order, fairly conducted elections and uncrowded polls. As time passes the number of voters will increase and all will find the new district plenty large enough. It is true Hillsborough is not a central place east and west for the polls, but where else, considering all advantages and disadvantages, would be more suitable? It would be well to state here for the guidance of those who do not know, that as the district lines now run Ridgely is not in the third district at all, but a mile or two from the line in the second.

Hillsborough would not be any further for parties in the lower part of Tuckahoe Neck than Denton the present voting place, and nearer than Ridgely. Hillsborough could afford better accommodations than any place that could be named within the limits of either petition's lines and bounds; it has six or seven stores, a school with a spacious green, two hotels with liveries, town officers, &c., &c.

Upon hearing that the first mentioned petition was in circulation, a subsequent counter petition was put in operation and presented to the citizens, which was very willlingly signed,—and by no one other than the residents of the third district, west of the Choptank. Some of the signers of the Ridgely petition signed this counter petition, claiming that they had not properly considered the Ridgely petition and the matter before putting their names to it.

This last petition numbered about 110 names of prominent citizens. I think, after considering the indiscriminately signed Ridgely petition, and deduct the names from it that signed the Hillsborough petition and add to the latter, it will be seen, that the Hillsborough petition has the majority and should prevail.

The Union fiercely attacks Mr. Sullivane, senator from Dorchester, for what it styles "uncalled for interference." Mr. Sullivane asked the reference of the bill creating a new election district of Caroline county to the Committee on Elections for further consideration, at the time Mr. Garey reported it favorably. Why did Mr. Sullivane do this? Was it not because he had received letters and petitions from citizens of the county opposing the measures of the bill Mr. Garey was favorable to? Was he, because he was from another county, to ignore them?

Mr. Garey exhibited a spirit of opposition to the wishes of the petitioners of the Hillsborough petition. Could it then be expected that Mr. Garey would anyways urgently or zealously press the petitions which opposed his views? Was it not expedient to pass our county's senator and seek some other to represent us in this matter?

If the Union must cast censure and blame upon any person, why not assail the citizens of his county who urged Mr. Sullivane to "interfere?" and not Mr. Sullivane. Mr. Sullivane well deserves the gratitude and worthiest respect of the people of the third district for interceding so kindly and ardently for their neglected wishes.

OBITUARY.

Death is, at all times, terrible. The idea of decay and dissolution is repugnant to the human mind; and it instinctively shous its contemplation. It is sad to see the summer flowers droop and fade away; and autumn's seared leaf casts a gloom over our hearts, although we know that the warm breath of spring will kiss them all back again, into freshness and beauty. We must all die; the inexorable tyrant will claim his prey; he pauses not for youth or beauty. The prattling babe, alike with the aged pilgrim of three score and ten, is doomed to feel his icy grasp Talent, genius and wealth, are powerless before The Mighty Conqueror: he twines his chilly fingers around the heart strings, and it ceases to beat; at his command each tie is riven and the body crumbles to dust. But amid all this gloomy darkness, the sweet thought that death is only a change of abodes, arises like a shining light, and encircles us with a halo of brightness. The idea that our friends merely change the visible for the invisible form, and still hover about us, is full of consolation. What home has not its fire-side angels?

"There is no flock, howe'r so well 'tis tended,
But one dear lamb is there
There is no house, howe'r so well defended,
But has one vacant chair."

The mother waited with tearful eyes, beside her dying child. Her heart-cords vibrate with anguish as she sees her darling pass away. To have the bud of promise nipped so soon, and all her bright dreams of the future so suddenly banish, stirs her heart's deepest feelings, but when the sweet thought comes that it will be a ministering spirit, cheering and supporting her in sorrows dark hour, then she can smile and say:

"What though in lonely grief I sigh
For friends beloved no longer nigh,
Submissive still would I reply
'Thy Will be Done.'"

The father sees his heart's idol suddenly cut down in the midst of youth and beauty, the torch of hope is ruthlessly extinguished; and his strong heart bows in abject sorrow, till the inner voice whispers;

Renew my will from day to day;
Blend it with thine and take away
All that now makes it hard to say.
"Thy will be done."

In the Whole History of Medicine

No medicine has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, make an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.
