Democratic Conservative Nominee

FOR CONGRESS

HON. DANIEL M. HENRY

of Dorchester County.

Public Meeting.

THE HON. DANIEL M. HENRY, the conservative democratic candidate for Congress, will be in Denton on TUESDAY, 8th DAY OF OCTOBER, next, being the Tuesday in Court week, for the purpose of meeting and addressing his fellow citizens.

The meeting will be addressed by other gentlemen and the political questions of the day fully discussed. All men of all parties cordially invited to attend.

By order of

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

BETHLEHEM FAIR.—This fair, which will take place Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, of next week, is expected to be largely attended. A number of very fast horses are already entered for the races. We learn that Caroline will challenge Talbot for fast trotting. This will be full of interest. Major Stewart, will deliver an address on Thursday, at one o'clock, P. M.

THE "stump-speech" season has again arrived. The word is of western origin. The original rail-splitters among politicians found a large stump on a reservation or by the roadside a capital and economic rostrum for the election orator. Stump-speeches in the infancy of their history were charmingly impromptu, humorous, personal and epigrammatic. But while the phrase lives, the qualities of oratory that it once suggested have decayed.

WE have examined with care the volume just published by John Murphy & Co. 182, Baltimore St., Baltimore, titled "The Testamentary Law, and the Law of inheritance and Apprentices, by Edward Otis Hinkley, Esq. of the Baltimore bar. It is a work which will supply a long felt want in the profession, being a thorough and well digested treatise of the subject. It will not only be acceptable to lawyers, but also Judges of Orphans' Courts who are not always learned in the law, will find it of great use to them.

Slaughter of the Innocents, or why not Levy Money for the Schools?

There are two component elements in man, mind and matter; the intellectual or spiritual and the animal; the corporeal and the incorporeal. "It is the mind that makes the man," not the animal in his nature, neither is it the ducats he may possess. It is the mind that places him next to Deity in all animated matter, and not the material in his composition. Through that invisible something called the mind, we know our relation to God and man, it is that which teaches us "'Tis not all of life to live or all of death to die." The mind or soul of man are but synonymous terms; when we speak of the soul we can only refer to the mind, for all else of man will pass away, to form but another atom in this great mass called the world. I trust the comparison I now make will not seem invidious. Pharaoh (cruel though he was, as we are told in the first chapter of Exodus,) only ordered the destruction of the animal life of the male children of the tribe of Israel born during a certain period of his reign, so that another ruler from that then detested tribe should not supplant him in his exalted position. He had at least a seemingly plausible reason for his cruel decree. But our County Commissioners have gone yet farther. They have not ordered the mental destruction of our children, but they have taken the first step to curtail an inalienable right due them by the laws of humanity, common sense, justice and Jehovah. I charge them with closing the doors of the schools of this county for more than one half the year. I charge them with depriving the children of the poor of one of the greatest boons to man, an education. I charge them with fostering crime in all its forms, by promoting ignorance. I charge them with depraving society and injuring the cause of christianity, and in the name of the Redeemer I charge them with indirectly debasing His sacred cause. And will the Hon. Gentlemen pardon me for asking what reason can they assign for not giving the children of the poor an education? Have they forgotten that the votes of many of the poor parents of this county placed them in the position they now occupy? Have they forgoten that they are the agents of the public and sworn to act for the public good? Does the public good demand that we should have a more ignorant community, by closing our schools? Does the public good demand a reckless outlay of money on an Iron Bridge? Does the public good demand that our county roads be only half worked, so that in two years it will require more than double the money to put them in good condition? Ye gods, is this retrenchment? Is this economy? Bah, "'Tis but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals." Now what do you say to the children of your county? We will compel you in an indirect way to pay for our Bridge; we will rob you of the money that is justly yours, and as quondam guardians, invest it in a bridge that in the dim future some of you may occasionally pass over. If our Commissioners had read much of history they would have long since learned the fate of nations devoid of enlightenment. They would learn that anarchy and ruin follow fast in the footsteps of ignorance, and that nearly all crimes owe their legitimate origin to the same cause. You must first educate a nation before you can christianize or even civilize it. All our commercial, agricultural, scientific and mechanical prosperity depends upon the mental culture of our inhabitants, and that if we as a people were deprived of educational advantages for the space of a few years we will not need Iron Bridges, but will float down the placid bosom of the Choptank in our bark canoes, clad in the rude simplicity of nature, chanting our evening songs to the Monita or the unknown god. The advantages of an education are well known to most of us, and I need not eulogize it. Do these Commissioners know that the greatest and strongest nations on the globe are those where education is the greatest nurtured, and that in many countries a compulsory system of education is maintained. They may not know it, but it is true. For this state of affairs in our county we cannot censure our School Commissioners, they are doubtless doing the best they can with the pittance allowed them. Poor old Caroline, she only had three school terms per year, and now reduced to two, while the adjoining counties have four terms yearly, pay better salaries to their teachers and pay them when their work is done. We have only to keep our Commissioners in office another term, let them build a bridge at Greensborough and another at Hillsborough, then they can sell our school houses for tenements or out houses, we can then bid farewell to all our greatness, and ring down the curtain to close the farce enacted. But why should our schools be closed (the taxpayers are willing to pay for the education of their children;) the answer is this, the bridge cost so much we cannot afford to spend any more money on schools. Gentlemen, pardon me for being inquisitive, and do me the favor to answer a few questions that the taxpayers of this county would like to have answered. Why was not the bid of Senator Garey accepted? Why did you not give the contract to Mr. Bolman, of Baltimore, Md., who agreed to put seventy-two tons of iron in your bridge, at about the same cost, making it more substantial than the present one can ever be, when you are now using only twenty-two tons? Why did you employ foreign labor to erect the bridge? Have we not mechanics here? What sum or sums was or is to be paid for the iron and iron-work? Please divide the sum the county has to pay by the twenty-two tons of iron and tell the tax-payers what this iron costs per ton. What is the amount to be paid this Ohio company for their labor and iron as per contract?

JOHN R. LEE.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Messrs. Editors:—I was greatly interested in the perusal of the letter of your Queen Anne's correspondent. Much of that interest arose from the points made by the writer and their applicability to the Democrats of this county at the present time—an interest enhanced, I am free to confess, by the belief that I recognized in the writer the genial friend who drove the editorial quill a short time since in the sanctum of the JOURNAL, whose beaming face and kindly hand-grip we so rarely encounter in these troublous days.

I feel glad that he has not forgotten us, and trust that his sentiments may awaken the dormant enthusiasm and love for the old cause that has been a fruitful source of our mistortunes, and serve to bring brethren estranged face to face to consider the common danger that threatens the democratic household. And when the peace of that household is threatened and endangered by turmoils and dissentions within its own members the danger effects the whole body politic. For has the history ever written it that prosperity—genuine prosperity, without pretence or sham—prevailed under any other rule than democratic? Those of our enemies who wish to deceive and thus bring themselves into prominence and position may shout themselves hoarse with the cry of "peace and prosperity" but the people, the masses, however far they may be deceived for a season, have always learned that the peace was not peace indeed but only a name, and that the vaunted prosperity that had been sung into their ears was, when divested of its deceitful outer garments, nothing but a sham and a fraud.

So it has ever been, and I have no doubt the organization placarded last fall "People's" will by the time it undergoes the ordeal of a two years' trial before the grand inquest—the taxpayers of the county—get stripped of its borrowed clothes and stand before the people as another sham and another fraud, another attempt of the seekers after the spoils for place and profit.

While this trial is going on it behooves the democratic masses to perform their duty faithfully. It is to a great extent our fault that the enemy overcame us. We grew strong and battled one with another inside the ranks, and lo! while we quarreled the enemy came and overpowered us.

Now let us to duty! Let us all fall into line and rally around the old flag that is trailing because of our want of watchfulness! Let us sink men and arise to the dignity of principles! Fight not for office but for the success of the party that cares for the welfare of the people!

Again. Let us be charitable. Let no words of reproach be uttered. Let it be sounded all along the lines that in "Union there is strength," and may there not be one word uttered that will keep alive the feeling of dissatisfaction that all know has existed for too long a time already, but sinking all former differences may we all so act that we can come together upon the good old-fashioned democratic platform, and present a solid front to the enemy once more.

Sept. 17, 1878. AMICUS.

Hon. Montgomery Blair on the Political Situation.

Hon. Montgomery Blair has addressed a letter to the editor of The Crisis, a greenback organ printed in Philadelphia, in which he indulges in some observations on the political situation. Mr. Blair contends that the present condition of the country is due to the fact "that the government has been perverted from its legitimate object of protecting the people and made the instrument of plundering them," and says the workingmen are clearly right in specifying, as one of the modes, "in which the dominant party has perverted power to their injury, their fostering of the monopolies by which so great a portion of the earnings of labor have been devoured, and especially the national banking system, which is justly obnoxious." Mr. Blair says the most significant result of the workingmen's movement is that "it has brought the democratic organization to its old-time attitude of open and determined antagonism to the money power, which too many of our chiefs have hitherto been in secret alliance," and concludes: "At this moment, therefore, the democratic and workingmen's organizations substantially agree in opposing subsidies of money or land it reducing expenditures; in exposing and detecting fraud, in substituting greenbacks for national bank notes, and generally in relieving labor from taxation. The democratic organization does not accept some other ideas of the nationals, but its thorough acceptance of the anti-monopoly creed places it entire accord with the nationals in opposing the money power which now holds the government, to which all the sufferings of the workingmen are confessedly due, during whose continuance in power no prosperity whatever can be expected, and whose overthrow is therefore a necessity first alike to democrats and nationals."

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood and Gives Strength.

DU QUOIN, ILL., Jan. 21, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—Your "Vegetine" has been doing wonders for me. Have been having the Chills and Fever, contracted in the swamps of the South, nothing giving me relief until I began the use of your Vegetine, it giving me immediate relief, toning up my system, purifying my blood, giving strength; whereas all other medicines weakened me, and filled my system with poison; and I am satisfied that if families that live in the ague districts of the South and West would take Vegetine two or three times a week, they would not be troubled with the "Chills" or the malignant Fevers that prevail at certain times of the year, save doctors' bills, and live to a good old age. Respectfully yours,

J. E. MITCHELL, Agent Henderson's Looms, St. Louis, Mo.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases restoring the patient to perfect health, after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

VEGETINE

Has Entirely Cured Me of Vertigo.

CAIRO, ILL., Jan. 23, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—I have used several bottles of "VEGETINE"; it has entirely cured me of Vertigo. I have also used it for Kidney Complaint, It is the best medicine for kidney complaint. I would recommend it as a good blood purifier.

PAIN AND DISEASE. Can we expect to enjoy good health when bad or currupt humors circulate with the blood, causing pain and disease; and the humors, being deposited through the entire body, produce pimples, eruptions, ulcers, indigestion, costiveness, he daches, neuralgia, rheumatism, and numerous other complaints? Remove the cause by taking VEGETINE, the most reliable medicine for cleansing and purifying the blood.

VEGETINE

I Believe it to be a Good Medicine.

XENIA, O., March 1, 1877.

MR. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—I wish to inform you what your Vegetine has done for me. I have been afflicted with Neuralgia, and after using three bottles of the Vegetine was entirely relieved. I also found my general health much improved. I believe it to be a good medicine. Yours truly,

FRED HARVERSTICK.

VEGETINE thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.
