—The dead body of a white child was found in a valise in Mitchell Maxwell's garden at Easton several days ago. Justice Robinson's jury found a verdict of death from unknown causes.

—We feel greatly encouraged with the material increase of our subscription list during the past two weeks. Nearly fifty substantial names have been added in that time without any effort on our part.

—While Frank Thomas and the rest of the Royal Oak, Talbot county, congregation were down on their knees waiting for the parson to get through a long prayer last Sunday night, Charles Myres stabbed Thomas in the head with his pocket-kinfe.

TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.—THE JOURNAL'S subscription will be continued at ONE DOLLAR per year; and we wil furnish with it, at club rates, any one of the leading newspapers or magazines in the country. Those desiring that valuable agricultural monthly, the American Farmer, can obtain it together with the JOURNAL, for $1.85.

STILL PROSPERING.—Our friends will do well while attending Court to call in and examine the heavy stock and fine assortment of Buffalo robes, Scotch robes, Lap and Horse blankets at Shannahan & Wrightson's. Judging from the quantity they are selling; they must be giving bargains. It is a pleasure for them to show goods whether you buy or not.

ADVERTISE.—The following lines should be read by all business men:

"My trade is dull!" the merchant cries--
'Tis true, no doubt, but advertise!
Those who'd succeed should not despise
To fight hard times and advertise!
If you have notions, goods, supplies
Of all kinds, why advertise!
The man who constantly decries
Is the man who will not advertise;
Aut those who live by enterprise
Are those who freely advertise.
The men, indeed, deserve to rise
Who push their trade and advertise.
But who laments when that one dies
Who wouldn't push or advertise?
Seize time, O merchant, as it flies—
Build up your business—advertise!
Whatever mortal sells or buys
It sure is meet to advertise.
It matters not what kind or size—
The "ad is read—so advertise.
It may be truth, it may be lies—
It matters not, but advertise!

BUSINESS FOR LADIES.—OUR attention has been called to a new article for the use of ladies, the invention of which has conferred an everlasting blessing upon every lady. We refer to the Queen City skirt suspenders for supporting ladies' skirts, the most desirable and beneficial article ever invented for the relief of women, many of whom have suffered years of miserable health caused solely by carrying the weight of a number of heavy skirts, completely dragging them down. Something to support ladies' clothing is absolutely necessary. These suspenders are recommended by our leading physicians to all ladies and young girls. Every lady should have them. They are sold only through lady agents. A splendid opportunity is offered to come reliable lady canvasser of this county to secure the agency of a pleasant and profitable business. For terms and territory write at once to the Queen City Suspended Company, 278 Clark Street, Cincinnoti, O.

EASTON, NOV. 21, 1878.

Bunting has for several days been flying over the new brick buildings under roof, in place of those destroyed by the late fire. Two large wooden buildings are under roof.

Court week has filled up the town considerably, and the increase of strangers is quite perceptible. C. W. Bennett is active in his preparations for the "Go West young man." He takes several quite young.

Young gentlemen, while hunting on advertised lands, should be careful how they talk about the owner. He sometimes appears rather suddenly, and then comes the fine.

It seems that the jury of inquest in the case of the child did not get very near the bottom facts, but taking all things into consideration, perhaps did as well.

A splurge was made on Tuesday with a fire engine, which must have originated in the brain of some verdant or that he or they took the whole town of Easton for consummate fools, as they must have dug very close to the ark to have resurrected such an old antediluvian mud trap. Hardy Councell takes palm for the for the neatest colored house in Easton.

The richest insurance company in the world is represented by D. C. Avery, who starts out with a good show of business. In local-option Easton, where does all the tangle-foot come from? Echo answers.

It will take some trouble and care to give the new occupants of the new buildings on burnt district the full ben- of their improvements.

For The Journal.

Mr. Editor:—"The poor ye have always with you, and when you will you may do them good."

"So you have come, have you," said poor idiotic Martha, as my friend and I prepared to alight at the gate of the Alms house.

Poor girl, idiot as she no doubt is, her face was the most radiant of any we saw. She and silly Charlie occupy the loft together, he and a litte bundle of old gray rags, she something resembling a bed. Iron bedsteads have lately been subsituted for the old wooden ones of a century ago, we should judge, because we have been told the inmates of the latter were too numerous. But with an eye to strict economy the old steads are stocked around the loft, and the bugs are no doubt are as willing as the paupers to change lodging places.

A miserable filthy looking individual stood before the old fashioned fire place where we were told the food was prepared for the inmates. No table, no chairs, no cooking utensils were visible except three large tripods sitting huddled together in one conner. Every thing bespoke poverty and dirt, except the overseer's house and the room the trustees meet in to enjoy their good dinners once a month at the expense of the county

I told the house-keeper our business and we went through the Institution, distributing some trifling gifts to the inmates, and receivin their benedictions in return, and feeling heart sick that such misery should exist among a people whose profession of Godliness is as loud as ours. R. M. TYLOR.

HOLLOW GROVE, QUEEN ANNE'S CO. Nov. 18th, 1878.

DEAR JOURNAL:—I write you a line in the stillness of night; when the busy cares of the day are all laid aside, and aught is heard, but the busy ticking clock that admonishes me it is high time, I too was still and sleeping. But I hastily snatch a moment to congratulate you, upon your new dress and appearance. This is as it should be. You have many friends; true and good, that rejoice in your prosperity; who would grieve for you in adversity. You represent and have for many long years the feelings, opinions, joys and sorrows of a county people, that are mostly moral, honest, true and good. I mean that if you are governed by wisdom, truth and justice, and continue to battle for the people and their rights under the law, and against oppression in all its forms, you will never die, so long as liberty lives; and you will have yet to change your new dress for yet a larger one. In perusing your columns, we see much that pleases, but sometimes you brings sad intelligence. Accident and death, as related by you, picture to our mind the sad and sorrowing hearts of once familiar friends, and then we, too, feel for those that are so sorely afflicted and hope they may be strong to bear the heavy burden upon them. I have often wondered if persons will know each other in Heaven; those that are fortunate enough to get there. I have an idea they will, for it is hardly reasonable to suppose we should know less there than here. If that is so, there will be pleasant re-unions, not only between parents and children, but friends, too, who by the ever changing scenes of life are separated here. This is wrong in me; I have no right to write of such things; they belong to other and better hands.

Dear JOURNAL, stand, stand for the truth, for the right, and stand firmly, and may Heaven's choicest blessings rest upon you, is the sincere wish of one who is under lasting obligations to you and is sincerely your friend. X.

KIND WORDS.

The following are a few of the many kind words said of us by our exchanges:

The Denton Journal has been enlarged and improved and appeared on Saturday last, under the sole management of George T. Melvin, Esq. The Journal is a good local paper and thoroughly democratic. Its prosperity is doubtless on the increase.—Westminster Advocate.

The DENTON Journal comes to us this week in an enlarged form and otherwise greatly improved. Mr. Steele retires from its management, and Geo. T. Melvin, Esq., assumes the sole proprietorship. We have very little acquaintance with Mr. M. as a lawyer, but know him to possess ability as an editor, and understands how to get up a good paper. We wish him renewed prosperity.—Kent News.

THE Denton Journal comes out in better style than before. Geo. T. Melvin, Esq., has bought out the interest of his partner Mr. Steele. We wish Mr. M. great success.—Dover Delawarean.

The Denton Journal comes to us this week with a handsome new head, enlarged and typographically and otherwise, greatly improved. Its advertising columns indicate a prosperous financial condition.—Federalsburg Courier.

Geo. T. Melvin, Esq., has purchased Mr. Z. P. Steele's interest in the Denton Journal, and will hereafter be its sole proprietor and editor. Mr. Melvin, has purchased new press and new type, and enlarged and improved the paper. Good for Melvin—may he live long and prosper.—Easton Ledger.

The Denton Journal, one of our most readable exchanges, has been enlarged, and we hope the enterprising proprietor will meet with abundant success.—Crisfield Leader.

Our Republican friend of the Cambridge Era says:—The Denton Journal under its new management, made its appearance Saturday last greatly enlarged and improved. It now ranks in size, as it always has in merit, as one of the first of Peninsula journals. Financially, it has our best wishes; but politically—well, mum's the word.

Mr. Z. P. Steele, one of the proprietors of the Denton Journal, has disposed of his interest to his former partner and associate, Mr. Geo. T. Melvin, and retired from professional life. Mr. Melvin will hereafter have entire control of the Journal, which is one of the most acceptable of our Maryland exchanges,—Balto. Evening Bulletin.

Geo. T. Melvin, Esq., has bought Mr. Steele interest in the Denton Journal, and the paper, enlarged improved will hereafter be edited and published by Mr. Melvin. We wish him success.—Easton Star

ENLARGED.—The Denton Journal, now under the control of Geo. T. Melvin, Esq., came to us last week enlarged to an eight-column paper. The Journal is a good paper, ably handled and neatly printed. We extend it our congratulations and wish it abundant prosperity.—Centreville Observer.

THE DENTON JOURNAL came to us last week very much enlarged in size and greatly improved in appearance. It has now eight columns on each page. Its editor is a good Journalist, publishes a newsy attractive sheet, and will no doubt, be amply repaid for his outlay in purchasing a power-press Nothing is more necessary, in order to make a newspaper "go," than to put money in it;" and this Bro. Melvin has acted wisely in doing.—Chestertown Transcript.

Progress,
RIDGELY, Nov. 20, 1878.

To Editor of the Journal:—

We were very much pleased on the arrival of the train the other day to see a freight car loaded with heavy machinery. On examination it proved to be a thirty-horse-power steam engine, of the horizontal stationary class, generally used for heavy work, together with a fifty-horse-power double-deck steam boiler, with all the appurtenances thereto, sufficient to make one of the most complete saw-mill motors in the State.

We discovered the proprietorship of the above by seeing Mr. J. L. Patterson, Jr., in his usual energetic way, there with a team, and commenced hauling the machinery away as soon as the car was put upon the side track.

We understand he is going to put the saw-mill in operation on one corner of his farm, on the Denton and Greensborough road; get it in running order in the shortest possible time. And taking his general energy as an example we predict a successful business. OBSERVER.

HILLSBOROUGH, Md., Nov. 2d, 1878.

MY DEAR JOURNAL:—

It is with much pleasure that I again attempt to pen another brief letter from our quiet and peaceful town.

Hillsborough's people, generally, are politically, so much of the one mind, and on the same side of the JOURNAL, they conceive themselves entitled to some notice in the JOURNAL--their paper.

Before proceeding further, let me say, please accept my best wishes for a successful future for the JOURNAL with its recent change, feeling that you will do all that devolves upon you to make it as good or better than it ever has been. I predict such for it—and await the result.

Local news from here necessarily brief this week.

The town was entertained Monday and Tuesday evenings by Prof. Zera with his different performances and feats. The house was crowded both evenings, and he kept his audience in convulsions of laughter nearly all the while.

The U. S. canal surveying corps has been stopping in town for several days. The line run crossed the Tuckahoe, a mile or two below Hillsborough and it is said it run through a gentleman's fodder stack on one side or the other of the Creek, and he commenced moving his stack to make room for digging.

The Green Mount Cemetary is now enclosed and announced ready for interments. It has a neat paling fence in front. A good substantial iron gate has been ordered for the entrance.

What should be done with our old school building is a question with some of our interested and thoughtful citizens. It is claimed by some that it is an old State building near a century old and should remain as a relic of the past. Others think it is unsightly and obstructs the view and mars the appearance of the modern frame building not yet completed.

Those in favor of its remaining maintain that it can, without any considerable expense to the citizens, be fitted up—both rooms into one, and make a very good hall for the town, a want felt and needed her.

Whishing that I may be able to give you a more interesting communication in the future, I am, kindly and truly Yours. 1878.

MARRIED.

BLADES—JEWELL.—In Harrington, on the 6th inst., by the Rev. A. W. Milby, Mr. James W. Blades, of Kent county, Del., to Miss Sallie F. Jewell, of Tuckahoe Neck in this county.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by Physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them, and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are specially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild, but effectual, cathartic is required.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

BALTIMORE, March 19th 1878.

J. J. TURNER,
J. Q. A. HOLLOWAY.

The undersigned, engaged since 1858, in the manufacture of FERTILIZERS, as a member of the firm of J. J. & F. Turner, by whom the formulas and processes of manufacture of
