MR. GEO. J. MEEKINS announces himself a candidate for Comptroller.

MAJOR HARRY GILMOR, of Confederate cavalry fame, now lies dangerously ill at his home in Baltimore county. His malady is necrosis in the face.

BY the action of the Delaware Legislature in electing to the U. S. Senate for a third time the Hon. Eli Saulsbury, the Diamond State continues a representation in the Senate of statesmanship far ahead of most commonwealths. Bayard and Saulsbury have become to be synonymous with ability, honesty and faithful performance of duty.

FEW recommendations have been more promptly acted on than that of the Postmaster General asking that letter postage be reduced from three cents to two. The House incorporated the proposition as a rider upon the Post Office appropriation bill, and the Senate committee has indorsed it by inserting the provision that it shall take effect at the opening of the next fiscal year, July 1.

WHERE THE GOVERNORSHIP LIES. George H. Williams of Baltimore county; Charles B. Roberts of Carroll; Henry W. Archer of Harford; William McKenney of Queen Anne; Lemuel Showell of Worcester; Robert Ford of St. Mary's; William T. Hamilton; Ferdinand C. Latrobe and Robert M. McLane of Baltimore city, are all spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor at the next State convention.

WE cut the following from one of our exchanges, and trust our citizens will keep the views contained therein constantly in mind. If they do, Denton will be a more prosperous town than it now is:

"The way to make a town is to help as much as possible every industry in your midst. Judiciously aid every enterprise that promises to add strength and character to the place. If your neighbor builds a house help him to pay for it. If you are a property holder every new house strengthens you, and it is but right to reciprocate. Don't hide a dollar with a penny. Look ahead. Consider what is best for you in the long run. Don't be so jealous. If you can draw advantages from an enterprise favored by an enemy, support it if it does enrich him. By all means support your local paper, do unto the publisher as you would have others do unto you—trade with you. Should a man start up a legitimate business in an obscure part of town, whether or no a friend, or even an acquantance, say a good word for him wherever occasion presents itself, it will cost you nothing, and may do him incalculable good—always remembering that 'bread cast upon the waters will return after many days.'"

DR. SAMUEL A. MUDD, who served a term at the Dry Tortugas for harboring and assisting John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, to escape, died on Wednesday last at his residence, near Byrantown, Charles county, Md. Dr. Mudd came of an old Maryland family of prominence and influence in Southern Maryland. After the assassination Booth and Harold rode to his home and he dressed Booth's injuries. He found that Booth's right leg was fractured, the bone being broken clear through just above the ankle. The leg was much swollen, and Dr. Mudd insisted on Booth remaining at his house all day and into the next night. He gave him the necessary surgical attention, but the pursuit of them being fierce at midnight Booth was guided from the house to the Potomac, when he rowed over to the place where he met his death and where Harold was captured. Dr. Mudd was at once arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced by the Court to be confined for life at hard labor, and President Johnson ordered him and others to be sent to the Albany Penitentiary. He was subsequently sent to the Dry Tortugas, where, during a yellow fever epidemic, he rendered such valuable services that after a few years' confinement he was pardoned by President Johnson. About a year or two ago he brought a claim for those services before Congress, but it was not allowed.

Ten Cents Ahead.

The Secretary of the Interior asks Congress to appropriate $100,000 "to complete the Tenth Census." Congress has been voting money for that purpose ever since 1879, and yet the Tenth census is not complete. Nobody knows when it will be complete. Nobody knows how many dollars will be required to complete it. Nobody knows what it will be when finished. All that is known with certainty concerning this wonderful work is that it has already cost $5,503,524.61, or about $2,500,000 more than the limit fixed by the original act of March 3, 1879.

In other words, it has cost to count the people of the United States more than every man, woman and child of them fifty millions.

The cause of this outrageous extravagance is the departure from the constitutional objects of the census. The purpose of an enumeration every tenth year is to afford a basis for apportionment of Representatives and taxes. That is all. The fancy features of the census have been tacked on at the instance of theorists with theories to bolster and statisticians hungry for more figures.

The expenditure for each succeeding census will grow larger, and the scope of the undertaking more preposterously ambitious, until public opinion forces back the work within its proper limits. Like the appropriation for rivers and harbors, the census appriation will always be made as large as the people will stand. Just as there can be plausible argument for the improvement of every Mississiwggin Creek in the United States at the national expense, so can a reason be found for every new table, diagram, or map which the ingenuity of the Census Bureau devises.

All statistics are interesting. All statistics are valuable. It would be interesting to know how many plateful's of soup are eaten annually in the Mississippi Valley. It would add to the sum of human knowledge if the census should show how many hairs there are on the heads of the Free Will Baptists of the United States.—N. Y. Sun.

Agitating the Governorship.

A CORRESPONDENT WHO WANTS NO "FEUDAL BARON" OR "BLAND REGULAR," BUT HOLDS TO GOVERNOR HAMILTON—A PLEA FOR M'KENNEY.

To the Editor of THE JOURNAL:

I find that brother Colton's chickens have begun to cackle over the Governorship throughout the State, and like Mother Carey's chickens, it means mischief. When Messrs. Colton, Gorman, Whyte and Company begin to touch the wires the whole State is in commotion. Are the Camerons and the Conklings never to learn any thing? or will it take a tidal wave like that which swept New York last autumn to instruct our Maryland Bosses that the day of their destiny is over?

Governor Hamilton is to be the next Governor of Maryland; the fates have so determined—the horoscope of political wisdom, sagacity and honor foretells it. What is the use of nominating the Feudal Baron of Queen Anne, or that mild and bland, never sulking Regularfrom Carroll, when be it known that the power behind the throne for this once "is greater than the throne itself."

In an age of progress and individual advancement the people mean to illustrate that, however politicians may plot and nominate, the people can do the voting and rule. What is it that the Democracy of Maryland want; success and honest government, or success with subserviency and spoils? Governor Hamilton cannot be bought, bribed nor bullied; he belongs to no one; he is honest, fearless, patriotic, and an old time Democrat. He is ever awake to the honor of his State, the good of the people, and the perpetuity of free institutions. The escutcheon of Maryland during his administration is untarnished by a single official act of the Executive. He has given to the people of Maryland one act alone that entitles him to the prestige, power and affection of her people beyond competition. Without regard to the effect, whether it made Maryland a Democratic or a Republican State, he swore by the memory of the Fathers of the great republic that Maryland should have a free ballot, and he kept his oath. And Maryland is still in Democratic line.

The people—let Mother Carey's chickens take notice—mean to elect Governor Hamilton his own successor. Who can beat him? Who that love good government, no matter who may be at the head of it, dislike him? Who that love the honor and faith of the State have one word to say against him?

With Governor Hamilton as the candidate of the Democratic party, Maryland is safe for the nation in '84; without him we are at sea. The people of Maryland who are not so dull to their own interest and the interest of good government as the politicians suppose are waiting, patiently waiting to cancel ligation they owe to William T. Hamilton, for the manly and patriotic fight he has waged for them in the interest of a free ballot box.

REFLEX.

MCKENNEY FOR GOVERNOR.

To the Editor of the JOURNAL.

The hurly-burly of the judicial and congressional contest is over, and you are in a condition to look forward to the future of the Democratic party in this State with a calm and dispassionate appreciation of the situation. In less than a twelve-month you will be called upon to enter into another political contest of more importance than the one which has just closed. In 1883 a Governor is to be chosen and a Legislature on which will devolve the choice of a United States Senator, and an Attorney-General and a Comptroller of the Treasury are to be elected, besides county officers. With a good ticket and with union and harmony in our ranks, Maryland is democratic by a majority ranging from ten to twenty thousand, but if we should make a mistake in nominating a candidate for Governor, and fail to support our nominee with strong tickets in all parts of the State we might encounter partial or total defeat. It is seen at a glace then how important it is to the democratic party to make a judicious selection of a proper candidate for the executive office and to support that candidate in all the counties and in the city of Baltimore by the strongest and most popular tickets which can be brought into the field. On these points there can be no difference of opinion amongst us.

This brings us to the consideration of the question: "Who would make us a candidate that would enthuse and unite the party, rallying it as one man, and leading to sure and certain victory?" A number of gentlemen have been named in this connection, and after a survey of the whole field, duly weighing and considering the chances and qualifications of all of them it seems that no one posesses, in a more eminent degree, the necessary requirements of such a position than William McKenney, of Queen Anne county. Mr. McKenney is the son of the late Col. John McKenney, well-known on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. He is about 52 years age, a man of fine physique and commanding presence, in good health, full of life, activity and energy, and of very popular manners. He is a man of liberal education and keeps up well with the current political history of the country and of parties. He is a man of great personal magnetism, superior judgment and common sense, prudent and practical and of thorough business qualifications. He has been a successful merchant, a successful farmer and a successful bank manager, and in fact has proven successful in almost every business undertaking he has embarked in. He is now President of the Centreville National Bank, which he was mainly instrumental in establishing. He is a good financier and keeps pretty thoroughly posted to the condition of the money and trade markets of the country. He possesses great independence of character, is self reliant, a sound democrat, and not indentified with faction. In religion he is a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, having long occupied the position vestryman of St. Paul Parish in his county, Queen Anne; not exclusive or bigoted, however, but liberal and charitable in his religious sentiments and feelings, and with many relations, and family connections, and warm personal friends in the four old leading religious denominations of Maryland. He is a man whom the whole democracy of the state could cheerfully support, and about whom the business and agricultural community could rally with enthusiasm.

But it is as the farmer's candidate that he is especially commended to public consideration. Mr. McKenney is a large land proprietor and one of the most successful farmers in the State. His average wheat crop is reported at between thirty and forty thousand bushels per annum. The legal profession has furnished much the larger part of governors and for that reason it would seem a proper thing to do now to make a selection from among our intelligent agriculturists. The farming community, I am sure, would hail his nomination with an enthusiasm that would bear him triumphant into the gubernatorial chair. Many yet remember with pleasure the popular and successful administration of Governor Willian Grayson, the farmer of Queen Anne. Let our next Governor be a farmer of Queen Anne also. To the whole party of the State, of whatsoever callING or profession, the name of William McKenney is most heartily and earnestly commended as the next democratic candidate for governor.

The Independent.

THE INDEPENDENT needs only to be better known to add to its already large list of friends. It has been published for thirty-five years and has acquired a world-wide reputation as the best religious and literary newspaper.

THE INDEPENDENT is not denominational. Its creed and field are broader than any sect. As a Christian journal, its aim is to strengthen and extend Evangelical religion and to defend it against the attacks of Materialism, Atheism, and unbelief. It is free to approve or criticise in any of the denominations when it believes is designed to advance or hinder the progress of the Gospel of Christ.

In civil and political affairs THE INDEPENDENT will contend for sound ideas and principles. It fought against slavery and the iniquitous system of the Slave Oligarchy. It is now fighting against Mormonism. It believes in the reform of the civil service and tariff, in the purification of politics and in cheaper postage, and will maintain those principles which the highest ethics and best intelligence requires.

THE INDEPENDENT is designed to suit all tastes and wants. We provide weekly stories by the best magazine writers, poems by the leading poets of America and England (we first published in America Tennyson's last poem), and for others, who look especially for instruction, whether in religious, literary, educational, philosophical, or Scientific articles, we furnish what no other periodical does or can. We pay large prices to obtain the most eminent writers. Besides the editorials, there are twenty-two distinct departments, edited by twenty-two specialists, which include Biblical Research, Sanitary, Legal, Fine Arts, Music, Science, Pebbles, Personalities, Ministerial Register, Hymn Notes, School and College Literature, Religious Intelligence, Missions, Sunday Schools, News of the Week, Finance, Commerce, Insurance, Stories, Puzzles, Selections, and Agriculture. 32 Pages in all.

We will report in full Rev. Joseph Cook's celebrated Boston Monday lectures, which will begin in January. Mr. Cook has just returned from a two years' trip round the world, and his lectures this winter will attract greater attention than ever.

PATENTS

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT?

Send a rough sketch or (if you can) a model of your invention to GEORGE E. LEMON, Washington, D. C., and a Preliminary Examination will be made of all United States patents of the same class of inventions and you will be advised whether or not a patent can be obtained.

FOR THIS PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION NO CHARGE IS MADE.

What will a Patent Cost?

If you are advised that your invention is patentable, send $20 to pay Government application fee of $15, and $5 for the drawings required by the Government. This is payable when application is made, and is all of the expense unless a patent is allowed. When allowed, the attorney's fee ($25) and the final Government fee ($30) is payable. Thus you know beforehand, for nothing, whether you are going to get a patent or not, and no attorney's fee is charged unless you do get a Patent. An attorney whose fee depends on his success in obtaining a Patent will not advise you that your invention is patentable, unless it really is patentable, so far as his best judgment can aid in determining the question; hence, you can rely on the advise given after a preliminary examination is had. Design Patents and the Registration of Labels, Trade Marks and Reissues secured. Caveats prepared and filed. Applications in revivor of Rejected, Abandoned, or Forfeited Cases made. Very often valuable inventions are saved in these classes of cases. If you have undertaken to secure your own patent and failed, a skillful handling of the case may lead to success. Send me a written request addressed to the Commissioner of Patents that he recognize GEORGE E. LEMON, of Washington, D. C., as your attorney in the case, giving the title of the invention and about the date of filing your application. An examination and report will cost you nothing. Searches made for title to inventions, in fact any information relating to Patents promptly furnished. Copies of Patents mailed at the regular Government rates, (25c. each.) Remember this office has been in successful operation since 1865, and you therefore reap the benefits of experience, besides reference can be given to actual clients in almost every county in the U. S. Pamphlet relating to Patents free upon request.
