Whereas. I. Lyde Griffith, of Montgomery County, did on the first day of June Eighteen hundred thirty-six, make the instrument (to which this my codicil is attached) as my last will and Testament, — circumstances induce me to make some alterations, for which purpose I now make my codicil as — follows:

The land devised to my son Henry, is only to him and his heirs. I give it to him his heirs and assigns forever —

Also since making my will I have ascertained that there is valuable croome on my property, a quarry of which is now working. I now will and bequeath all the croome on my estate to be the equal property and the profits arising from the use of it to be devided amongst all my children and their — heirs, except my daughter Rachel, the share that would come to her. I give in trust to my son Lyde, for the use of his sister Rachel, under the same instructions as the other trusts to him.

In my will I gave my son Charles two hundred acres of land. I now give him fifty more out of the land willed to my son Walter. There is also — property which formerly belonged to Amelia Warfield, lying in Anne Arundel County, near the savage factory, which has been omitted in my will, amounting to about 182½ acres, which I hereby direct and authorize my Executor to sell, and convey by a good title as I could myself, and to divide the money Equally amongst all my children except my daughter Rachel, the share she would have is to be kept in trust by Lyde as the other trusts for the use — Any one of my children not standing to this arrangement shall forfeit an equal value out of the — other bequests to them.

As witness my hand and seal this 8th. of Dec. 1838.

Lyde Griffith. (Seal.)

Signed, sealed and declared as my codicil, being — fully satisf with the other parts of my will, in presence of us.

Lyd Dorsey
Henry L. Moore.

Montgomery County, to wit: On the 2d day of July 1839, came Lloyd Dorsey and Henry L. Moore two of the subscribing witnesses to the codicil of the last will and Testament of Lyde Griffith, late of said County deceased, and made oath on the Holy Evangely of Almighty God, that they did see the testator therein named sign and seal this Codicil, and that they heard him publish pronounce and declare the same to be a codicil to his last Will and Testament: that at the time of his so doing he was to the best of their apprehension of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding, and that they subscribed their names to this Codicil as witnesses in the presence and at the request of the Testator, and in the presence of each other, also in the presence
