Encourage Capital.

When strangers come among us with a view to an establishment of themselves and families, let us extend them a warm welcome and hearty greeting. A few words of courtesy and friendly encouragement will cost us nothing, and policy and kindliness would suggest such a reception.

We little realize what an influence each individual might exert for the good of his country and future generations by such a course of action, and sympathetic encouragement and counsel often effect more in settling one's views and resolves than natural local advantages, for the character and disposition of a people are striking points of interest with a stranger, and their influence is universally felt and acknowledged.

Let those who understand the advantages of investment and profit freely give their experience; and our old settlers should show the benefits of present industries unknown to themselves in the hard, struggling years of the past, when the fertility of our soil was comparatively unknown and untested.

It would be well for our people to evince a cordiality and interest in the views and aims of these new-comers, and a hearty co-operation of their suggestions to improve their finances, and at the same time secure a home where education is appreciated, and social interests respected as a great desideratum of domestic contentment and happiness.

Connected as we are by mutual bonds of commerce and other business relations, in the nature of civilization it is impossible to be socially or politically indifferent to the influx of immigration, unless it should operate to the detriment of our present landholders and merchants by an increase of lawful competition.

Would it be possible for real wealth to exist without competition? Our citizens may hold in their possession thousands of acres of unsalable land, and might live and die forever poor, did not the active elements of competition prove the great auxiliaries of their future wealth.

It is not the mere deed to large, untitled landed property, that fills the purses of the owners, but it is the active agent who comes with his thousands to invest in land, and this law of demand and increase, that gives to men and countries their real substantial wealth.—Baltimorean.

Samson's Legs and Locks.

When Delilah clipped off Samson's locks that mighty athlete at once became "as other men." If it could be proved that the possession of luxuriant hair enable men to tear open lion's jaws, Hiscox & Co. would be driven wild in the effort to supply enough of PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM to meet the demand. As it is the Balsam prevents your hair from falling out, and restores the original color if faded or gray. Besides it is a great addition to the toilet table simply as a dressing.

Wholesale Slaughter.

Let the good news be carried to every gunner in the county that Shannahan & Wrightson have now the largest stock of imported breech and muzzle loading guns. Largest assortment of pistols, breech loading implements, gunners outfits, shells, powder shot, etc., ever received in Easton, and have made a wholesale slaughter on prices. Now is the time to get a bargain. Call at once.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS AND ALL WHO ARE INTERESTED IN ROADS. We would call your attention to the

MENDENHALL PATENT ROAD MACHINE

And the many advantages we claim for it over all others: 1. It is a two-horse machine and the only one. 2. It will move as much dirt with two horses as any other machine can with four or six and with less labor for the horses. 3. We claim a more durable machine, as we have a direct draft and use elastic cushions to relieve the jar or strain on machine and horses. 4. We claim it will do its work without sliding sideways, for the reason that the wheels are not lifted off ground as others are. 5. We claim that our machine will pay for itself in three days' work and the roads will be in better condition than it is possible to have them by the old way, 6. We claim that we can turn our machine in a 11-feet road thereby losing no time in finding a convenient place to turn.
