POLITICAL NOTICE.

ENOCH GEORGE,
OSCAR CLARK, Chairman.
Secretary.

AN EXCELLENT TICKET.

The delegates to the county convention, after having had ample time for consideration of the various good names spoken of in connection with the public offices to be filled, reassembled last Tuesday and nominated the excellent ticket given at the head of this column. The selections made are first-rate, at once guaranteeing a very strong popular support, extending far beyond party lines. The offices have indeed, in this instance, sought the men, each candidate possessing peculiar fitness for the place for which he has been chosen. This the public will be quick to see and approve, and the good effect will, we believe, be noticeable early in the campaign, and will continue to be more and more manifest. There is inspiration and strength for the candidates and the party in the knowledge of such general commendation from the people, and the outcome cannot long be in doubt. The same advantage availed of by the State Democracy, already assuring the return of Maryland to the Democratic column, namely, an exceptionally strong ticket, is now possessed by our Caroline Democracy, and with good work throughout the campaign we may expect to win a victory here as surely as that which awaits the party of the State.

In addition to the recognized qualifications of the various candidates for the positions for which they have been nominated, and their personal popularity, they stand upon a platform that appeals with great force to the tax-burdened voters of the county, irrespective of party, who have seen the tax rate grow burdensome for the sole purpose, it would seem, of allowing the ultra partisan member of the board to ride his particular hobby. They will also remember, no doubt, the promises of reform and retrenchment in public expenses with which the Republican candidate for county commissioner sought the franchises of the voters. The time has come when they can judge what those promises were worth. They find them utterly disregarded and unfulfilled. They will see more and more clearly, as the bills of particulars unfold to them the inner workings of this private-purpose court, the folly of putting themselves in position to reap another harvest from ill-spent money.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Al. Gault, the Baltimore detective, who was sent to London, by the United States government, to bring back Mrs. Perot, is home again. He gave an interesting interview to a Sun reporter. He said: "One of the London papers referred to me as 'the Yankee detective,' and said I had the typical shrewdness. Some of the men used to comment on my small size, as most of the members of the force are big men over there, but I told them that size did not always count. The Marshall Price case, of Caroline county, was referred to in one of the newspapers as the greatest piece of work ever done, in which the criminal was made to detect his own crime and find the implements for the detective."

The Republican State Convention in Baltimore on Wednesday last nominated Lloyd Lowndes for Governor; Phillips Lee Goldsborough for Comptroller, and John V. L. Findlay for Attorney-General. The slate had been made a long time, and all newspaper readers knew in advance what the convention would do. The platform touches on national issues and declares for the gold standard and a high protective tariff; endorses the President's Philippine war, and highly lauds Governor Lowndes' administration of State affairs.

The Alabama is the fastest battleship in our navy. She can make 17 knots an hour in a rough sea.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

CALVIN SATTERFIELD.

Calvin Satterfield, a nominee for the legislature, is one of the most accomplished young Democrats of the county. He is thirty-eight years old, and all his interests are identified with his native county of Caroline, where he has spent nearly all his life. He was educated at the Greensboro Academy and the University of Virginia. He graduated from the law department of that popular institution and then continued his studies with Hon. John P. Poe. In 1887 he was appointed postoffice inspector and held that important post until September, 1888. He was also in the newspaper business in the South for about two years. Since 1895 he has resided in Greensboro and has been engaged in the mercantile business and farming matters, and is now in the canning industry, in which many people are given employment. In 1886 Mr. Satterfield was married to Miss Susan P. Walker, daughter of General R. Lindsay Walker, of Richmond, Va., and has several interesting children. He is a communicant of Holy Trinity Church, and is active and earnest in church work. Mr. Satterfield is a man of very pleasant address, a good speaker and ready in debate, and may be fully relied upon to faithfully and intelligently represent the people of his home county at the State capital.

JAMES FRANK LEDNUM.

James Frank Lednum, a nominee for the House of Delegates, was born in Denton, Md., and is thirty-four years of age. He was educated in the public schools of Caroline county and at the age of fifteen years entered the store of his uncle, the late William T. Hignutt, of Bethlehem, Md., as a clerk. His uncle died in 1885 and Mr. Lednum became the sole proprietor of the Bethlehem business, which he successfully conducted until 1890, when he removed to Preston and engaged in his present mercantile business. In addition to his large mercantile interests, he is a director in the Peoples National Bank, of Denton, and secretary of the Preston Canning Co. Mr. Lednum is a successful business man, a good citizen, and will make Caroline county an excellent representative in the General Assembly. He has held the office of postmaster, both at Bethlehem and Preston, and was at one time collector of taxes for the Fourth election district. He never held any other public office and this is the first time he was ever nominated for any office, though for years past his time and means have always contrtbuted to Democratic success in county and State.

HENRY R. LEWIS.

The Democratic nominee for State's Attorney, Henry R. Lewis, possesses, in full measure, the qualities so necessary in that officer. He is an excellent lawyer, conscientious and fearless, and crime in all forms will find in him a vigilant and relentless foe. Mr. Lewis has been a resident of our county since early in the eighties and has since been constantly engaged in the practice of his profession, in which he has gained distinction. For four years he held the office of State's Attorney, and in '93 and '95 was elected to the legislature. His work in these sessions was marked by thorough and conscientious performance of duty. In the House of Delegates he was a conservative leader of the party members, but was not regarded as ultra partisan. Mr. Lewis was a member of the Democratic National Convention of 1896. In 1892 he was candidate for the congressional nomination, receiving fifteen of the thirty votes in the convention. The late Mr. Brattan was successful, however, and was nominated and elected. In 1883 Mr. Lewis married Miss Martha J. Voss, a daughter of Mr. James Voss, a farmer residing near Burtsville, in Delaware. Mr. Lewis is a very useful member of the M. E. Church of this place, the superintendent of the Sunday School, and one of our best citizens. He is a splendid public speaker and no doubt the people will hear him in the campaign soon to open.

THOMAS LOCKWOOD DAY.

Thomas Lockwood Day, one of the Democratic candidates for Judge of the Orphans' Court, is well fitted for that office, being a man of excellent judgment and business qualifications. The people have the utmost confidence in him, and have more than once manifested their esteem. When a candidate for county commissioner several years ago the returns showed conclusively his popularity in his home district and elsewhere in the county where he was best known. Mr. Day was for a short time engaged in the mercantile business at Henderson, later was in the lumber business at Ridgely, and a few years thereafter he embarked in the canning industry, which has grown to great proportions under his management. His firm's output of canned goods is one of the largest on the peninsula every year. Mr. Day has had several minor offices, besides that of county commissioner, and has made a good record in public life. He is a member of Ridgely M. E. Church, and a very liberal contributor to it. He is also a Heptasoph. In 1897 Mr. Day married Miss Catherine Pastorfield, of Talbot and has three daughters.

DR. ENOCH GEORGE.

Dr. Enoch George, also one of the Democratic candidates for Judge of the Orphans' Court, is one of Caroline's leading physicians, and is devoted to his profession, in which he is very skilful. He was born near Sudlersville, in 1850. His father, of the same name and same profession, a noted doctor in his day, was a son of Virginia. The subject of this sketch was educated at Fort Edward, New York, and studied medicine at the University of Maryland, where he was graduated He is a brother-in-law of Ex-Judge Russum. He married Miss Eva M. Horsey, a daughter of the late William G. Horsey, in 1879. Mrs. George died in 1895, two sons, Enoch and Dawson O., surviving her. Dr. George is a man of clear judgment and the kindest impulses. In the Orphans' Court dependent ones would be sure of a never-failing friend in the popular physician.

JESSE T. DENNIS.

Jesse T. Dennis, the third Orphans' Court nominee, is the son of a Methodist Protestant minister, was born in Wicomico county thirty-six years ago. His father died in 1869 and Mr. Dennis came to Preston with his mother in 1876. He was educated in the public schools of this county. At the age of fifteen years he entered a store in Preston as clerk, where he remained for three years, and was afterward engaged with Thompson & Kersey, in Easton, for one year. In 1884 he engaged in the mercantile business in Preston, which business he has successfully conducted. Mr. Dennis is also engaged in the canning business, as a member of the firm of Dennis & Carroll, and is of the firm of Dennis & Fooks, dealers in lumber and coal. He is a man of good business ability, painstaking and conscientious, and in every way qualified for the position to which he has been nominated.

EDWARD WILLIAMS LIDEN.

The nominee for sheriff, Edward Williams Liden, is one of the county's most substantial business men, and a most highly esteemed citizen. He is very careful, prompt and painstaking in business, and no one enjoys a better reputation for integrity. Business men generally will appreciate the services of such a man in the important office of sheriff. Mr. Liden is a son of late Judge of the Orphans' Court William E. Liden, and is forty-three years old. When a young man he was for several years engaged as clerk in the store of the late Thomas F. Johnson, at Williston. Later he began the mercantile business on his own account at Smithville and has continued there ever since. He is also interested in farming. Mr. Liden never held any public office except that of postmaster of the village. He is a regular attendant at the Smithville M. E. Church. Mr. Liden married Miss Chaffinch, a daughter of the late Lewis Chaffinch. Earle Liden, a son, is in the commission business in Philadelphia, and Winnie Liden, another son, is a clerk in the store of Mr. O. M. Hignutt, Williston.

JAMES BUCHANAN WRIGHT.

James Buchanan Wright, again the Democratic nominee for county commissioner, whose election in '97 seemed reasonably certain, but who was defeated by a few votes, was born in the Fifth district, near Federalsburg, in 1856. All his business career has been in connection with the lumber and milling business. He has been quite successful, and owns timber lands in Virginia, as well as valuable property at Federalsburg. He is an excellent business man, and possesses to an eminent degree those qualifications so essential in a member of the levy court. His saw and planing mills and his wood-working factory at Federalsburg give employment to many men and boys, and their earnings contribute largely to the prosperity of the town. Mr. Wright manufactures boxes and crates and general building material. He is one of the trustees of the Methodist Protestant Church, near his home, and regularly attends that church. Mrs. Wright is a daughter of the late Perry D. Taylor, who was a prominent citizen of the Fourth district.

CLARENCE DEEN.

Clarence Deen, for the second time the nominee of the party for county surveyor, is a young man and is engaged with his father, ex-Assemblyman Wm. H. Deen, in the milling business at Fowling Creek Mills. He married Miss Corkran, daughter of Mr. Willis Corkran, a well-known surveyor.

Miscellaneous Items.

J. Siegel, the well-known optician of Baltimore, is at the Brick Hotel, Denton, this week, and will remain until Saturday evening, at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of examining eyes and furnishing suitable glasses. He is well-known as a successful optician, and has had many patients during his visits here. He makes no charge for the scientific optical examination of your eyes, and guarantees perfect satisfaction. Next week he will be at Greensboro two days—Monday and Tuesday, the 11th and 12th. *

The decree has gone forth from Paris—and the will of the modistes of that city is law the world over—that the corset must be consigned to the rag bag. The Parisiennes have discovered what many other people knew a score of years ago, that if a dress is molded to the form and very stiffly boned the necessity for a corset is removed and the effect is infinitely better.—Ex.

Miss Edith Inez Slemmer and Mrs. M. B. Slemmer have returned from Baltimore where they have been visiting Mrs. M. B. Slemmer's sister, Miss Irene Hayden. Mrs. Fred H. Heathers and son, Jerome, of Philadelphia, have been visiting Mrs. Frank G. Slemmer.—Centreville Record.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A PROMINENT VIRGINIA EDITOR Had Almost Given Up, but Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. READ HIS EDITORIAL.

From the Times, Hillsville, Va.

I suffered with diarrhœa for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. MOORE. Sold by Hugh Duffey, Hillsboro; R. J. Colston, Ridgely; W. E. Brown, Denton.

WANAMAKER'S.

Philadelphia, Monday, September 4, 1899.

Another Philadelphia Triumph And now Baldwin locomotives will run in France, though France has built such good ones at home that it took long to learn that ours were best. The first have been shipped, and will run on one of the state railways.

Philadelphia is first in so many things that it gives this store high ideals. First in the world—for good service, good store manners; first to lift merchandising out of the rut of haggling to the firm ground of fair exchange. First in offering large selection in all the kinds of goods handled. First to make prices least, by safe economies, and to confine itself exclusively to goods so reliable that we ask you to trade back for your money whatever does not fully meet your ideas.

This China Sale is very Important It appeals to every housekeeper in Philadelphia, or who can come to Philadelphia while this special selling continues.

Behind the sale, the work of getting ready—months of order placing and selection by our dual organization here and abroad. This movement means more work for workers at full wages; more work for store-people at full wages, ease of mind but little money for the capitalists who own the works and must have not only big regular business, but orders in hand to keep their forces busy.

You are chief gainers—to the extent of

Blankets are decidedly cheapest now
So are many other articles of Bedding

This twelfth annual Blanket Sale has the endorsement of experience, and the most hearty present appreciation.

For entirely logical reasons we can sell many lines of bedding at less prices now than in October and later. We avoid price comparisons, because rising markets keep one on the alert to know what each day's values are. These Blankets we bought last February—the mills have woven them as they found time since. Instead of sharing the advances, as a rule the blankets are cheaper than we ever knew them. Such lots will be quickly taken. Will you have secured your part?
