UNITED STATES' BANK.—The Van Buren Jackson newspaper, The Globe, published at Washington as the hired Government paper, has issued the most extravagantly false and slanderous publication about the Bank, its President and Directors and divers other people who have had paper discounted at that Bank, that could be made—whoever wrote it knew that it was false, and tried his best to make the calumny answer his purpose—and the understrappers that circulate it are either ignorant, what they do—or being paid for it in one way or another, they voluntarily help on the falsehood and slander, and thus become accomplices in crime to be made partakers in plunder.

The Lawyers whom the Bank have been obliged to employ to defend its interests in Courts, have been pronounced by the Globe & its Editors, bribed men.

Certain Editors of newspapers who have been under the necessity of borrowing money at times to keep up their establishments when the monies due them could not be immediately collected are pronounced bribed and bought up, when they pay 6 per cent for every dollar they borrow.

Prominent individuals or men not prominent, if connected with prominent men—no matter how pure their character—no matter how fair their standing has been all their lives with all men who know them—if they have had notes discounted of late at the U. S. Bank, and are openly opposed to Van Buren and Jackson, they are pronounced corrupted, bribed men.

If the business of the Bank is increased—these Van Buren Jacksonites say the loans are made through the country to bribe people. If an order is given by the President of the Bank to the officers to be cautious in extending their business, then these Van Buren Jacksonites declare this is done to create pressure upon the people. If in times of pressure, the very times when Bank accommodations are most useful, the Bank does risk itself to save that part of the people who labour under the pressure, these men say the Bank does this to bias and bribe men up. Or if when a crisis in the money matters of the country is obviously about to occur, and discounts are diminished in one part and increased in another—these Van Buren Jacksonites pretend they cant see a reason for that, and therefore it must be an act of bribery and corruption. Thus every thing the Bank does is corrupt and vicious—and every man that is openly opposed to Van Buren and Jackson, is bribed.

To make a colour of proof of all this, these falsifiers give you the names of men who have had discounts at Bank in the way of their professional business—and what is unheard of before, they have got and published statements of the accounts of individuals in Bank—a thing never done in any Commercial Country before—and then they pronounce the money obtained upon loan at 6 per cent. interest, a gratuity or indefinite accommodation for the purposes of bribery.

When we see all this, we are induced to think that men have lost their reason, or that a reign of terror and profligacy is now existing that never had its equal before.

When the Government press is thus debased—when the official organ of the Administration is thus prostituted—what must honest men think of the Chief Magistrate and the men around him who either permit these things, or give their countenance and support to a press and Editors that do these things?

Exclusive of the utter improbability of these things, as alleged against the Bank and individuals, being true, as these falsifiers basely wish to impose upon us the belief, we have an unerring criterion to test the truth or falsehood of these statements in the report made by the Stockholders themselves in September 1831 who examined into their own interests—and in the sound and prosperous condition of the Bank in all respects, and under all circumstances. The great number of Stockholders in that Bank would never sacrifice their private interests in suffering gratuitious loans and bribes to be made by the Directors—and the state of the Bank itself, as verified by the Stockholders, is such as to give the plainest and strongest refutation to the base calumny.—How any man of common sense and common honesty can believe, that a Bank which has paid off a million and a half of dollars as a bonus to the Government for its charter—which has paid a premium of almost three hundred thousand dollars for the five per cent stock purchased in 1821 from Government & now extinguished—whose fund to meet losses exceeds upwards of three hundred thousand dollars the estimate of those losses—whose surplus fund of profits amounts to five per cent upon the Capital—and, with these provisions against casualty, whose profits after defraying expenses and reserving one hundred and twenty thousand dollars for extinguishing the cost of Banking Houses, yield a dividend of seven per cent a year. How a Bank in so prosperous a condition could have hazarded and prostituted thousands and Millions in bribes and corruption, as these falsifiers allege, which would have occasioned immense losses and diminution of profits, no man of any sense can understand—and no man capable of understanding it can believe it.

The character and honor of the President and Directors of the Bank are ample assurance of its fair and honest administration—so is the care which each individual stock holder takes of his own interest—so is the anxiety universally prevalent to become a stockholder—so is the prosperous condition of the Bank—so is the report of Mr. Adams and Mr. McDuffie, and the declarations again & again made by Col. Johnson, a third member of the Committee to investigate the state of the Bank and the charges made against it—whatever Mr. Clayton and Mr. Thomas, the other two members of the Committee may have ungenerously insinuated, or unjustly left to implication to the contrary.

No institution was ever more completely absolved from all suspicion even of unfair or improper dealing, than the Bank of the United States was by a majority of the Committee, by a majority of both Houses of Congress, and by a great majority of the American People. The attempt now made through the Globe, by means of falsifications and garbled statements, to create a prejudice against the Bank, is to relieve Mr. Van Buren and Gen. Jackson from the great opprobium under which they labour from putting forth that shameful message, the Bank Veto—and the subaltern presses that circulate this horrible attempt are many of them ignorant what they are doing—many do it at a venture, right or wrong to see if it will answer the purpose—and some do it for private interest, who having contracts given to them by some of the Departments, are obliged to do whatever they are bid or lose their contract or office.

These are the sort of men who designedly lead the people astray—and such is the greatest evil that our justly prized Government is subject to.

Extract of a letter to the Editor dated BALTIMORE, Oct. 26, 1832, 11 o'clock, P. M.

Governor's Election.—The American Sentinel of yesterday,—"We have now the returns of the election for Governor from all the counties but four, from which we have the majorities, but not the precise vote. From these returns it appears that the majority for Governor Wolf is three thousand one hundred and seventy two. This majority will not be varied much by the official returns."

From the Harrisburg Intelligencer.

THE ELECTION.

The election for Governor, Members of Congress, and members of the state Legislature, has resulted in a signal triumph over the supporters of Andrew Jackson in Pennsylvania. The Jacksonmen, who elected their Governor in 1829 by more than 26,000 majority, have now re-elected him by a few hundred votes in a canvass of more than 170,000. Even this is a defeat when it is known that no less than seven National Republican papers supported his re-election, aided by the union of all parties in his favor in the counties on the Branch canals. But the Anti-Jackson triumph does not stop here we have elected an equal number of congressmen opposed to Jackson by an aggregate vote of some THOUSANDS over the Jackson Candidates.

We have also elected a majority of from ten to twelve in the House of Representatives, and shall have a decided majority on joint ballot in the Legislature.

The Senate of Pennsylvania consists of 33 members, who hold their offices for four years—one fourth of which are elected yearly. The Senate now stands 15 anti-Jackson and 18 Jackson.

If the whole Senate had been elected this year, our majority would have been nearly one to two in that body.

The Legislature.—It is known that the House of Representatives of this state consists of 100 members, whereof the ANTI-JACKSON MEN have this year elected FIFTY-SIX, and the Jackson party forty two. The remaining two are of Bedford county; they were volunteer candidates, and their political bias is not known to us.

The Senate consists of fifteen anti-Jackson and eighteen Jackson members. Should it be asked by readers at a distance, why the Jackson men have a majority in the Senate, we reply that only a part of that body is selected annually. Had the people acted upon the whole this year, there would have been two to one in favor of anti-Jacksonism exclusive of the two Bedford members of the lower house. The legislature of the state ranks thus in joint ballot:

	Anti-Jackson.	Jackson.
ASSEMBLY,	56	44
SENATE,	15	18
	71	62
	62
Anti-Jack. maj. in joint ballot	9

THIRTEEN anti-Jackson members of Congress have been elected.—U. S. Gaz.

TROTTING MATCH EXTRAORDINARY.—One or two papers have briefly noticed the trotting match, which recently took place on the Salem Turnpike. As it was one of rather a novel description, we give some "further particulars." The ground selected for the purpose was between Chelsea and Lynn—near Saugus River Bridge—and is, by the way, one of the best places for amusement of this sort in the vicinity, excepting, however "Chelsea Beach." The time of beginning was fixed at 3 o'clock, P. M., and at that hour, the two coursers, "Ephraim Smooth" and the "Lowell Racker," were led to the spot. They were to run a one mile heat, on a bet of $600 and it was stipulated that Ephraim Smooth should come out ten rods ahead of the Racker in order to take the stakes. There were many private bets; and the momeat the two horses appeared, no little interest was manifested by the several backers. At length the signal was given and the steeds flew over the ground. The spectators followed—but scarcely a word was said, and in two minutes and forty-six seconds, the Racker won the prize—Ephraim Smooth coming out seven instead of ten rods ahead.

The great interest which was taken in this race, arose mainly from the disparity of size, age, and condition of the two animals. The Racker is six years old, and quite a small horse Ephraim Smooth is a sorrel, 28 years of age, very lean and lank, and indeed so poor and infirm, as not to be able to raise himself without the aid of several men. He is moreover blind in both eyes and spavined in his hind legs.—Nevertheless he is a remarkable fleet horse in the race, and has won many bets. Most of the wagers among the knowing ones were in his favor on this occasion. But as we have said, he lost the palm. We understand there were more People to witness this 'trial of speed' than have been seen at a horse race in this part of the country for several years. They not only went from the city, but all the neighboring towns. It seemed as if they had assembled for a great militia muster. It was on this day that one of the steam Ferry Boats conveyed seventeen carriages and horses between Boston and Chelsea, at a single trip—a larger number it is said, than was ever known to have been taken in any Ferry boat before.

THE CHOLERA.—The angel of death has been busy among us during the past week. The pestilence that "walketh in darkness and wasteth at noon-day," has left sad mementoes of its visitation. The cholera has numbered several of our most valued citizens with the dead, since this day week. On Friday the first death occurred, an apprentice of Messrs. Bloom & Marr. On Saturday, a Mrs. Snider, the widow of Daniel Snider, and a young child of Mr. John Schleigh, died. On Sunday, Mr. John Miller, one of our oldest merchants, Isaac, the servant of Robert Douglass, Esq. a colored man the servant of Mr. Pherrin, Harry, the servant of Mrs. Chesley, and Hetty the servant of Miss Jane Milligan, died. On Monday, John M'Ilhenny, Esq. Mr. William Moffet, Merchant, John McLaughlin, a young man in the store of Benj. Yoe, Esq., and old Peter, a col'd. man in the employ of Dan. Schnebly, Esq.—And on Tuesday, James Brooks, a free black, Bill, a servant of Dr. Young, and Sarah Cooper, a free colored woman, died—making in all, 15 deaths from Friday to Tuesday inclusive.

Since the above was in type, a coloured boy, the property of Alex'r. Neill, Esq. died, on Wednesday evening. And Thomas Kennedy Esq. Editor of the Mail and Delegate elect to the next Legislature of Maryland, died this morning—making a total of 17 deaths from Friday to Thursday inclusive.

Our citizens have met the disease with a coolness and calmness—and attended the sick and the dead, with an assiduity worthy of all praise. And we are happy to be authorized to say, that in addition to the members of the Female Sick Society, the young men of the place, have tendered their services to the town authorities.

Mr. M'Ilhenny, Mr. Moffet, Mr. Miller and Mr. Kennedy, have left large families and large circles of friends and acquaintances, by whom they were much respected, and will be long and deeply regretted.

We learn that there have been several deaths along the line of the canal, in this county, with in the above time.

The Cholera rages with great violence in Cincinnati, Ohio. The board of Health reported 18 deaths for the 24 hours ending on the 12th Oct. at noon; 27 deaths to the 13th, same hour—24 to the 14th, and 17 to the 15th: on which day there were about 30 additional cases reported, most of which were considered safe.

In Richmond several new cases have occurred from imprudence in diet.

The board of health of Louisville, (Ky.) have reported eight or ten deaths by Cholera in that city.

Heavy Damages.—A suit for breach of promise of marriage, and seduction, was tried before the Circuit Court, in Lexington, on Wednesday last. The parties Miss Clark, of Clark County, plaintiff, and Mr. Rodgers, of Fayette, defendant, were cousins. The damages were laid at $10,000; and the jury, after a patient investigation of the case, gave a verdict in favour of the plaintiff, for that sum. We understand that the circumstances of the case were so aggravated, that the jury would have given a much larger sum, had it been claimed. We believe this is the largest verdict ever given in the United States in any similar case.

Kentucky Observer, Oct. 13.

John Randolph.—This eccentric genius, who supported for the Presidency Andrew Jackson whom he despised; because he was the rival of John Q. Adams whom he hated, is now very ill at his residence in Roanoke. A month or two ago he invited a minister to call upon him, who attended to the invitation, and engaged in serious conversation upon the subject of the change that awaited him. "You see, sir," said the divine, "how utterly vain and insignificant are all earthly distinctions at this sad hour." "Aye, ejaculated the decayed Statesman, a transient gleam of fire in his eye, "I have looked upon them in that light; ever since Andrew Jackass was elevated to the Presidential chair.

U. S. Senator for Tennessee.—After thirty unsuccessful ballottings, the Legislature of Tennessee has postponed the choice of a senator in congress until the next session of the general assembly of that state. On the 1st ballot the vote stood thus:

Foster 23—Grundy 22—Eaton 15.

There was little variation during the course of the ballottings, and the last one was, Foster 22;—Grundy 20;—Eaton 18. Thus far then the 'old Roman' has been unsuccessful in the attempt to put out Grundy and put in Eaton.

MARRIED

On Sunday evening last by the Rev. J. L. Lenhart, Mr. Robert Bishop of Centreville Queen Anns' county—to Mrs. Lucretia Fountain of Denton Caroline county.

At Louisville, Ky., HENRY CLAY, Jr. Esq. to MARIA JULIA, daughter of the late Thomas Prother.

[OBITUARY.]

Died at the Trappe, on Monday morning last Mrs. Mary Ann Emmons after a lingering illness. 'Worth is frequently shrouded in a delicate tenement which makes it more easily yield to the storms and chilling blasts that assail it, but the reflection is consoling that it will be transplanted to a more genial clime, where no adverse winds will ruffle its beautiful foliage, nor parching siroc destroy its delightful fragrance. Mrs. Emmons embraced the religion of the gospel whilst in health, it was her support on a bed of affliction; it carried her happily through "the dark valley of the shades of Death." She has gone, and left us to weep her loss; but

"Her spirit soars
"Beyond the skies and leaves the stars behind,
"Lo! Angels lead her to the happy Shores,
"And floating pæons fill the buoyant wind."

In Annapolis on Friday the 19th inst. after a severe illness of ten days, which he bore with the most exemplary fortitude, JAMES WILLIAMSON, Esq. a delegate elect to the Legislature of Maryland from Annapolis. Thus has there passed from life to death, in prime of useful manhood, one who was no less esteemed for the amiable qualities of his heart, than for the faithful performance of the duties of a good citizen and the generous discharge of all the obligations of social society.
