Sir, we love religious liberty. We are jealous of the rights of conscience: and hence we will ever resist such a union of Church and State in this country as would crush out religious liberty. Nor do we, in this respect, go a whit further than the American Catholic goes. He eschews, as cordially as we do, the dogma once held by the Church of Rome—"That the Pope has power to dethrone Kings and Princes, and deprive them of their crowns." He would resist, as promptly as any other American, the erection on this continent of that inexorable tribunal, whose pathway through Spain is still marked with the traces of ancient murder. So far from being intolerant in matters of religion, we are the first political party, if not the only one, that has ever distinctly declared its opposition to religious intolerance. We propose to protect the religion of both the Catholic and the Protestant: and to that end we intend to resist the "aggressive policy" by which the one might crush out the life and being of the other.

☞ Obituary Notices exceeding six lines in length, are also subject to a similar charge.

☞ Books received by mail will be promptly noticed under the editorial head.

ADJOURNED COURT.—The adjourned term of Court for Caroline county, commences at Denton, on Monday.

THE WILLSON CASE.—This case which was set apart for trial on the 25th inst., has been further put off, to the May term of our Court.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—Tuesday last was St. Patrick's day, and though it is generally characterized as a very inclement and stormy day, yet it was very warm and beautiful.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We beg the indulgence of correspondents until next week. The speech on our first page took up the proper place for such as are on hand.

EASTON FOUNDRY.—By reference to an advertisement in another column it will be seen that Mr Keilholtz has finished his new Foundry, at the southern end of Washington street, and is now in full operation. We bespeak for Mr. K. that liberal patronage which his efforts and exterprize so richly merit. Farmers encourage home manufactory.

ACCIDENT.—A young man by the name of Franklin Marko, in the employ of John Moore, Esq., near Easton, on Monday last split his foot with an axe, from his toes to his instep, causing an awful gash. Dr. Anderson was immediately summoned who placed him in a fair way of recovery.

SPEECH OF HON. THOS. AKERS.—The speech of this talented member of Congress from Missouri, which will be found on our first page to-day, in reply to the Hon. T. F. Bowie, of Maryland, will be read with more than ordinary interest. Read it men of all parties, and we venture to say you will pronounce it an able effort and a sharp reply to Mr. Bowie.

ELECTION.—An election for three Town Commissioners was held on Monday last, which resulted in the success of Dr. Chamberlaine, S. T. Hopkins and W. P. Dawson—the Austin ticket—by eleven majority. P. Groome, Wm. B. Wheeler and C. H. Stewart, were the opposing ticket. We venture to say, though Mr. Austin may be turned out by partizan jealousy, yet the office will never be so well and efficiently filled.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of this popular journal, published in New York.—That portion of it relating to Sugar Cane Seed, will no doubt be read with a great deal of interest by farmers generally. The Journal is an ably conducted work and contains information in one number which more than pays for the price for a year.—To the farmer it is invaluable. We are much indebted to the editor for the three numbers sent and hope he may continue to favor us with regular exchanges. We will endeavor to further his cause.

KANSAS.—Governor Geary has resigned the Governorship of Kansas because he could not get the aid promised him by the federal government, when he accepted the office. It is rumored he will proceed to Washington, lay the whole matter before the President, when the President will urge him to recall his resignation and go back.—To this end and for this purpose, he signifies his willingness to remove Judge Lecompte and all other officers who have thrown obstacles in the way of the fair administration of the affairs of the territory.

The Governor states there were fifty persons under oath, from the day he entered till he left, to assassinate him, provided his official career did not meet their approbation. Rather an unenviable situation.

LAND AGENCY.—We solicit attention to the card of Dr. Harper in another column. Persons having land to sell would do well to place it in his hands, as his facilities are superior for the purpose.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—Wm. H. Bowdle, Esq., of the Cambridge Democrat, has sold out to Thomas H. Handy, Jr., Esq., who will advocate the same principles as his predecessor.

NEW MAIL ARRANGEMENT.—The present arrangement of the mails from Smyrna to Easton acts like a charm. We receive the Baltimore papers by 9 o'clock A. M. the day after their issue, as also the Philadelphia papers. Were the Post Master at Greensborough to open the mail and dispatch it immediately, as we are informed, will soon be the case, the mail will arrive here by 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning. This arrangement, we believe, is satisfactory to all.

SUPREME COURT.—A motion has been made in the Legislature of Massachusetts to so change the Constitution of the United States as to elect the Judges of the Supreme Court for a term of years by the people. The late decision in the case of Dred Scott has very much displeased the people of that fanatical State, hence the opposition and unwillingness to abide by the decison, and the effort to change the Constitution, in order to carry out a principle they are contending for, and to have such judges upon the bench as will favor their particular prejudices. This feeling does not, however, confine itself to Massachusetts alone. It extends more or less over the entire North, and from all sections of the North and West we hear of a fanatical opposition to the decision referred to. In the course of time, parties, we have no doubt, will change so that we shall have but two parties, the one in favor of the Constitution as it is, the other in favor of a change or modification, so as to elect the Judges of the Supreme Court by the people. It is confidently asserted this will be the issue in 1860. If so, the people of the South and a goodly number of the North, too, will stand upon the Constitution as a basis of action and as a platform, the best and safest of any that can now be established. We shall regard any change in that instrument, with respect to the Judiciary, as highly unwise, and detrimental to the best interests of our country. The scheme of the Legislature of the above named State is wild in the extreme, and it should at once be branded by the press as treasonable and warlike.

In the State of Maryland, last fall, the American party stood upon the Constitution, and gained a signal victory. This we have no doubt, will be the case in 1860.—Though parties may change yet she will maintain her proud and noble position, and be the neucleus around which patriotic men of all parties may rally in time to come.—We glory in her position now before the Republic. The sentiment of her people are truly Constitutional and American, and will remain firmer and warmer as the principles of the party become familiar.

MAGAZINES.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE.—We have received the April No. of this world renowned monthly, and pronounce it excellent.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The April No. of this popular Ladie's Magazine is upon our table replete with its usual variety of fashions, &c.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—Though last this time, yet not least, for it is a beautiful No. Peterson cannot be beat.

New York Correspondence.

NEW YORK, March 13, 1857.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and stray sun-glimpses, warm wandering gales from happier climes, only tantalize us with rich promises, as we toil along through dark and gloomy weather. The bilious season is upon us, which, in dispite of Buyquant, we must affirm to be "the saddest of the year." In such weather nothing goes right; the Ten Commandments are broken in bits in sheer desperation; we are all Ishmaelites, every man's hand is against his neighbor. Business moves slowly and intermittently: out of town trade is far from being active and our importers grow disheartened with their great stocks lying almost idle on their hands. The lines of transportation are crowded with freight and buyers are hindered in their operations by the great difficulty and expense which is incurred in getting goods fairly shipped and on their way out of the city.

The great Spring auction sales of dry goods have fairly commenced and offer the only very noticeable feature of the week in a business point of view. The goods sold in this way are, for the most part, of those trashy descriptions which after besprinkled with a little bad rain water draw crowds of excited lady buyers, tempted by prospects of rare bargains in "wet goods." It is strange what a partiality very intelligent people evince for these wet goods. The demand for them is so extensive that the "watering" has now become quite a branch of business in small establishments near the Bowery. Some of the old heads think it a very acute kind of a trick to taste the wet goods before purchasing in order to ascertain whether they have really absorbed the saline water of the great deep, or have been merely sprinkled with tasteless croton.—But the "wetters" are too sharp for these gentlemen: they salt the croton!

As the dailies cannot discover any outside subjects to "pitch into," they are obliged to resort to the old expedient and let out their effervescent venum upon each other. The war between the Times and Herald is carried on with great vigor, and, thus far the times has decidedly the best of it. The Herald charges that the proprietors of the Times are stockjobbers and established the paper for the purpose of forwarding their interests in that line, while the Times retaliates by republishing from the old files of its adversary, whole columns of puffs of the "Parker vein" and other swindling enterprises. The fact is, that our commercial writers, like our Congressmen, are, as a class, constitutionally low in the pocket, are, therefore, really insensible to the charms of a few hundred dollars' worth of temporarily valuable stocks, earned by a "dozen careless strokes of the pen." Every man who buys fancy stock without thorough personal acquaintance with the market does it at his own peril.

The literary world here is remarkably quiet, and very few of the new productions have met with decided success. The poems of R. H. Stoddard, have been very favorably received in literary circles, and this youngest of our American poets, with the exception of G. B. Aldrich, has a prospect of brilliant success. The new edition of the Waverly novels, published by Sheldon and Lampart is being a great sale

Rev. Josiah Varden addressed the farewell of the conference to the bretheren from Virginia.

The attendance of spectators during the deliberations of the body has been unusually large.

SHOCKING RAILROAD CATASTROPHE.—Details of the Slaughter in Canada—The Dreadful Railroad Accident in Canada.—We are called upon to record the particulars of the most horrible railroad accident that has ever occurred in this country: at all events, it was attended with the greatest loss of life.

The accident took place at 7 o'clock last evening, a little more than a mile from the city of Hamilton, Canada West, and to a train from Toronto, which left that city about 5, P. M. The particulars have been gathered from gentlemen who left the scene of the accident early this morning. The Toronto and Hamilton Railroad intersects the Great Western about a mile and a half west of Hamilton, and the Toronto trains come down to the city on the track of the Great Western Company. The train from Toronto last evening consisted of a locomotive, tender, baggage car and two passenger coaches—the latter containing about 93 persons. When this train reached the junction, just above Hamilton, it was ascertained that the train from Detroit had not gone down to Hamilton, as it was entitled to do, before the Toronto train. After waiting 20 minutes the Toronto train came on.

Just before reaching the bridge over the Desjardins canal the train left the track, by a misplacement of a switch or some other cause, and ran upon the bridge. The force of the train knocked the bridge down, and engine and cars snd all plunged into the canal 30 or 40 feet below.

The catastrophe was sudden and awful, and the work of death was instantaneous and complete. The locomotive and tender were entirely submerged—the baggage car partially so. The forward passenger car turned bottom upwards and sunk so deep that the floor was but a few inches above water. Every soul on board this car perished—all by drowning of course. The rear passenger car rested upon an end, and was about half submerged. Most of the passengers in the rear of this car escaped—the remainder were drowed.

Of the 93 passengers only fifteen or sexteen are accounted for. It is nearly certain that 80 persons have perished by this calamity

When the train ran off the track some person, supposed to be the conductor, cried out "jump!" and he, the baggageman and brakeman did jump, and were saved. We are also told that a female with a child jumped from the train just as it plunged into the chasm, struck upon the ice below, and was soon after seen climbing up the bank. There were but few ladies on the train and this is said to be the ouly one saved.

Among those on board was Samuel Zimmerman, the great railway king of Canada, and he perished. His death will be a disastrous blow to the business interests of the province.

The disaster created great consternation at Hamilton, and the citizens of that place flocked to the scene of the accident to aid in removing the bodies and assisting the injured. The latter are, indeed, few, while the former can be counted by scores.

There was a draw in the bridge to enable vessels to go up the Desjardins Canal to Dundas. The bridge appears to have been a frail structnre to be thus easily destroyed.

We have just been told that Muir, Superintendent of the road, and the Conductor, were standing on the rear platform of the train when the car left the track. The engineer gave the signal to brake, when the conductor cried out "jump!" Both he and the superintendent jumped off, and saved their lives. The engineer was lost.—Rochester Union, March 13.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Gold from Australia—The Bank of England—French Protestants and American Slavery—Spain against Mexico, &c.—The steamer America arrived at Boston on Saturday, and from our files by her we make the following additional extracts:

ENGLAND.—Large Receipts of Gold from Australia, etc.—The Ocean Chief has arrived at London from Australia. She brought with her 73,311 ounces of gold valued at $1,440,000. The Blackwell sailed the day after her, and brings 86,647 ounces of gold, valued at $1,732,940. Her Majesty's ship Electra, on her way, has also 15,000 ounces of gold on board, valued at $300 000. The White Star, the Mermaid, the Admiral, the Orwell and the Austral, all with gold freights, left Australia in December, and the Copenhagen and the Cairngorm were to sail with gold freights in January.

The trade and navigation returns for January were issued on Wednesday. They are again extremely favorable for the month; the exports are $45,240,525, being considerbly over $5,000,000 more than the exports of the same month last year.—Linen and cotton show the smallest increase.

The Irish papers announce the death of Sir Compton Domville, Bart. Sir Compton, who has reached an advanced age, was nearly the wealthiest commoner in Ireland.

There was a rumor in London that the Bank of England is about to extend its business by opening "deposit accounts."—The effect of this measure, which would be one of considerable importance, would of course be to draw away business from other banks, private and joint stock.

The only parliamentary proceedings of any interest is the announcement on the part of the government, that no further Arctic expedition will be fitted out by them, enough having, as they consider, been done in the attempt to discover the missing crews of the Erebus and Terror. Another Arctic expedition will, however, sail, which will be provided for out of the funds of Lady Franklin.

Captain Galton has reported to the English Board of Trade on the subject of American railroads. After treating of their mode of construction, management, legal supervision and cost, the inference is drawn that investment of European capital in such works is much more safe than in the proposed Russian lines.

Parliment had not yet decided on Mr. Cobden's resolutions against the policy of the war in China. During the debate the action of the United States officials and naval forces at Canton was cited as an authority, both by the government and opposition members.

By the late colliery explosion 181 lives were lost, by which 87 wives were made widows and 188 children rendered fatherless.

It was expected that Queen Victoria would be confined during the present month.

FRANCE.—French Protestants and American Slavery.—An interesting meeting has just taken place at Paris. The French Protestants cleryman, with the elders and deacons of all the Protestant churches, have come together to prepare a "fraternal but severe remonstance" to the Protestants slaveholders of America. The address, which has been most extensively signed, asserts that Protestantism has been charged with its toleration of slavery, and conjures the American Protestants to wipe out this reproach.

Almost all the London papers were seized on the 22d, on account of their comments upon the Emperor's speech. The razzia comprises the Examiner, Spectator, Leader and Saturday Review.

The Bank of France has decided to discount bills having 90 days to run.

SPAIN.—The Expedition against Spain, etc.—The expedition to Mexico is to be confined to the occupation of Vera Cruz. The Madrid journal, referring to the expedition, says "the country may be assured that the national honor shall receive complete satisfaction."

PORTUGAL.—We have accounts from Lisbon to the 18th. It is said that the Portuguese government is preparing to send military reinforcements to its settlements in China.

AUSTRIA.—The Journal de Frankfort, an organ of the Austrian government, alludes to certain rumors, while affecting not to believe them, of an alliance between Prussia, Russia and France for the remodeling of the territories of the Austrian empire.

TURKEY.—Advices from Constantnople have been received to the 16th ult. Rifaat Pacha is dead. He leaves a fortune of 25,000,000 piastres. Messrs. Baltazzi have granted a loan of 10,000,000 piastres to the Porte. Kabouly Effendi has been proposed for president of the divan ad hoc, which is to meet at Jassy. Kiamil Bay designated to fill the same office at Bucharest. Admiral Lyon had officially announced his proximate departure. Two vessels had already left for Malta. A new landing of Russian troops has taken place at Balfruck, on the shores of the Caspian Sea. It is reported that warlike stores have been forwarded in the direction of Teheran. Russia has entered into negotiations for the construction of a railway from Mechehediser to Teheran.

INFLUENCE OF A NEWSPAPER.—A schoolteacher who has been engaged a long time in his profession, and witnessed the influence of a newspaper on the minds of a family of children, writes to the editor of the Ogdensburg Sentinel as follows:

"I have found it to be the universal fact, without exception, that those scholars, of both sexes and of all ages, who have had access to newspapers at home when compared with those who have not, are—1. Better readers, exceeding in pronunciation, and consequently read more understandingly. 2. They are better spellers, and define words with ease and accuracy. 3. They obtain a practical knowledge of geography in slmost half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of the most important places, nations, their governments and doings, on the globe. 4. They are better grammarians; for, having become so familiar with every variety in the newspaper, from the commonplace advertisement to the finished and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the meaning of the text, and consequently analyze its construction with accuracy."

OMAHA, Nebraska Territory, Feb. 24.

From Nebraska—Vigilance Committee at Omaha.—We are under the government of a Vigilent Committee. Not for the general purpose of reform in administration, but for the vindication of squatter sovereignty. Claims have been "jumped," contrary to "the code," and several "jumpers," have already been tried, and forced to withdraw their "filing."

Our streets are filled with citizens armed with rifles and muskets. Our best men are heart and soul in the movement. This is to protect the three hundred and twenty acre claims. I was, yesteday, witness to the destruction of a jumper's cabin. The army is again under arms to-day. No examples have yet been made; but should any offer resistance, I shall not be surprised at anything in the way of punishment.

The surrounding towns have sent delegates to a mass meeting, and offered assistance and support. Law reigns supreme. It is the law of protection to rights acquired by first settlement, well understood by our venerable Secretary of State, and which is founded on the necessity of forming society and civilization. On every other subject we are quiet and peaceable.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA CURED.—Among the triumphs of this wonderful medicine over confirmed diseases of the stomach and epigastrium, the following is not the least remarkable. Edward Stillman, aged 51, residing at Hagerstown, Md., had been for eleven years a sufferer from indigestion and its painful concomitants. His appetite was irregular, his frame emaciated, his skin of a livid, unhealthy hue, and he had a constant feeling of constriction at the pit of the stomach, as if a cord were being drawn tightly around it. He was continually in a state of great mental as well as bodily distress, and, to use his own expression, "life had become irksome to him." In the month of December last he commenced taken Holloway's Pills. Within three weeks thereafter all the above symptoms had vanished. No relapse has since occurred, and he is now as robust and active as any man of his years in all Maryland. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Pills are the only reliable remedy in existence.
