

his mercies and sends some motives of solid Consolation, to enable them to bear their trials -

The example of your dear Father in his last sickness and during the trying moments which preceded his dissolution will be for you a salutary lesson during your life, which will encourage you to persevere in the path of innocence & of virtue, the surest guarantee of a holy and a happy death - You desire to be united with him for ever in heaven, imitate his virtues, follow in his footsteps in the practice of your holy Religion, in the exercise of the sublime virtue of Faith, Hope and Charity; in humility, patience, resignation to the will of God in all things and you may rest assured that you will, ^{all} be one day united with him in that happy Country where there are no more troubles, no sorrows, no afflictions, no tears, no sadness, no grief, but where all is peace & joy and happiness and delights without end -

Let us all strive to meet in that blessed abode, where there will be no more separation, and where above we can enjoy lasting happiness -

You will please present my very best respects to your dear Mother, and believe me to be your ever Friend. - Michael Hattery -
