County High Schools Hit by Teacher Drop

Queen Anne's county's secondary school system closed the year with a 30 per cent drop in the teaching staff, including two principals at Church Hil and Sudlersville.

Carter H. Hickman, county high school supervisor, said the turnover is the largest the secondary schools have ever experienced.

Teachers are leaving chiefly for three reasons, Mr. Hickman said: A better job elsewhere, pregnancy and contracts not renewed.

Of the 49 teachers in white high schools, sixteen are agected in the drop.

Arthur Houghton Named School Trustee

Arthur A. Houghton, Jr., the president of Steuben Glass, Inc., and owner of Wye Plantation, near Queenstown, has been named a trustee of the Cooper Union to succeed Barklie Henry, who has resigned, it was announced recently.

Mr. Houghton, trustee of several educational organizations, is a native of Corning, N.Y., and a graduate of Harvard University. He holds honorary degrees from Lehigh University and the University of Rochester.

He is one of five men who will govern the privately-endowed, tuition-free institution in New York. He is chairman of the Board of trustees of the Parsons School of Design and a trustee of St. John's College, Annapolis, and the French Institute.
