U. of M. Freshman Takes "Miss Fire Belle" Crown

A tall, attractive, 17-year-old blonde, who wants to be a nurse, was named "Miss Fire Belle of Centreville," Friday night at the Goodwill firehouse and reigned over activities during Fire Prevention Week in Centreville this week.

Ruth Welch, daughter of Marshall Welch, of Pioneer Point Farms, a freshman at the University of Maryland, won by a nod over five other young women in the first such contest of its kind to be carried out by the fire company.

Miss Welch also participated in and rode in the Fire Prevention Parade in Baltimore Sunday. She competed for the title of "Miss Fire Belle of Maryland" at the Fifth Regiment Armory just before the parade.

When the judges Friday night announced the winner, Ruth broke down and cried while the other girls and the audience applauded. She wore a white strapless evening gown and her tanned skin stood out beautifully against a lace stole that covered her shoulders.

In a quiet voice before the microphone during the judging, Ruth answered questions put to her by Master of Ceremonies J. W. Thompson, Jr., She said she graduated from Centreville High last June and was starting a four-year course at the University of Maryland.

Ruth was a drum majorette of the Charles Town High School Band in West Virginia before moving to Centreville and was head drum majorette with the newly-formed Centreville High Band last year.

The other girls who competed and "were very close to th ewinner," according to the judges, were: Jean Dukes, Delores Dadds, PatriciaJump Ruth Hart and Ellen Mears. The judges were: Mrs. Howard Ryland, Miss Helen West and Mrs. Beulah Jump, all of Centreville.

The committee in charge of the contest was Jack Dadds, J. West Thompson, Jr. and Donald Walls.

They announced that MissWelch will preside over other public fire company events during the coming year and act as the official representative of the company whenever called upon to do so.

Centreville Lions Cub To Aid Hospital

The Centreville Lions Club is sponsoring a county-wide drive for the benefit of the Kent-Queen Anne's Hospital, Chestertown, it was announced today by President Charles E. Anthony. William E. Roe, 3rd, is chairman of the drive.

All Queen Anne's County citizens are urged to contribute generously as the hospital needs funds to overcome its annual operating deficits. Anyone giving $5 or more to the support of the hospital during the year is eligible to vote for the five directors to the Board of the Hospital each year. These contributions are sent to the treasurer of the hospital and a membership card issued. Any one contributing $100 or more annually becomes a "sponsor" of the hospital. All such gifts are deductible from income taxes, both state and federal.

Contributors may send checks or cash to William E .Roe, 3rd, chairman, or give to any Lion Club member who will make the one-day drive on Friday, Oct. 8.

Republicans To Hold "Open House" Friday Oct. 8

Queen Anne's County Republicans are participating in Republican National "Precinct Pow-Wow Day by holding "open house" on Friday evening, Oct. 8 at the Republican Headquarters in Centreville. A short program has been planned and refreshments will be served.

Addresses from the Denver Municipal Auditorium by President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon will be heard during the evening via radio in the headquarters. Similar GOP rallies will be held the [illegible] ng throughout the na-

Boy Scouts Hold Wallakazoo at Conquest

Almost 100 Scouts and leaders of the Tri-County District participated in a Wallakazoo this past weekend at Conquest Beach, near entreville. L.H. Fleming, Queen Anne, District Camping and Activities Chairman, was in charge of the affair.

The Scouts arrived Satrday afternoon and were given a demonstration of the new Civil Defense Rescue Truck. The demonstration was conducted by Alfred Clark, Deputy Director of Civil Defense for Talbot County, Dr. Louis Welty, Boy Scout Health and Safety Chairman, and Charles Russ, driver of the truck. Following this activity the Scouts went swimming.

Saturday eveing was devoted to a huge campfire at which there was group singing and stunts by all the Troops. Campfire leader was Dale Pittinger, District Training Chairman. Highlights of the Campfire leader was a real clambake prepared by Mr. Fleming. The Scouts gathered around the huge fire pit and helped uncover the oysters, clams, lobsters and chicken from layers of moist seaweed. Each Troop received a bag of assorted seafood.

Sunday morning church services were conlucted on the site for Scouts of the Protestant faith by Reverend Robinson of the Centreville Episcopal Church .

A string burning contest and a flap-jack cooking contest were held under the direction of Commissioners John Kyle and Chester Swiderski. The affair was closed Sunday afternoon after a final swim.

Troops participating were: 291 Oxford, 195 Church Hill, 165 Denton, 190 Easton, 796 Easton, 148 Queenstown, 189 Trappe, and 171 Ridgely. Members of Sea Explorer Ship 190 Easton served as junior staff.

Country Newspaper

I am a country newspaper.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer o ftidings from other friends I sueak to the home in the evening of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of the winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home: I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of mans existence.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the lives of my readers.

Catherine Kirwan to Head Democratic Women's Club

Democratic women from all parts of Queen Anne's County met at the Democratic Headquarters on Commerce Street in Centreville, Thursday, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. and organized a permanent Queen Anne's County Democratic Women's Club.

The group elected the following officers: President, Miss M. Catherine Kirwan, Chester; Vice-president, Mrs. Clyde Cecil, Barclay; Secretary, Mrs. Edward W. Green, Centreville; and Treasurer, Mrs. William Rodgers Wilson, III, Ingleside.

This club is non-factional and has been formed so that interested women may work in an organized way for the Democratic party. Immediate projects of the club are: "Coffee hours," to be held at the headquarters from 2 to 4 p.m. every Tuesday and Friday until the General Election on November 2nd, with women from the various districts acting as hostesses. These informal get-togeth ers will offer anyone who drops in an opportunity to meet some of the Democratic candidates and to actually operate one of the official voting machines which will be used in the coming election.

In addition to working in their respective districts and precincts to encourage all Democratis women to vote in the general election, members of the club will demonstrate the operation of the small demonstrator voting machine to any group requesting this service. Arrangements for such demonstrations can be made by phoning Democratic Headquarters, Centreville 450.

SQUIRREL SEASON OPEN

According to the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, this year, as last year, the open season on wild turkey will be Oct. 5 to 31 inclusive, in three counties only, namely Garrett, Allegany andWashington. The limit is one turkey per day and per season. The open season for squirrels is the same, namely Oct. 5 to Oct. 31, also the same as last year, with a daily limit of 6 squirrels, possession limit 12.

Segregation Is Injected Into General Election

The segregation issue was openly injected into Maryland's general election campaign Saturday .

State Senator Edward Turner, of Queen Anne's county, the Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives in the First (Eastern Shore) Congressional district, issued a statement calling for a State law which he said would have the effect of allowing each county to decide whether it wished to continue a segregated public school system.

Representative Edward T. Miller, Senator Turner's Republican opponent, immediately issued a counterstatement expressing "shock and indignation that Senator Turner has seen fit to lower the level of the campaign and himself as a member of the Eastern Shore bar by injecting the racial issue."

Takes "Sharp Exception"

However, Representative Miller added he 'had no quarrel" with that part of theTurner proposal "favoring local self-government and determination of the integration problem at the local level."

"I have always supported State's rights and opposed encroachment of the Federal Government into the field of education, but I take sharp exception to my opponent's attempt to bring partisan politics into an issue so basic while it is still pending before the highest court in the land, Representative Miller declared.

Several months ago, the Supreme Court of the United States decreed that segregation of races must end in the nation's public schools. The Court has scheduled a hearing in December to decide how its decision should be implemented.

Senator Turner's proposal is patently designed to get around the Supreme Court ruling.

He said:

"My solution is rooted in the philosophy which we in our community hold so dear, the right of local self-government.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the states, through the exercise of the police power, are in a position to and, indeed, are required to protect the health, welfare and safety of all of their citizens.

"Broad and sweeing laws may be passed by the State Legislature dealing with this subject for the general protection of all the people.

"I propose that such broad and sweeping legislation should be passed by the General Assembly ofMaryland to deal adequately with the segregation problem.

Specific Proposal

"More specifically, the Maryland Legislature should pass a law which will vest in the local boards of education for each of the counties the right to determine as a fact whether the people's health, welfare and safety would be in danger by integration in the public schools.

"This law should further provide that if the county boards do find that the people's health, welfare and safety would be in danger by a policy of integration, the boards would have the power to order segregation for the public schools.

"In advancing this solution to the problem, I have not attempted to circumvent the Supreme Court's decision with mere words.

"Quite to the contrary, I now offer a plan which will protect all of our citizens—Negroes as well as the whites—from the consequence of an unwise and hastily fashioned doctrine.

People Should Decide

If the people elsewhere want desegregation and if such a policy would not endanger their welfare, safety and health, the matter should be decided by them.

"Part of Our Way of Life"

Senator Turner said that if he is elected to Congress "I shall dedicate myself to working closely with my colleagues from the South, who feel as we do, in an untiring effort to solve this problem in a fashion that will preserve our way o flife on the Eastern Shore."

At one point in his statement he said:

"Segregation of th[illegible]ces on the Eastern Shore is part of our way of life."

He added he was in favor of "equal educational facilities in every respect for the Negroes, but separate facilities."

"I do not believe that our community is ready for any interuption of its traditional segregation," he said at another point in the four page statement.

"I charge," he said, "that the Republican party in this State, which includes my opponent, is dedicated and committed to the national Republican party's way of thinking on the subject of "segregation" as reflected in the recent Supreme Court decision."
