SATURDAY, APR., 21, 1906.

John Paul Jones always was an unlucky man. This time he is to be buried just as the baseball season opens.

A Connecticut court has decided that a man must obey his wife. In Maryland no court decision is required.

President Roosevelt's old ranch foreman on the Little Missouri has been selected for United States Marshal of Montana. There are still a few offices left. Any of the President's Rough Riders or cowboy acquaintances who want to save the country again should make their wants known at once.

If the decision of the United States Supreme Court holds good, in which the judges ruled that a divorce must be granted in the state in which the marriage took place, it looks to us that the divorce resorts of Dakota and other states that offer special inducements to those seeking relief from an overdose of marriage, will be closed for repairs.

A young man fond of dancing recently took a pedometer with him to a ball and found that in the course of the evening he had covered thirteen and a half miles. The average length of a waltz was half a mile, of a polka three-quarters of a mile, of a gallop or schottische a mile and of lancers a quarter of a mile. A girl usually dances more than a man and is calculated to cover more than sixteen miles in a single evening.

Brother J. E. Pardee of the Easton Ledger has this week installed a new cylinder press to keep up with his fast increasing business, and in speaking of the improvement says: "It has a speed of 15000 an hour and will print perfectly." We thought our Scott press was a pace maker, when it reeled off 2100 per hour but, according to Brother Pardee, we, like other country printers will have to "fall in behind" as the pace is to warm. We suppose that Brother Pardee uses an asbestos tympan sheet to prevent the electricity in the paper from scorching the rubber blanket!

Brother Wilkinson, of the Caroline Sun, is not likely to endorse the renomination of Governor Warfield as the Democratic standard-bearer, if the following article from his paper is a sample of his sentiments:

"Governor Warfield exercised his veto power with a vengeance on Monday. One of the bills which he killed was the two-cent-a-mile railroad bill. This bill was passed through the House with but little opposition and on its final passenge in the Senate not a single vote was recorded against it. It was considered a people's measure, and no one had an idea that the Governor would think for a moment of vetoing it. The whole question resolves itself down to the simple proposition: 'Who was the Executive representing, the railroads or the people?'"

Our fishermen are much agitated over the recent law to allow them to dispose of their entire catch. The law has not been in force over ten days and the price of fish has declined at least fifty per cent. as the small ones have glutted the markets which caused prices to drop. The fishermen say that thelaw recently repealed was one of the best they ever had for then they got good prices for their catch and the supply was ample for them to make a livelihood. They claim that under the present law, fish will soon be extinct in our waters for, already some fishermen are putting on the market, fish that would hardly measure as much as a culled oyster, when head and tail is cut off. Some people, they claim, never deal in futures; it is the present time only, and will sell anything, small sized fish or oysters so they get the price—matters not how little.

Our oyster industry was fast becoming extinct from allowing oystermen to sell anything they could getoff on the buyer, but the passage and enforcement of the cull law has made the outlook for next season one of the best in the history of our oyster industry. So it is with the fish.

The only thing to do, is for our fishermen not to ship trash fish to market and, as most of the fishermen throughout the state are members of the Fishermen's Protective Association, it would be well to bring the matter before their association and let every member resolve to throw back into the water all small fish, and, they will be the ones benefitted finally in the end.

A Chicago preacher has sounded a warning against reckless marriages. What other kind has he ever encountered?

A British scientist says that there are no bald-headed men in the prisons of the world. Probably they are too smooth to be caught.

Corporal Tanner says that our ex-presidents are lonely. Mr. Cleveland will deny this as long as there is a fish left in the ocean.

An Ohio man has been cured of consumption by living in a tree. Was the tree fitted up with Dowie's "Leaves of Healing?"

Publicity as to the names of dealers advancing the price of coal might serve a public end, now that the operators declare that coal is costing them no more. White diamonds should not be made so suddenly from black ones.

The Government is about to withdraw the existing stock of postage stamps and issue fresh ones that will stick. It is about time for Uncle Sam to take away the reproach of that gum which got many a citizen into trouble with the Recording Angel.

A German scientist says that the time will come when the supply of water will not be sufficient to support life on this earth. We Eastern Shoremen have been subsisting for several years on water, and now that this supply is said to be limited, we suppose the Eastern Shoreman will soon be extinct.

REPEATING SHOT GUN
NEW MODEL No 17

Here is the cheapest good gun yet made. By the omission of the take down feature we have been able to greatly reduce the cost of production and at the same time have kept the gun up to the famous high Marlin standard of strength, safety and durability. Notice the clean simplicity of this gun. The workmanship and finish are perfect. The weight is only 7 pounds. The full choke barrels are especially bored for smokeless as well as black powder and so chambered that 2¾ inch or 2⅝ inch shells may be used. Several improvements in the operating parts make it the easiest, most reliable and best working gun in existence. We are glad to make it possible for every lover of guns and bird shooting to get this high grade repeating shot gun at so low a price.
