The portrait of John Paul Jones to adorn the new 10-cent postage stamp, and the Smiths will now begin to fume about it until some member of their family is similarly honored.

A statistician says that one out of every sixteen women in the United States is working for a living. Evidently this gentleman does not regard washing dishes and minding babies as work.

Pennsylvania Railroad people, say that Mr. Carnegie used to give more rebates than any other shipper in any line of business, seems disposed to muck-rake the retired iron-master.

Walter Wellman, who says he is going to the North Pole in an airship, is reported to have started for his base on Dane's island. There is many a man who starts for his base and never reaches first.

A London surgeon has discovered a new way of curing wounds without leaving scars. He could make a fortune by coming over to the United States and startifg a practice among the victims of political battles.

It does not make much difference whether there is a strike or not; the price of coal goes up the same. This is the trust's way of making the dear public pay for its losses during the miners' recent period of idleness.

Young Rockefeller intimates that it is a Christian duty to share our wealth with others less fortunate. He will find no difficulty in getting plenty to help him in so doing his duty at a per capita distribution of the Standard Oil millions.

The disarmament idea is not in favor with the powers as the readiest way of bringing about peace. The favorite theory seems to be for all the powers to be so strongly prepared by land and sea for war that each one will be afraid to provoke it.

The great Mormon trinity has been business, politics and religion—well mixed. The report that the church is to retire from business should be followed by one that it is to retire from politics; and there are people who wish it would complete the job and retire from religion.

The Department of Agriculture is reported to be considering plans for producing the perfect man. Judging from recent events in Washington especially, the evolution is much needed, and, perhaps, the Agricultural Department is a good one to try the experiment, as after it has produced the perfect human it can put him in clover.

The Oil Trust says the report against it is unjust and unfair. Perhaps, in view of this slight revenge, which is all that the spirit of the times allows them, they are wishing for the good old days when men who told unpleasant truths about the powers that ruled were boiled in oil or some such remonstrance against frank expressions of opinion equally trenchant.

Under the stringent new insurance laws of New York state, which were the result of the Armstrong investigation, the great mutual life companies must elect entirely new boards of trustees on December 18 of this year. The insurance companies have accepted the radical reforms in good faith and show not merely a disposition, but an intense eagerness to choose men of the highest character and standing, who shall inspire absolute public confidence.

Following the exposure of abuses, the severe criticism of life insurance companies' directors and officials, it is feared that men who are sensitive of their reputation may show a reluctance to serve on boards. That fear is, perhaps, groundless. What public or civic position is there in the country which offers an equally public-spirited task? How can a man better serve his country, to its moral and material well-being, render any greater service than to take part in the inauguration of an honorable, efficient administration of the vast life insurance companies, with their millions of policyholders and their billions of assets which represent the thrift, the right and safety of the country?

Delaware is nabbing all the tramps and holding them for peach pickers. Later Mr. Addicks will use them for voters.

In spite of the doctors, we believe that the strawberry does not run as many people crazy as does the lovely "peach" in a white shirtwaist.

Addicks may have withdrawn from the Senatorial race, as he announced, but the people of Delaware are probably wise enough to keep watching him.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using new discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest cough and cold cure and throat and lung healer. Guaranteed by J. S. Denny. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Sore Nipples.

A cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the child to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with the best results. Price25 cents per box. Sold by B. E. Cockey & Co.

See that your druggist gives you no imitation when you ask for Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, the original laxative cough syrup. J. S. Denny and Wye Mills drug store.

Here is the cheapest good gun yet made. By the omission of the take down feature we have been able to greatly reduce the cost of production; and at the same time have kept the gun up to the famous high Marlin standard of strength, safety and durability. Notice the clean simplicity of this gun. The workmanship and finish are perfect. The weight is only 7 pounds. The full choke barrels are especially bored for smokeless as well as black powder and so chambered that 2¾ inch or 2⅝ inch shells may be used. Several improvements in the operating parts make it the easiest, most reliable and best working gun in existence. We are glad to make it possible for every lover of guns and bird shooting to get the high grade repeating shot gun at so low a price.
