

Washington, D. C., March 14 1873.

Cousin Sue,

I am in receipt of your letter of the 17th. I had not forgotten I had not replied to your previous letter, in fact I had nothing to say, that would be of interest. Mr. Hunter, Mrs. Mary Galt's mother, died on Wednesday night at 10.30, and was buried on Friday. Some three or four weeks ago, she met with an accident; she fell on the ice and broke her hip, this probably hastened her death, though she had been in feeble health for sometime. Geo. Barrett's wife has been ill, she has so far recovered, or to be up again. I did
