KI[illegible] TROUBLE

[illegible] in Three

Thirteen A Lucky Number.

"Yes," said the brakeman, "I was just sure something'd happen, but I was ashamed to lay off. You see, I hurried off in the morning without my watch. Well, now, you see, right [illegible]re was bad luck—having to go [illegible]k, you know.

[illegible]y wife didn't like it much, and [illegible] I told her a black cat had run [illegible] my path as I came home she [illegible]e sit down and count 10 t' [illegible]e bad luck.

[illegible] I started back and I'll be [illegible] that black cat didn't run [illegible] path again, so when I got [illegible]train I did really feel kind of [illegible]; then I noticed the engine [illegible]o. 13, and I was the thirteenth [illegible] out, and I'll be switched if [illegible]e weren't thirteen cars in the [illegible]in.

"Well, I never started out feeling so blue, but we got to the other end all right an' when we were coming back we—"

"Well, what did you do?" asked a listener. "What happened?"

"Why, when we were coming back we just traveled right along nicely till we got here—that's all. But I was glad to get safe home—you bet."—Kansas City Star.

Sheep Betrays His Fellows.

Andy and Tim are partners in the sheep business at the stockyards, and with their silent partner they are likely to remain so as long as he is sufficiently ablebodied to follow his present occupation of "separating the sheep from the goats." Captain is a white Cotswold sheep weighing about 200 pounds. It is his duty to assist his owners in loading and unloading sheep by leading them from and to the pens and freight cars. As soon as his work of guiding to a car is done Captain slyly steps out of danger.

When he has a drove to deploy from the car he goes among them, mixes up with the sheep a few minutes, just to calm their fears, and then trots away, the gang most obediently following in his wake. Once at the pen, he leaves them and goes for a new drove.—Chicago News.

BORAX IN THE DAIRY.

A Matter of Profitable Interest to the Farmer and Dairyman.

A few years ago most anything "went" for milk or cream or butter so long as it came originally from a cow.

Now things are changed.

The public realizes, the dairyman realizes and the farmer realizes that there is just as much difference be[illegible]en milk from sweet utensils and [illegible] from "stale" utensils as there [illegible]etween milk, and chalk and [illegible]

The problem of keeping sweet all the utensils used in connection with milk and cream selling, and butter making, has been a serious one with the farmer.

He has come to realize fully that the slightest taint or hint of staleness left in a can, tin or churn may ruin a whole output; that the taint which is left in the form of bacteria which grow and multiply in milk or butter, producing disastrous results.

The farmer has learned that hot water won't rinse away the greasy residue in dairy utensils.

He has learned that soap leaves a residue of its own which is, if anything, worse than the milk or cream residue, and it is little wonder that there has been a constant clamor for a dairy cleanser and sweetener that will meet modern requirements.

A few of the largest creamery establishments have called experts into consultation on this problem and have with this scientific aid hit upon a product of nature which exactly fills the bill—borax.

Scientists have long known borax as a cleanser, a sweetener and an antiseptic destroyer of bacteria and germ growths. Destroys all that is harmful and promotes and preserves freshness, sweetness and purity, relieving the dairyman and dairy housewife of drudgery and of needless work and worry.

Its cheapness and value should give it first place in the necessities of every dairy.

The cow's udder is kept in a clean, healthy and smooth condition by washing it with borax and water, a tablespoonful of borax to two quarts of water.

This prevents roughness and soreness or cracked teats, which make milking time a dread to the cow and a worry to the milker.

The modern cleanser of all dairy utensils consists of—one tablespoonful of borax to every quart of water needed. Remember—a tablespoonful equals four teaspoonfuls.

Be sure that you get pure borax. To be sure, you must get "20 Mule Team Borax." If you are unable to get the "20 Mule Team" brand send us your dealer's name and we will arrange to supply you. Send for booklet.

Pacific Coast Borax Company, 100 William street, New York.

It's to a man's credit if he can truthfully say that his credit is good.

It's tough even on the six-footer when he has one foot in the grave.

[illegible]paulding Manufacturers [illegible] plete. Uniforms and equipment [illegible] sport.

BOOKS YOU NEED—10c. per copy [illegible]pend.
No. 1, Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide.
No. 202, How to Play Base Ball.
No. 223, How to Bat. No. 242, How to Run Bases.
No. 230, How to Pitch. No. 239, How to Catch.
No. 225, How to Play First Base.
No. 226, How to Play Second Base.
No. 227, How to Play Third Base.
No. 228, How to Play Shortstop.
No. 224, How to Play the Outfield.
No. 231, How to Organize a Base Ball League, Manage a Base Ball Club, Train and Captain a Team and Umpire a Game.
[illegible]nd for list of books on every athletic sport. New Ball Catalogue Free to any address, Free.
Mail Order Dept.
A. G. SPALDING & BROS., 126 Nassau St., NEW YORK.

PATENTS Do you wish to know about PATENTS? Do you wish to know about TRADE-MARKS? Do you wish to know about PENSIONS? Do you wish to know about PAY and BOUNTY? Then write to W. H. Wills, Attorney-at-Law (Notary Public), Wills Building, 312 Indiana Avenue, Washington, D. C. 24 years in Washington. Union Soldiers and Sailors—war 1861.3—entitled to pension on age after they reach 62. If pensioner deserts wife she may be entitled to half his pension.

ADVERTISE IN THIS PAPER. IT WILL PAY B N U 20

HICKS' CAPUDINE CURES ALL ACHES And Nervousness Trial bottle 10c At drug stores

Woman And The Check.

A woman stepped up to the window of the paying teller in a Denver bank Tuesday morning and pushed a check through the grating. It was for $4.

"Put your name on the back, please," said the teller.

She did so.

"Is this your name?" he asked.

The woman sighed. "Yes," she replied, "that's my name. It calls for $4, doesn't it?"

"It does," said the teller.

While the man in the cage was looking the check over the woman fumbled in her handbag and then placed a five-dollar bill before him.

"Take it out of that, please," she said. "It seems to me I'll never get through paying bills."

For a moment the teller was puzzled. Then he realized that the woman didn't understand the check. "You don't have to pay me," he said; "I have to pay you $4."

He pushed back her five-dollar bill and gave her $4 in silver. The woman was very much surprised. "You have to pay me?" she said. "Why, I thought it was a bill, and that I had to pay it."—Denver Post.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Profit by the Experience of One Who Has Found Relief.

James R. Keeler, retired farmer, of Fenner St., Cazenovia, N. Y., says: "About fifteen years ago I suffered with my back and kidneys. I doctored and used many remedies without getting relief. Beginning with Doan's Kidney Pills, I found relief from the first box, and two boxes restored me to good, sound condition. My wife and many of my friends have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and I can earnestly recommend them."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Violin Used 87 Years In Church.

The violin used by A. R. Beck at the Passion Week and Easter services in the Moravian Church, Lititz, has been in use at those services for 87 years. Like all violins it improves the older it gets. It was made by Karl Friedrick Lippold at New Kirchen bei Ahdorf, Germany, in 1817, and was purchased through a Bethlehem music dealer by John William Rauch, a well-knwn Lititz poet and musician. After his death it was purchased by Mr. Beck, who has used it 44 years. The edges are beautifully ornamented with pure ivory, and it is as good as new in appearance.—Philadelphia Record.

Argo Red Salmon furnishes material for the muscle and brain and does not heat the blood. Look in your grocer's window for the transparencies of Argo Red Salmon.

A man thinks he's a martyr when he lends his wife ten dollars he owes her on her allowance.

Spring always brings into special favor Nature's blood purifier, Garfield Tea. It is made wholly of clean, sweet Herbs. It purifies the blood, cleanses the system, clears the complexion, eradicates disease and promotes Good Health. For young and old.

A wise man shuts up before he runs out of talk.

Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo, Argo.

Washington Statues Boxed Up.

The work of restoring the interior of the United States Capitol Building at Washington, even as to details, according to the original plan, has begun. Visitors during the past few weeks have been greatly disappointed to find that all the statues in Statuary Hall have been boxed and scaffolding erected over the entire space.

There is nothing nicer packed than Argo Red Salmon and yet the price is within the reach of all.

A woman hates to tell her husband how much her dress costs, and her friends how little.

Argo Red Salmon is rapidly becoming a household word in this locality. At all grocers.

There would be some fun in being a farmer if it weren't for the almanacs he has to read.

Dogs Have "Motor Heart."

"'Motor heart' in dogs is a new disease," says one of the King's veterinary surgeons. "The motor car possesses a curious fascination for dogs. They enjoy the swift motion, the exciting, scorching rush through the air as much as their masters. But the veterinary surgeon in many cases is obliged to curb this canine fondness for the car, because of the injurious effect on the dog's heart." The symptoms of "motor heart" in dogs are enlargement, flabbiness and general weakness of that organ. The dog looks restless and excited. The heart beats are rapid and weak. Breathing is difficult and distressed. The only cure is total abstinence from car rides.

People often ask what is a good brand of Salmon. "Argo Red Salmon" is the best possible answer.

Dog With Ice Appetite.

There is a little brindle bull terrier not more than three blocks from the Post building, which has deve[illegible] appetite for ice.

Changes In The Blood.

In an effort to determine what chemical change takes place in the blood with age, two French investigators, C. Dhere and G. L. Grimme, have been examining the blood of dogs and rabbits for calium content.

It was noted that in dogs the proportion of calcium in the blood decreased regularly with age, but no generalization from this can be drawn, inasmuch as rabbits' blood did not exhibit a similar characteristic, the proportion of calcium varying greatly with individuals of the same age.

CHANGE IN FOOD
Works Wonders in Health.

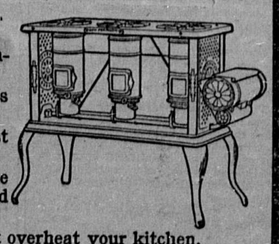
It is worth knowing that a change in food can cure dyspepsia. "I deem it my duty to let you know how Grape-Nuts food has cured me of indigestion.

"I had been troubled with it for years, until last year my doctor recommended Grape-Nuts food to be used every morning. I followed instructions and now I am entirely well.

"The whole family like Grape-Nuts, we use four packages a week. You are welcome to use this testimonial [illegible]ou see fit."

Th[illegible] this lady was helped by th[illegible]rape-Nuts food, is that it is [illegible]y natural processes and t[illegible] not tax the stomach a[illegible]d been using; it also [illegible]nts required for b[illegible]s system. If t[illegible] is in p[illegible] re[illegible]

Use A
NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove



Because it's clean.
Because it's economical.
Because it saves time.
Because it gives best cooking results.
Because its flame can be regulated instantly.
Because it will not overheat your kitchen.
Because it is better than the coal or wood stove.
Because it is the perfected oil stove.
For other reasons see stove at your dealer's, or write our nearest agency.
Made in three sizes and fully warranted.

The Rayo Lamp cannot be equaled for its bright and steady light, simple construction and absolute safety. Equipped [illegible]er. Made of brass throughout [illegible]ment to any room, [illegible] Every

WOMEN; THEIR FADS, THEIR FASHIONS, THEIR WORK, THEIR ART.

A WONDERFUL SHAWL.

This awe inspiring combination is solemnly set forth by an English paper as a thing which one may wear without becoming a social outcast.

"A pointed shawl of Chantilly lace mounted over rose chiffon, a deep flounce of the latter adding to the length, set on with a finger depth of sable, while over the shoulders was disposed an embroidered garland of metallic roses, from which depended a capuchin of the lace and chiffon inextricably commingled, the upturned edge maintained by a line of sable.—New Orleans Picayune.

PLACE FOR STAMP.

A young woman who went to the Philadelphia central postoffice the other day with a sealed letter in one hand and two cents in the other made more than one attempt before she found the window where stamps were sold. When she succeeded she laid the letter and the money on the window sill and was about to depart when the salesman called her back with the remark: "Here is your stamp." The girl looked puzzled for a moment, but the situation dawned on her at last, and she picked up the letter and stamp, saying, "I must put it on myself, must I?" "Suit yourself about that," replied the stamp clerk; "the proper place for it, however, is on the letter."—New Haven Register.

CHILDREN ARE EXPENSIVE.

The upper West Side woman was trying to engage board for herself, her husband and their six-year-old son. "What are your prices?" she asked the majestic landlady of the select boarding house. "Twenty dollars a week apiece for you and your husband and $40 a week for the child." "Forty! Forty dollars! For my baby! Six years old?" gasped the mother. "Yes, madam." "But it is customary to charge only half price for children." "It has never been my custom. A six-year-old boy eats twice as much as a man and twice as much as a woman, and is five times as much trouble in a house as both adults. There are two children boarding here now, and they eat a pound of butter a day. I pay sixty cents a pound for model farm butter, so that one item of their diet is nearly $5 a week. Anybody who boards children at half price is four times behind the game."—New York Correspondence of the Pittsburg Dispatch.

SUFFRAGETTES AND PREMIER.

All Europe is laughing at the neat way in which England's Premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, was cornered by a pair of suffragettes on his way to Cannes recently. Sir Henry traveled in a "private saloon," as usual, but he did not have his tea served there, and it was when he ventured from his lair to the dining car that the suffragists, Miss Kenney and Miss Gawthorpe, nailed him. All unsuspecting, he took a chair at a table next theirs. They recognized him at once, and glanced at each other hesitantly. But they didn't hesitate long. Though conventionality might be well enough in its place, devotion to their cause demanded that they make the most of their golden opportunity. So, while "C. B.," as they love to call him in the United Kingdom, was sipping his tea with his gravest air, the suffragettes introduced themselves to him and proceeded to bombard him with arguments in favor of woman's rights. Both young women are active members of the Women's Social and Political Union, an organization that has commanded wide respect in London town. They won from Sir Henry expressions of commendation for the educational work of their union, although he hazarded mild criticism of its methods. Then they tried to obtain from the Premier a promise that a bill enfranchising women would be introduced by the Government in the current session, and, failing in that, they rained reasons on his devoted head until, the train arriving at Cannes, he was able to escape without a departure from his proverbial politeness.—New York Press.

TEACHING THE GIRLS TO COOK.

As the girls grow older they are initiated in the art of cooking; just little things at first and always under the mother's supervision. Any task permitted to be accomplished alone is considered a great privilege. As the children grow older they realize also the benefit, to all the members of the household, of this systematized housekeeping, and more fully understand the responsibility of the mother and the innumerable tasks which are still left for her to perform. Thus mentally and physically are children better off for duties put upon them, provided they are not too irksome nor lengthy. It is in after years that they will more fully realize the benefit of this and will bless the mother who with common sense was not overindulgent, overburdening herself with work, but who early taught them, while her guiding hand was strong, though gentle, the lessons which are so difficult to learn later.

I do not think there is a woman living who ever regrets these early lessons, nor one who is not thoroughly grateful for her apprenticeship at housework, even though at the time it may have seemed hard and often laborious, but like anything else thoroughly learned it will stand in good stead for the remainder of life. Even though later on one has no need to perform the work of the household it is a gratifying thought that one is able personally and properly to direct the servants. If women generally were better housekeepers I think we would not hear so much of incompetent servants — but that is touching perilously near a much mooted question and a little too far from the dear children whom I wish to have grow up good and noble men and women, filling their proper places in this world, the better for any lessons they may have learned, even though they be along homely lines.—Anne L. Gorman, in American Home Monthly.

CAN MANNERS BE ACQUIRED.

England is discussing the question, "Can charming manners be taught?" Most mothers hold, consciously or unconsciously, one of two theories [illegible] acquirement of manners by one mother says, 'Manners are only the outward sign of the inner nature. If my daughter has a kind heart and a well-trained mind she will behave in a gentle, charming fashion. I will teach her compassion, respect for age, unselfish zeal for helping with the world's work. Her manners will take care of themselves."

Another mother says, "My girls will never get on without conventional manners. They shall be taught from babyhood to emulate the speech and bearing of ladies. They shall be instructed in the proper behavior for every occasion. They shall walk and dance and write and speak with graceful perfection."

Neither method produces altogether satisfactory results.

Unselfishness is truly the foundation of good manners, but not the superstructure. Many conventional restrictions have grown about social relations. Some can be explained by the demand of kindness and some cannot. Could a child infer from his desire to help others that he should not eat with his knife? Many offences against good taste interfere in some way with the rights of others, but many others do not.

Still, no set of rules to produce a polished lady will achieve a result fit for the strain of life. The manners of the French boarding school may adorn the ballroom, but are too likely to fail at the breakfast table or in the crowded car. The woman of perfect manners must reinforce her unselfishness by social rules, and conventionality must be vitalized by the warm desire for others' pleasure. The best of life never "comes naturally," whether in manners or morals.

The secret of charming manners is the desire for them. When the mother wishes them for her daughter as much as she wishes the other goods of the world, her daughter will have them.—Youth's Companion.

On many hats bunches of waving grasses take the place of aigrettes.

Some of the prettiest parasols are of white linen with fancy colored borders.

That lovely shade of linen known as colonial buff will be very smart this season.

Exquisitely tinted Irish dimities will be used for the simplest little lingerie waists.

Wings are a feature of the early spring walking hats considered both sensible and chic.

Any little old bit of dingy Oriental brocade is turned into a warp, with wide kimona sleeves.

Another millinery fancy is to arrange ribbon loops to dangle down over the hair in back.

White stockings with huge black polka dots are the latest startlers. Others have huge pear-shaped broche patterns.

Waistcoats are giddily and glaringly embroidered in gold threads and colors. A block away they attract attention.

Silver belts have come back into favor, so if you have one and have not been wearing it of late by all means bring it out and exploit it, for filigree and open-work girdles are decidedly the thing.

A charming little wrap was made of a white crepe embroidered shawl, edged with deep fringe. It is drawn down on the shoulders in kimonalike sleeves, and knotted across the front with heavy silk cords and fringed tassels.

A new idea in feather fans has been recently introduced. The feathers may be coque's feathers, pheasants, birds of gayer plumage, or the quiet pigeon, and the sticks tortoise shell. When the fan is closed the head of the bird ornaments the first stick, and when open it is on one side. Those who like such a use of birds consider this a charming effect.

Kaiser William a Matchmaker.

One day the Kaiser was walking in civilian dress when he was recognized by a corporal. The Emperor, noticing that the man's face wore a troubled expression, questioned him. For some time the corporal hesitated to reply, but at last confessed that he was in love with the daughter of his sergeant major, but the marriage was impossible since the girl's father-in-law would have none less than a sergeant as a son-in-law.

"Do you really love the girl?" in[illegible] "With all my [illegible] in full swing, there was [illegible] up the aisle.

It was two of the Field boys, carrying the lost rat-trap. They gravely set it down before the pulpit. One of them said, simply, "Father, here's you rat-trap." Then they turned and went out.—Youth's Companion.

Her Share and His.

"This proposition," said Rudolph Boker, of Indianapolis, during a shareholders' meeting, "reminds me of one that a wife made to her husband the other day.

"'James,' she began, 'you know how I have been scraping and saving all the year for my Easter costume?'

"'Yes,' said the man, 'I know.'

"'Well,' she went on, 'I've decided on it now. It is an Empire gown of pale green broadcloth and it is to cost $150. I want to ask you to help me a little.'

"'How much do you need?' the husband inquired.

"'I've got all but $150,' she replied."—Washington Star.

One of the Important Duties of Phy[illegible] the Well-Informed of the W[illegible] is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the [illegible] ers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the [illegible] the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by [illegible] known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the C[illegible] Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and th[illegible] its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and com[illegible] is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, t[illegible] Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essenti[illegible] cess and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attent[illegible] enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves [illegible] living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of wha[illegible] of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may [illegible] to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to [illegible] as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invalu[illegible] proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike in[illegible] truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative reme[illegible] the appoval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well[illegible] of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original me[illegible] ture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known unde[illegible] Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the mo[illegible] family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Se[illegible] known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the b[illegible] laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs [illegible] Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it [illegible] called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its benefici[illegible] note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company — California F[illegible] plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call [illegible] Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syr[illegible] Elixir of Senna — is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name — Syrup of Figs — which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

San Francisco, Cal.
Louisville, Ky. U. S. A. New York, N. Y.
London, England.

PUTNAM FADELESS D[illegible]

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c. package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than [illegible] dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., [illegible]

No, Cordelia, a married woman isn't necessarily up-to-date because her husband happens to be the latest thing out.

A girl calls falling in love with a married man almost as romantic as being engaged to two other men at the same time.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

It's an undisputed fact that some men do not have any more sense when they get married than they did when they were born.

Most women are proud of their ability to humble a man's pride.

FITS, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Diseases permanently cured by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. $2 trial bottle and treatise free. Dr. H. R. Kline, Ld., 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Silence is golden, but very few of us are burdened with gold.

The inducements to adopt Nature's perfect Laxative, Garfield Tea, are many! It is made wholly of simple Herbs and is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Law; it overcomes constipation, regulates the liver and kidneys, purifies the blood and brings Good Health.

A pretty girl's cheek goes for more than its face value.

BABY'S ECZEMA GREW WORSE.

Hospitals and Doctors Could Not Relieve Disease—Cuticura Remedies a Speedy, Permanent Cure.

"Eczema appeared when our baby was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different every time, but nothing brought relief. At last, one of our friends recommended to us Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is six months old and is quite cured. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. C. F. Kara, 343 East 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1906."

Itch cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Never fails. At druggists.

It is easier for some people to be poor than honest.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful habit-forming drugs and no alcohol. Use pure, triple-refined glycerine instead. Glycerine is [illegible]tionable and besides is [illegible] in the cure of all stomach, bronchial, throat and lung [illegible] is the highest medical [illegible] use in all such cases. [illegible] a concentrated glyceric [illegible] medicinal roots and is [illegible]

A booklet of extracts [illegible] medical authorities, endor[illegible] dients mailed free on req[illegible] Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N[illegible]

Flowers Mailed To Grave.

"I had a queer job yesterday," said a letter-carrier, as he warmed his cold, blue hands. "I delivered a wreath to a grave."

"It was a small wreath of immortelles in a pasteboard box. The address was: 'Grave of James Love, Woodlawn Cemetery, First Lot to Right of Smith Monument.'

"Thousands of times I had passed that cemetery on my rounds, but I never thought to make a delivery to one of the tombs.

"Going in, I found the Love grave easily. I brushed the snow off the mound with my bag and, taking the wreath from its box, I laid it on the bright green grass.

"I consider that the strangest experience of my 14 years' service."—Minneapolis Journal.

A fruit tree in the back yard is worth two family trees in a glass case.

Hungarian Partridges

After distributing sev[illegible] pairs of English pheasan[illegible] the State last fall, State [illegible] Game Warden Del Travis [illegible] stocking the State with Hun[illegible] partridges. It is thought t[illegible] Hungarian parridges will prov[illegible] successful in Kansas than th[illegible]lish pheasants. The partrid[illegible] being imported directly fro[illegible]gary, where the seasons are [illegible]vere as they ever are in th[illegible] They are good game birds [illegible]

The Hungarian partridges [illegible] resemble the native quail, [illegible] somewhat larger birds. The [illegible]age is not as bright as tha[illegible] quail. The hens lay abo[illegible] every spring, which they [illegible] If the season is long and [illegible] will hatch two broods [illegible] same as quail.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the great woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots an[illegible]

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Comp[illegible]

It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, [illegible] Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and [illegible] Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female sysem. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

Potash is the connecting link between the soil and heavy crops.

The most important plant food for vegetable growth is

POTASH

"Truck Farming" is a valuable pamphlet written by eminent men of scientific training and national reputation. We mail it free to farmers who write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS
93 Nassau Street, New York

THE DAISY FLY KILLER destroys all the flies and affords comfort to every house—in dining room, sleeping room and all places where flies are troublesome. Clean, neat, and will not soil or injure anything. Try them once and you will never be without them. If not kept by dealers, sent prepaid for 25c.
HAROLD SOMERS. 145 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

STANDARD OF THE SO[illegible]
SNOWD[illegible]

Are You Rupt[illegible]
[illegible]ay not have it Cured? Send [illegible]
[illegible]etal, with your [illegible]