

with me a portion of the time, on Easter Monday I was in a company of twenty two young ladies and gentlemen - quite a large company and all seemed to enjoy themselves very much. was invited to join the same circle on the following Wednesday but ~~that~~^{it} was not in my power to accept the invitation On Thursday I was invited to a large dancing party. I declined that also. So you see my pleasures have been many and had it been so I could have remained longer in that neighborhood, my time would have been very pleasantly passed. Yet I enjoyed myself where I was equally as much. but in a more quiet way. On Thursday I paid a visit to Mr Cousin Mr. Ned Webb. found all his family well, and had really a nice time, he is a widower with 3 children - two boys and a girl. I do have really a nice time when I visit him, he lost his wife during the War. he loves to talk about ladies but never visits any except on business. I don't however expect this is interesting to you, so I must try and find a more interesting subject.

I thought of you on Thursday & Friday last when it was so very warm, thinking if it continued, the great pleasure you would have during your early morning walks, but at the coming of Saturday I saw all the pleasure I had pictured for you if it had continued warm, cast away. by a real winters day. Sunday too, were they not disagreeable. I think Sunday was as long a day as I ever spent. I did make an attempt to write to you but the collection of my ideas ~~was~~ were inclined to be low spirit ed, and that was not the kind of letter I wished to write so I put it a side, and this is the first favorable time I've had since. All the boys have returned from their walk and its an impossibility to write when they are here, so I must say good bye until to morrow.

I hate to write about nothing but my self, yet that is all I've done in this. I am really sorry I have not been able to collect more interesting news, but I feel sure you will take the will for the deed this time and for the future I will try and be more entertaining.

Have we not had disagreeable weather during the last few days, and today its misty almost equal to a rain.

but not as cold as it has been. I suppose we will have this kind of weather until the snow changes.

Then Spring with all its beauty will enshroud our old state. I think the Season of Spring is more pleasant than either season of the year.
