

You will not. You are More blessed than I or many others are in that respect. I feel my loss such as I live.
Yet I'm sure God does all things for the best, but one can hardly keep from having these misgivings at times.
I will now leave this subject and try and answer the remainder of your letter.

Was very sorry to see that Miss Sallie I. was so very sick at the time you wrote. Hope ere this reaches its destination she may be better.
Remember me kindly to both she and her mother. Also to Ned. am sorry he has been so selfish with his company since my visit.

Sir sure the excursion you spoke of. must have been a very pleasant one. - would love very much to have formed some of the party. - for I'm quite sure, I would have enjoyed myself a great deal.
It was quite cool here on Sunday last so much so that I found it quite comfortable sitting by a fire
