GENTLEMEN,

HAVING been solicited by a number of my friends to stand a candidate for the SHERIFF'S OFFICE the ensuing election, I take this method to inform you that I shall comply with their request, if life and health permits; and should have made it known before, had not a bad state of health prevented me. There is one thing I wish the public to be acquainted with, that is, I shall flatter no man for his vote, with the great deal that I will do for him—I will promise this, to perform the duties, and that with candidity, so as not to injure myself; and those that wants an officer that will not do his duty, will please to leave my name out of their ticket.

I am the public's humble servant,

TH: JEFFERSON.

In consequence of frequent applications of the members of the House of Representatives of the state of Massachusetts for leave of absence, the House ordered on the 12th ult. that any person who wished for leave of absence should leave his name and the name of the town he represents, with the clerk of the house, together with his reasons, and that the name being read from the Chair with the reasons assigned, the House would act on such applications at a certain hour each day. A member from the town of Fayette, left the following note with the Clerk, which was read and he obtained leave of absence almost unanimously.

"SOLOMON BATES, jr. the member from Fayette, requests leave of absence after Monday next. The reasons he offers are these, that he left his business at home with his boys, the oldest of whom is a Royalist in principle and the younger ones not being altogether willing to be subject to such a government, he has reason to fear that his family, in a measure may become disorganized, and therefore thinks it his duty to be with them as soon as may be."
