William Potter,	45	174	95—	314
John Mitchell,	41	142	80—	263

Lowest Rep. maj. 249.

From the large number of votes taken in Caroline, and so decided an ascendancy over the two most popular federalists in the county, the republicans have done honor to themselves and the cause they espouse.

For Queen Ann's County—William Chambers, James Butcher.

For Kent County—James Scott, Dr. John Maxwell.

For Dorchester County—Joseph Ennalls, John Smoot.

City of Annapolis—Benjamin Ogle.

Anna-Arundel County—John Johnson, Lloyd Dorsey.

Calvert County—Dr. Joseph Ireland, Gen. J. Wilkinson.

City of Baltimore—Alexander M'Kim.

Baltimore County—Moses Brown, T. E. Stansbury.

Prince George's County—Walter Bowie, Edward Calvert.

Baltimore, September 3.

The Patriot, a 74 gun ship, belonging to the squadron in which Jerome Bonaparte has a command, anchored off Annapolis yesterday morning, after encountering the violence of the late storm, which obliged her to visit the Chesapeake.

Several of her officers arrived in this city last evening. We learn she is under the command of Captain Commandant Krohm, a member of the legion of honor.

It was stated yesterday that Jerome Bonaparte had arrived here; but the result of our enquiry will not permit us to believe it.

Rumor, ever prolific, during the whole of yesterday, resounded something new, in every quarter of our city, about his squadron, which has said to be in the bay. We sought to obtain information on the subject, but we could not find any on which to rely.

A letter from New York, dated Monday last, says—"By the papers of to day you will be led to believe that peace was at hand on the 8th of July; the captain of the Minerva, however says, that when he left Plymouth, which was on the 13th or 14th of July, all prospects of it had vanished. He gave his Plymouth papers of these dates to the captain of a British man of war."

We learn, that commodore Prebble has received orders from the secretary of the navy, to commence the building of eight gun boats, which are to be launched by the last of November next.—Five of which will be built at Portland, and three at Brunswick. Sal. Gaz.

Captain Heron of the ship Minerva, from London, was informed by the American consul, that Mr. Pinkney had met with a favorable reception at the court of St. James's and that our differences were likely to be amicably adjusted.

The schooner Recovery, of and for this port, from the West-Indies, having put into Delaware bay for a harbor on the 23d, was discovered a wreck upon Howard Shoals on the 25th, by a Philadelphia pilot. She had taken a pilot on board named Francis Edwards, who, with the whole of the crew, it is feared, have perished.

It has been remarked that the English take one in ten of the American vessels. Whether it be fact or not, it has been asked, whether that be more than a just compensation to them for keeping the world in war, with injury to their own trade, and advantage to the Americans? Salem Reg.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The following gentlemen have been re-elected representatives in the ensuing Congress.

Nathaniel Macon.
James Holland,
Evan Alexander,
Richard Stanford,
Willis Alston,
William Blackledge,
Thomas Kenan.

LONDON, July 13.

We have Paris papers to the 7th, and Dutch to the 10th instant. Mr. D'Oubril has at last arrived in France; he reached Strasburgh on the 29th ult.—Hopes seem to have been entertained that the object of his mission was not merely an exchange of prisoners, but that it would embrace subjects of high consideration. Previous to his quitting Vienna, on the 23d June, he had received dispatches from St. Petersburgh. The expectations of peace, accordingly were very sanguine at Paris, where the funds rose considerably. The 5 per cents were on the 5th instant, at 66, 60, being a rise of 2 per cent. in two days; and the Bank Stock, in the same time, rose from 1145 so 1155. The fluctuations in this last fund, as we are informed, afford the best criterion for ascertaining the extent of the public confidence.

July 15.

Another Cabinet Council was held yesterday, on the subject of the last dispatches from Paris, soon after which, we understand, Mr. Basillico was again sent off express to that city. Nothing respecting the nature of the supposed difficulties in the way of the negociation has transpired. With such guarded secrecy is this important correspondence conducted by the Foreign Office, that Mr. Fox, we are assured, not only writes the original dispatches, but transcribes the copies of them himself. Mr. Basillico is expected to return by Monday next.

The continued and frequent intercourse with France would seem to justify in some measure the sanguine expectations which are so generally entertained of an immediate negociation for peace. We wish we were enabled to add any thing to countenance this hope; but the sources of our information lead us to warn the public against being the victim of their wishes or credulity in this respect. We can state with some degree of confidence, that little reliance is to be placed upon the present rapid interchange of communication with the Government of France. If a peace of honour and security be at all attainable, the present Administration, we are persuaded, possess both the ability and inclination to conclude it; but they will not surrender the smallest point of national honour, pride, or pre-eminence, to obtain it.

MR. FOX.

There is little hope we understand, that Mr. Fox will ever again make his appearance in St. Stephen's Chapel.—The authority upon which we state this, and we do it with sincere and profound regret, is too good to allow us to entertain any doubt of the information.—Mr. Fox is not worse, but his disorder is of that nature to preclude any prospect of his being able to encounter the fatigues of his Parliamentary duty.—His illness is not confined to one complaint, but consists in a complication of disorders which have produced a very alarming effect upon his constitution.

This disorder under which Mr. Fox is now afflicted, is pronounced to be a confirmed dropsy, and considerable apprehension are entertained for his safety.

The Hon. Mr. Erskin, is to set off for America immediately, as Minister from this country.

Lord Caledon goes out governor of the Cape of Good Hope. Mr. Bernard accompanies him as Chief Secretary.

MIRANDA.

Capt. Fitch, of the brig Three Brothers, arrived at Baltimore, in seventeen days from Point Petre, Gaudaloupe, on the 27th. ult. about 33 leagues SE. from Cape Henry, spoke the schr. Alert, Lucket, from Curracoa, bound to Alexandria: left there the 10th. Capt. Lucket informed that he saw a letter from a gentleman on the Spanish Main, to his friend in Curracoa, stating there were 15 sail of vessels lying in Coro Bay, among which were two frigates, five schooners and brigs, but they could not learn whether they were English or not; they had got possession of Coro Port.—Some time previous to his sailing the communication with Carracoa and the Main was stopped.

Messrs, Lang and Turner, editors of the New-York Gazette, have had the misfortune of having their office and printing materials destroyed by fire.—This accident will occasion the suspension of their useful paper for a few days.

The fire broke out about 11 o'clock on Sunday night in the counting house back of the office, where a lighted candle had been left, which it is supposed communicated to some loose paper laying about the desk.—The flames had obtained such an ascendancy before the alarm, that no opportunity remained to save any of the property in the house, and it was with great exertion that the fire was prevented from extending to the adjoining house. N. Y. D. Adv.

Capt. Bockins, of the brig Experiment who arrived at the Lazaretto from Havanna, informs, that he took five men from off the wreck of the schr. Comfort from Norfolk for Charleston, and that 21 souls perished.

Advertisements omitted shall appear on Tuesday.

THE FEDERLISTS.

A period of more than five years has now elapsed since the leaders of this party, were compelled by the indignant voice of a much injured & insulted people, to abandon the helm of state. They, however, flattered themselves with soon regaining their lost authority and influence—To effect which it was considered necessary to destroy the popularity of their successors, and particularly that of the President. A number of mercenary Editors were employed to "write down the administration," and the American character has been disgraced by the vile and infamous calumnies which have issued from thase Jacobine presses. The virtuous and enlightened parts of our citizens, however, saw with indignation, these base attempts to injure the character of their virtuous and patriotic chief magistrate; and at the late Presidential election he was re-elected by the almost unanimous voice of the nation. Persuaded, from this strong proof of public opinion, that neither calumny nor misrepresentation, would produce the effect which they expected, they have found it necessary to change their mode of attack—The most insidious arts that can possibly be imagined have been practised to foment division among the republicans—Unfortunately these vile machinations have been too succesful. By availing themseves of the schism among the republicons in Pennsylvania, they have gained an ascendancy in the councils of that state, to which their numbers by no means entitle them.

It is to be regreted, that for some time past, the Republicans appear to have been lulled into a fatal security.—They have not sufficiently estimated either the numbers or the resources of their political opponents. They have not reflected that the federal party are still numerous, and that they are closely united, and act on all occasions like a machine which can be put in motion, and stop'd again, by a single person. They have not reflected that this party have at their disposal more than one half of the presses in the United States. In a word they have not reflected, that this party have many other powerful engines to promote their views, such as most of the banks, and all the agents of British merchants of this country—These considerations ought to shew the necessity of still viewing the federalists as opponents worthy of republican vigilance and jealousy.

Republicans—Your camp is still surrouded by implicable and irreconcilable enemies. They have long since rejected the olive branch, and dashed the cup of reconciliation from their lips.—Many of them have been retained in office, but even among these are to be found venemous vipers, who are ready to sting to death, those by whom they are fostered—The fact is, that this Junto have sworn eternal hatred, to the President, and to every other person, who like him has uniformly adhered to the severe maxims of democracy. With certain characters they will no doubt unite, I mean with traitors and apostates—with these honorable gentlemen, they are willing to form "an union of all honest men"—but view their conduct towards firm and decided republicans, and it must convince every candid person that they have no desire to harmonise with the friends of the administration—The die is therefore cast, and it is to be hoped that the republicans will never make any further overtures to their implacable faction, but that they will in future, act with a degree of firmness and decision worthy of the glorious cause for which they so nobly contended.

FRANKLIN.

NEW-YORK, SEPT. 1.

Letters from Halifax, received from very respectable gentlemen, state, that capt. Whitby was put under arrest, and sent home as passenger, in the ship Leander, of which he (capt. W.) formerly had the command—Capt. Whitby, we understand, is sent to England, to account to the British government for his conduct on the American station, and the depredations he committed of Sandy Hook.

German Prophecy—A Hungarian sooothsayer has obtained some celebrity on the continent by certain prophetic effusions, in which he has followed up Bonoparte as closely as ever Partridge, the almanacmaker, did the Whore of Babylon, till at length he has actually dated the final termination of his earthly career, and that of his dynasty, which he has fixed for the Christmas of 1808—His death is to take place in the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem!—This prophet boasts of having foretold the French revolution, as well as many subsequent events attending it, and among others that of the assumption of the Imperial dignity by Napoleon, whom be calls Appollyon.

We understand there was on board the ship Rose-in-Bloom, at the time she upset, upwards of 130,000 dollars in specie and Bank Bills, belonging chiefly to the passengers. There is room to hope that the greater part will be recovered, as a Philadelphia pilot boat was making for the wreck when captain Phelan, who took off the passengers, left it-

MARRIED—On Sunday the 24th ult. by the Rev. Joseph Jackson, Mr. George Rage, to Miss Margaret Abbott, of Talbot county.

Also, on the 28th, by the same, Mr. Thomas Bullen, to Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, in the same county.

To the Voters of Talbot County.

MY FELLOW-CITIZENS,

AS it appears to be customary with those who are candidates for your suffrages, to address you through the medium of the press; I beg leave, plainly to inform you, that I am desirous of being elected one of your Delegates to the next General Assembly. Ever since I first declared my intention of being a candidate, it has been doubtful whether any of the old members would again come forward; and, indeed, it has been generally understood that they would not serve in the next Legislature. Under those circumstances, I have flattered myself that I was at least entitled to a share in the confidence of the republicans with some others, who certainly cannot claim the credit of a more steadfast adherence to republican principles than myself. I know some men who, at a time when political parties in this county were equally balanced, were sufficiently desirous to cherish in me those principles which I had early imbibed, and were disposed to set some little value upon my feeble support: nay, even my vote was not unacceptable. True it is, I honestly entertained a preference of republican principles, and have uniformly supported the election of such men as I believed to be faithful to them. But, perhaps the time is now arrived, when it is no longer necessary or advantageous to those, who consider themselves leading characters, to promote the election of a uniform and steadfast republican. These observations are, I hope, plain enough to be understood: I shall now conclude, with assuring you, my fellow-citizens, that if you will honor me with your confidence and elect me to represent you, I will use every exertion in my power to perform my duty in such a manner as to promote your interests.

WILLIAM S. BISHOP.
