Sunday 23rd

Rainy weather & light winds nothing remarkable happened saw large schools of Albatrosses & 1 finback to windward towards night saw schools of porpoises but couldn't catch any. nothing new

Lat 4°56' Long 24.17. W

Monday Sep 24

Light winds & Rainy weather Nothing remarkable Dont know as we shall ever get to the Line But know we shant at this rate. However we will hope for the best and take things as they come as we cant help it

Lat 4°10' S Long 24°20" W

Tuesday - Sep 25

Light winds & rains much the same as the preceding day caught a great deal of water and have now nearly as much as when we started. Nothing worth mentioning happened

Lat Long No Lat nor Long

Wednesday Rainy weather 26 and light winds Saw an English Bark and sent some Letters by her. In the afternoon saw a Brig & Ship bearing away from us heading north too far off to speak

Lat 3°48" Long 24 15 W

Thursday - 27th - Sep

Fair weather & good winds Saw four Sail of vessels this day nothing remarkable happened that I can think of.

Lat 3.12 Long 24.50 W

Friday - 28th

Fair weather & good winds fell in with the U.S. Trades this day and plenty of them hope they will last us to Cape Horn but that would be too favourable to happen

Lat 1.33 N Long 26.07 W

Saturday 29th of September 1849

Fine weather and fair winds and plenty of them at that God grant they may continue so for a month at least if no longer shall soon be across the Line & then we can talk about Cape Horn

Lat 0.13 Long 27.11 W

Sunday 30 of Sept. & last day

Seven weeks out and but just across the Line crossed it yesterday, and much to the downeasters discomfiture did not see it. we told them because it was thick and hazy. one of them lost his hat as a tribute to old Neptune. Saw a Sail

Lat 1°.3'18" Long 28°29" W

Monday 1st day of October

Thank God we can now talk of Cape Horn without injuring our Cause we have got the trades strong and fair, although we cant carry a Studding sail yet, but hope to soon, when we do, with this wind will bowl along at the rate of 10 knots - But now mainsail topsail

Lat 3°17" Long 29°.7"

Tuesday

Fine weather and good winds. and we begin to see the difference between an old threadbare topsail and a new heavy cotton canvass one. the outside of our new boat is now done and all the bucks is oiling inside. When that is finished it will be one of the sight which Mr. Browne expect to have made this voyage. I guess he will get specks in his eyes, We did some fault found with the provisions to day, we all think they are not good enough, so we spoke to the "Captain" about them, and he after considerable blustering about his consequence, said if there were any better in the ship we should have them if he had to break out ~~stock~~ to the bilge for them, we will see if he is as good as his word

Lat 5°27" Long 30°.57"