

Miss Ganties with her. Call on them Saturday. We were up to Mrs Davis last evening - the Count I escorted home. She says she got quite sick from hearing him talk. He told her that the Charming Jennie, has been sick. Do not you sympathize with her?

Indeed the weather has been intolerable - but is not this a glorious morning?

I found no difficulty in deciphering your note, will not need help to translate as the words were perfectly intelligible.

I fear you will not be able to say as much for this. I am writing with a pencil because hurried -

Losey has just told me that Mr.
Mc. goes down at 9 o'clock - it is nearly that now - so I must hasten.

We will be glad to see
