APOLLO'S LOUNT.

LOVE OF COUNTRY.

"Hearts of tempered steel."

COME all ye hearts of tempered steel,
Come quit your girls and farms,
Your sports, your plays, your hollidays,
And hasten to your arms;
For a soldier is a gentleman,
His honor is his life,
And he that won't stand to his post,
Will ne'er stand by his wife.

CHORUS.

Will ne'er stand by his wife.
And he that wont stand to his post,
Will ne'er stand by his wife.

Since love and honor are the same,
Or are so near ally'd,
That neither can exist alone,
But flourish side by side;
Then farewell sweet-hearts for awhile,
Ye pretty girls, adieu,
And when we've drove the British dogs,
We'll come and stay with you.

CHORUS.

We'll come and stay with you.

In shady tents, by purling streams,
With hearts both firm and free,
We'll chase the cares of life away,
With songs of Liberty;
No foreign power shall make us slaves,
No British tyrants reign,
'Twas independence made us free,
And freedom we'll maintain.

CHORUS.

And freedom we'll maintain.

We'll charge the foe from post to post,
Attack their walls and lines,
And by some wiles and stratagems,
We'll make them all Burgoins.
And when the war is over, boys,
We'll set us down at ease, (mow,
We'll plow, we'll sow, we'll reap, we'll
And do just as we please.

CHORUS.

And do just as we please.

Then the rising world shall sing of us,
Three thousand years to come,
And children to their children tell,
What wonders we have done.
Then honest fellows here's my hand,
My very heart and soul.
Of all the joys of Liberty,
Good Fortune and the Bowl.

CHORUS.

Good Fortune and the Bowl,
Of all the joys of Liberty,
A good Wife and the Bowl.

Another time will do as well.

Yes, yes; but are you sure that any other time will? or if it should, are you certain you can attend to it? if I hear a man say frequently, any other time will do as well, I set them down on my list, the one as slack, slovenly, the other a careless slip-shod hussey.

Call on such a man to settle his accounts—"O, I can't attend to it now," says the man, it will do as well any other time." Call again—O I am busy—it will do as well to-morrow, or any other time. Call a third and fourth time; but he is never ready. The account stands unsettled—it increases from year to year—at length Death, that sturdy tyrant, trips up his heels, and lays him flat on his back—his accounts unsettled—his administrator has work enough on his hands—for a man who will settle his accounts at any other time, will generally make his charges in the same way—he does not set down every article at the time of purchase or sale—he trusts to memory—he can remember the article and charge it any other time—he forgets—makes mistakes—his books are irregularly kept—they are disputed—his administrator has no proof but the books—and other people are alive to swear to their account or produce other evidence—then begins lawsuit—and when law opens the door of litigation, poverty follows up close and enters with it. Juries and arbitrators decide these disputes upon vague uncertain evidence—and somebody suffers the loss. So much for this any other time.

But suppose a man live long, as the worst men generally live the longest—who he plagues every one that has any dealing with him—yes, and is eternally haunted himself.

I have heard it said, that take care of the farthings, the pounds will take care of themselves. Now a word upon this, if you please. Take special care of little shilling accounts—they are like the old serpent who deceived Eve, sly, insinuating, tempting things. "How much does it cost?" is the question, whenever an article is to be purchased. A shilling is the answer. Oh, then get it by all means; a shilling is a trifle. It is so, but "sands form the mountain." Look to that I say. The whole evil is, that this shilling is a trifle—A dollar! that is no trifle—I can't afford a dollar—very well—a dollar consists only of the small number of six shillings, and when six of these little trifles, these Lilliputian shillings are gone—a dollar, that gigantic part of a man's estate, is gone.

Now then in order to baffle the temptations of pending shillings—settle your accounts often—once a year at least—for otherwise they will swell into an unmanagable size. Suppose four neighbors take a newspaper in partnership—this makes expense a trifle—Very good—this is laudable—it is economical.—But suppose you do not pay this trifle—How are the printers and post riders and paper makers to live? Look ye, my friends—Connecticut river is a large river—but this river is made up of little springs that would run through a gimblet hole. When you walk about your fields, or traverse the woods, you step over little brooks, and gurghing rills, and never think that you are stepping over Connecticut river. But remember, if all these litile rills dry up, Connecticut river is gone. Just so it is with Printers, with Merchants, and with the state treasury. Every shilling is a little rill—a small stream that runs into the post rider's pocket, of the collectors purse—a number of those little streams, thus united, make a large stream, like Parmington and Chickabee rivers—these streams empty into the printing-office or treasury, where they form Connecticut river, and keep the business going on. Now follow nature—little rills run perpetually. They murmur too, but they run, or the river dries up—They never stop and say; any other time will do as well.

Public sale.

That part of the lands of Mr. John Turner, heretofore advertised, not being sold, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on Wednesday the 23d day of December next, on the premises, other parts of the said lands, viz.

THAT valuable portion thereof, on which the dwelling house and other improvements are situated, containing 219 acres and an half of arable land, and 50 acres of excellent timbered land, handsomely and advantageously bounded; also 20 acres of fine meadow, and 10 acres of woodland, situated very near to the above described Farm, to which ways will be respectively laid off. These parcels of land, taken together, will afford to a purchaser every advantage which can be desired from a compleat farming establishment: They are therefore laid off and to be sold as one Lot.

On the same day, will also be offered for sale, that well known Mill and Mill-Seat adjoining the above described Farm. Thirty-one acres (clear of the Mill Pond,) consisting chiefly of wood land and meadow, are laid off for this lot. There are about three acres of upland immediately contiguous to the mill, which will afford a handsome situation for a dwelling house.

It is presumed that any person desirous of becoming a purchaser, will first view this property. The subscriber will dispose of it at private sale, if terms are offered which he can accept. The terms of the public sale will be, that the purchaser shall pay one third of the purchase money on the day of sale, one other third within six months, and the residue within fifteen months thereafter, giving bond with good security. The subscriber will also dispose of by private sale, three Young Negro Girls, of ages between eleven and fourteen years.

JOHN L. KERR, Trustee
for John Turner.

In Chancery, Nov. 23, 1807.

William Marshall vs. Alexander M'Intire, AND John M'Intire.

THE object of the Bill is to obtain a Decree for the sale of the equitable interest which Paul M'Intire had in a Tract of Land, situate in Dorchester county. The bill states, that Paul M'Intire died intestate, not leaving personal estate sufficient for the payment of his debts. That he held the said tract of land, situate in Dorchester county, under a bond for the conveyance of the same, from a certain Doctor John Murray—That the equitable interest which he thus had in this tract of land, has descended to Alexander M'Intire, and John M'Intire, his two brothers, his heirs at law, who both live out of the state.

It is thereupon, on the motion of the complainant, adjudged and ordered, that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted three weeks before the first day of January next, in a news-paper printed at Easton, to the end that the said Alexander and John M'Intire may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in person, or by a solicitor, in this court, on or before the first Monday in May next, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.

True copy.

MARGARET GRESHAM, Adm'rx
with the will annexed, of R. M. Gresham

The subscriber

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and old customers, that he intends opening a TAVERN, in Snow-Hill, in the house where he now lives, at the sign of General Washington, on the first day of January, 1808. He hopes that from the great expence he has been at in building and finishing such a commodious house, and having the best stables and carriage-houses in the place, and having been long in the business, he flatters himself that if his old customers will return to him, they may depend of having the same treatment they usually have had; the convenience of the house will render them comfortable, and the greatest attention will be paid to gentlemen and their horses—and their favours will be gratefully acknowledged, by their most obedient servant,

JOHN CUTLER.

Snow-Hill, Md. December 1, 1807. 11

Notice.

FROM having to pay considerable sums of money as security in several instances, I am under the disagreeable necessity of giving notice that I intend to petition the Judges of Talbot county court, or some one of them, after two months from this date, for the benefit of the acts of insolvency passed by the Legislature of Maryland.

JOHN WALTERS.

October 13, 1807. 10q

Notice is hereby given,

THAT the subscriber intends to make application to the Judges of Somerset County Court, or some one of them, at the expiration of two months from the date hereof, for the benefit of the existing insolvent law of the state of Maryland.

JOHN KEMP.

Somerset county, Oct. 27, 1807. 8

Notice.

I INTEND to petition to the Judges of Queen Ann's County Court, or some one of them, at next May Term, for the benefit of an act of assembly, passed at November session, eighteen hundred and five, entitled, an "Act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors," and of the supplement thereto, to release me from debts which I am unable to pay.

WM. RINGGOLD.

Wye River, Dec. 1, 1807. 8

Twenty-five cents reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, living at George Town Cross Roads, the 18th ult. an apprentice boy named William Daley, upwards of twenty years of age—Had on when he went away, a blue cloth jacket and trowsers, President cord vest, and furr hat. Whoever apprehends said boy, shall be entitled to the above reward, but no charges paid.

November 17, 1807. 3q

Ten dollars reward.

BROKE jail, on Friday the 20th ultimo, in Centreville, Queen Ann's county, Thomas Parvis, a citizen of said county, who was confined at the instance of the state of Maryland, for debt—The said Parvis is about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, of a light complexion, about 25 or 30 years old. Any person who will take up said Parvis, and deliver him at the jail in Centreville, shall receive the above reward, from

PHIL. C. BLAKE, Shff.
of Queen Ann's county.

December 1, 1807. 3

500 dollars reward.

BROKE Jail in August, 1806, in Snow Hill, Worcester County, JOHN WORRILOW, who was committed on a charge for burglary, or house breaking, and has been seen several times in the county since, and also in the City of Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk, and Richmond, and has threatened the lives of several persons in the county. It is supposed to be the same person that shot JUDGE ROBINS, near Denton, in Caroline county, in consequence of his having been active in apprehending him, for the above charge.

John Worrilow is about five feet five or six inches high, aged about twenty-five years, of light complexion and slender make; is somewhat marked with the small pox; has a little lisp in his speech; has lost a small piece off the end of one of his fingers; has round shoulders, and walks with long and irregular steps; is also very talkative.

He is a blacksmith by trade, and when travelling about the country, frequently makes application to labour as a journeyman for a short time. He has sometimes passed by the name of JOHN RIGGIN. Whoever shall take up the said John Worrilow, bring him to Snow Hill, and deliver him to me, shall receive the above reward.

ROBERT NAIRNE, late Sheriff.

☞ The Printers in this, and the adjoining states will render a service to society, by inserting the above in their respective papers a few times.

60 dollars reward,

WILL be given for taking up, and securing in jail, if taken out of this state; and 40 dollars if taken in this state, a negro man named CASSEL; and reasonable charges paid in addition if delivered to the subscriber. He was lately the property of Mr. John Turner, of the upper part of this county, and is now probably skulking in his neighbourhood. Cassel is 26 or 27 years of age; about six feet tall, not fleshy, but tolerably stout about the shoulders, and has a little stoop in them—His colour a dark brown—his face and features small—his teeth small, and when you are speaking to him, he is apt to open his mouth without showing them but very little; his legs a little bow'd.—He is a handy fellow, & has a turn to the use of rough carpenter's tools. He absconded on the 6th of this month, and took with him some good clothing, principally of home made light colored kersey.
