

hand, and I intended to go to the Schützen to night, although I can not drink anything strong - having made a promise to abstain from everything of the kind.

I'll just be sure to call on me when he comes to Baltimore.

Give my regards to Mrs. Keiser and May. My kindest kind to your Mother and Father and all at home, and tell Mart. I wish he had better write to me in good time if he values his health and future welfare. Hoping to hear from you soon, I will bid you good morning by remaining as ever

Yours Cousin
Will.
