BRANDON, Ver. July 6.

On Thursday evening last, a young man in this village, by the name of Henry Fane, about 18 years of age, being a little indisposed a Physician was called, who administered for his comfort, a portion of Emetic tartar; this nauseating medicine soon caused him to emit from his stomach, the moderate number of nine Bank Bills! which were not materially damaged.—Those bills had been in this safe deposit for about 3 hours.—He was advised to the above medicine by a number of citizens who were strongly convinced that he had taken money from a store in this place. He was immediately arrested and is to have his trial this day.

Mr. CALEB WHITEFORD was at an entertainment, in which Madeira of a fine flavour was plentifully served during dinner. After dinner a bottle of Cape wine was introduced. It was so excellent, that the company gave several hints that another bottle would be very gratifying.—The hint was not taken: on which Mr. W. said, "Well, if we cannot double the Cape, we must return to Madeira. *Lon.
