

To go so much, it was such a sweet night.

I ~~am~~ intend practicing "Carnival"
of Venice," to play for you this evening - have you taken my advice - and been down to hear Miss Jennie - play it.
I know it will please you better than if I play it.

Is not this a sweet-sweet day - I'm so glad it is getting warm.

Well as my conscience is pricking me for something neglected this morning
I must go attend to it. So "good bye"
Martin until this evening.

Yours in haste.
Lucie.