

not punish me even if you knew a way - you are so good always.

This has been a pretty day but rain is wanting very badly it is so dusty.

Pan and I are going out presently - presume there is not the least possibility of seeing you? Well Martie won't you answer this - for indeed it will be a charity - I am feeling so "blue."

Wish I could write something interesting - but I can't - so had better stop; I was sorry to hear of Dr. G.'s death - it is very sad.

Good eve'g - and a very pleasant one, is the wish of your friend Lucie.

Has Mr. N. come? hope so for your sake.
