AVÆNA ELATIOR,*

LINNÆI.

Superior to all other Grasses for Upland, Meadow and Pasture.

THE Rev'd Doctor Henry Muhlenburg, of Lancaster county, in the State of Pennsylvania, in a letter to Doctor Mitchell, of New-York, gives the following account of this celebrated grass: "I have cultivated this grass a number of years from imported seed, and find it, after a great many trials, of pretty near all other grasses, the earliest, latest, and best grass for green fodder and hay. It blooms in the middle of May, the same time with red clover, and the seed ripens a month after. Horses are fond of the hay; horned cattle prefer it to all other grasses. It will grow best in a clover soil, and the leaves are from two to four feet high before it blossoms. In the blossom, the stock rises from five to seven feet.—It ought to be cut in blossom, and will yield an abundance of sweet, good hay; may be cut three times a season; if suffered to grow old, it will become strawlike. The seed may be sown in the fall or spring, and must be brushed in, or lightly harrowed."†

The above account, from the experience of Nicholas Ridgely, Esq. the Chancellor of this State, George Cummins, Esq. both very respectable farmers, and myself, is fully verified. From the information of these gentlemen, who have cultivated this grass a greater length of time than I have, I am warranted to say that no pasturing, however severe, can destroy it. This grass is perennial, when once sown will produce perpetually unless the ground be broken. If sown alone it requires at least two bushels to the acre. On land in a high state of cultivation, the produce, after the first year, will be from two to three tons to the acre, from the first cutting, and little less from the second, if seasonable.

Seed may be had of James Bowie, Easton, from Doctor Daniel Sullivane, New-Market, and from Messrs. Loockerman and Chaplain, Cambridge, from whom agriculturists may be supplied, and a sample of the grass, with its age from the time of sowing, may be seen.

This is an upland grass, and will thrive wherever wheat, rye, oats or barley will flourish. Three or four pounds of clover seed to the acre, may be sown with the fall meadow oats; for by the time this grass comes to maturity, the clover will be on the decline. JAMES SYKES.

Two hundred dollars reward.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber, a few days since, negro Joseph Copper—He is about five feet ten inches high, tolerably black, with rather small eyes, and a very long under lip; his feet are large, and remarkably full and round on the inner side of the instep above the hollow of the foot. He moves clumsily in his common walk, and has a loud and rather hoarse voice. The above reward will be given for delivering him to the subscriber, if taken out of the state—fifty dollars if taken out of the county—and thirty if taken in the county.

NEGRO FRANK, alias Francis Turner, ranaway from the Subscriber on the 1st inst.—He is about five feet six or seven inches high, of a dark complexion and knock-kneed; very fond of strong drink, chews tobacco, and is very talkative, and swears when drunk. He is an excellent hostler, coachman and waiter; he took with him a round-about and pantaloons of dark olive velvet, quite new, with a variety of cloathing, half boots and shoes, which he will probably part with—he shews a strong but irregular set of teeth when he laughs, and will propably make for Philadelphia, where he is well acquainted. If this fellow is taken in the county, a reward of twenty dollars will be given for him; if out of the county and in the state, fifty dollars; if taken out of the state and secured so that I get him again, one hundred dollars; and if taken out of the state and brought home, one hundred and fifty dollars.
