

'Store' 12 Mr

May 27. ^E 1872

My dear Sami,

I cannot find language adequate to give proper expression to the gratification & experienced upon opening of your letter, my most sanguine hopes were realized, can I flatter myself that I will be the happy recipient of further favours, & did I dare thus hope, I would assuredly feel that a new era of happiness had dawned upon me, So dear Sami I will not through your letter in the fire, but will treasure it, and its many refusals will bring to my mind