

"Home" 1/4 1 - M.

Dear Mart.

I have looked in vain for you today, but presume you were too busy to get out; and now before I call the children to order will send you an answer to your kind note of Saturday, which I was so glad to get. I was cleaning the parlor when L. brought it and he gave me such a fright - I thought it was a visitor so ran away. I have told you over and over, that your missives are
