EASTON:—TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1809.

GLORIOUS TRIUMPH!

Yesterday came on the annual election for this county; and late last night we received the returns which have given the following decided majority for the entire republican ticket, in every district—a circumstance without parallell.

We understand, that Mr. Erskine, late British minister to this country, leaves town this day for the southward. About the 1st October, he will have an audience of leave with the president of the United States, who is then to be at Washington. Mr. Erskine then embarks with his family and suite, on board the Africane frigate, and proceeds home. Phil. Gaz.

The citizens of Walterborough, (S. C.) have given a dinner to the Secretary of the Navy in testimony of their respect and affection for him.

DELAWARE.—We understand, from a respectable source, that the election for members of the state legislature, which takes place early in the next month, will exhibit a great change in the political character of the state; and that the county of Kent, heretofore decidedly and unequivocally federal, will return republican members, and thus probably change the complexion of the Legislature from federal to republican.

The Maryland Association for the encouragement of domestic manufac- in Maryland have appointed a standing committee of five members, whose duty it is to procure information relative to the various manufactures, and domestic warehouses throughout the U. S. their respective situations, the quantities and qualities of the articles they have for sale, and the prices at which they can be procured; and to report progress as often as called on by the association.

MATCHLESS DEPRAVITY.

☞ AMERICANS, READ THIS!

From the Boston Gazette of September 25.

"We fear the report of Mr. Armstrong's have negotiated a new treaty with France will prove to be true. We have prepared the public mind to expect such an event; and if we are not deceived in the character and views of our cabinet (which we sincerely hope may be the case) such a calamity will most assuredly fall on the country."

Here is an American renegado lamenting the prospect of peace and prosperity. The American tories you see, eclipse the ministerial hacks in England. An American citizen mourns over peace as a public "calamity!" Does not every thing confirm our assertion, that "one portion of the Americans are the basest men on earth!"——Fellow citizens, read the federal papers, and learn the baseness of some of your countrymen. (Whig.

A SPECIMEN OF FEDERAL VERACITY.

In the Federal Republican, not long since there appeared a string of queries, tending to throw on the republican administrators of our own government, the blame which ought to rest on England and France, for the calamities which their unjustifiable aggressions effectuated. Among the questions, I could not but be amazed at the following:

"Did not Mr. Jefferson find the treasury full, and has he not left it empty?"

The affirmative meaning of the above is, that the federalists left the treasury full, and Mr. Jefferson drained it, squandered the money, and left it empty.—What are the facts?

The federal administration augmented the debt by borrowing near eleven million of dollars, part at 8 per cent.—They left 1,704,032 dollars and 53 cents in the treasury, when Adams went out of office—notwithstanding all their taxes, loans, &c.

Mr. Jefferson, after the repeal of internal taxes, paid in 8 years upwards of 55 millions of dollars, of the public debt, claims under Jay's treaty, and for the purchase of Louisiana—and left, on the first of Jan. 1809, the sum of sixteen millions of dollars in the treasury.

Adams did not leave two millions.

Jefferson left sixteen.

Weigh these facts, my fellow citizens, and judge of all by a part. When public documents informed the federalists of these things, what must be their depravity to proclaim the contrary?—To detest and unravel ALL their lies, is impossible; therefore I confine myself to a sample of their baseness.

FROM THE TRENTON TRUE AMERICAN.

Many strange sights are now-a-days to be seen in this country—among which, are

Federalists endeavoring to destroy the federal government!

Republicans revolting from the first rule of a Republic—that a majority shall govern!

Americans siding on all points with the British government against their own!

Whigs, who refused to pay a tax to Britain while her colonies, who are willing to pay her a tribute now we are an independent nation!

Merchants forsaking their own interests to follow the "British party!"

Disciples of Washington, departing entirely from his precepts and example!

Friends of Madison, at variance with his principles, measures, and supporters!

Lovers of order, fomenting disunion, discord and confusion!

Patriots, ready to sacrifice the rights, interests and honor of their own country, to the ambition, avarice and insolence of its worst enemy!

Professors of Christian Religion, praying for an alliance with Britain—the most corrupt, corrupting and bloody government in Europe—and reviling and speaking evil of the rulers of their own people, who are cherishing "Peace on earth, and good will to men"!

These, and many other such strange spectacles, may be seen every day, any where in this country, among what is absurdly denominated the federal party!

THE UNION!

The Federal Republican & North American are about to sink into one; to bear the name of the former. If any paper can flourish under such a blasted title, I am no judge—and Sterne was a fool. Before the time of Christ, JUDAS was esteemed as an honourable name: but ever since, it covered the idea of treachery, and is discontinued. If the Federal Republican, the notorious Liar's Museum, has a different fate, I shall wonder at it. The pieces of silver may be its wages; but scorn and abomination will also be its portion. (Whig.)

Two halves make one whole.

The North American & Federal Republican being each but half supported, have each resolved to throw away their wooden legs, and form a noble standing pair between them. The North American, it is understood, furnishes the body; the Federal Republican the head: & parson Bd is to christen the image!—Whether Copenhagen Jackson is to stand god-father for the monster, is not ascertained. Some say, that sponsors are only necessary in pœdo-baptism. ib.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.

Arrived, ship Superior, Capt. Butler, 51 days from Liverpool, with a full cargo of dry goods to sundry. Capt. Butler sailed the tenth of August and brings nothing later than already received. Spoke the ship Oliver Ellsworth, from Liverpool for New York, which vessel sailed three days after the Superior, and was informed by her, that accounts had been received in England of the complete success of the British expedition—Flushing and all the other points of attack having surrendered.—Off the Western Isles, spoke the British sloop of war Nautilus, who had fell in with a cutter from Spain, carrying dispatches, containing an account of victory obtained over the French in Spain. This must relate to the action of the 27th and 28th July. The loss of the French, as reported by the Nautilus, is but 14,000 killed and taken prisoners.

The city council of London, the beginning of August, had a motion before them for rescinding their former vote of thanks to colonel Wardle.

It is reported by the Superior that Bonaparte had returned to Paris. This is not likely to have occured so soon.

American produce had experienced a considerable rise in England, in consequence of the well-grounded expectation that immediately on hearing of the rejection of Mr. Erskine's arrangement, this government would revive the provisions of the non-intercourse.

London, Aug. 7. We have just received Hamburgh papers to the 30th ult.—Frankfort of the 22d—Berlin of the 25th—and Vienna of the 15th.—The following is the substance:

Vienna, July 15. The emperor Napoleon is expected to set off for Paris to day.

Frankfort, July 23. Notwithstanding the armistice, the duke of Brunswick was on the 19th at Neustadt, and sent his patroles to Gotha.

Ludgarsburg, July 20. According to reports received here of the 17th, general Vandamme has broken up from Neustadt towards Gratz as the Austrian general Giulay refuses to give up the fortress in virtue of the armistice.

Moravia, July 21. Yesterday the head quarters of the Archduke Charles were at Pulescha, near Loutemeschel.

The Emperor Francis has been in Hungary since the 9th.

HAMET CARAMALLI, the ex-bashaw of Tripoli, has been formally installed Dey of Derne, and has taken possession of his government. Through the influence of Dr. Davis, agent of the United States, that province was ceded to him, and its revenues (42,000 sequins) confirmed to him and his heirs for ever.

"DETECTOR" is received, an interview with the author is requested—a change of times, renders a change of points necessary.

——, On Thursday, 28th ult. by the rev. Burton Carman, Mr. Horatio Scrivenor, to Miss Margaret Harris.
