Apollo's Fount.

The following lines were written in consquence of observing some very elegant and appropriate remarks in the American of Thursday last, under this motto, "BRITAIN HAS DONE US NO ESSENTIAL INJURY."

THE AMERICAN SAILOR IN "DURANA VILI."

"QUIS TALIA FANDO, TEMPERET A LACHRYMIS."

YE friends to pity! can you save?
An exile hapless and forlorn!
A poor desponding wretched slave!
From children, wife, and country torn—

Ah! erst Columbia's happy shore!
Gave charms to life—and bliss I knew;
But freedom now, I taste no more;
But toil amid Britannia's CREW.

Fond recollection calls to mind
The happier days of other times;
I cast a mournful look behind,
Where freedom reigns in happier climes.

But naught can charm a sailor's heart!
Where peace and freedom both are flown.
Where stern oppression points her dart,
And wretches wake, to weep and mourn!

No more I meet my Anna true!
No more my children climb my knee!
No more the abode of peace I view!
No more my country shall I see!

That country which contains my all,
Which 'fore all others I do prize;
Where, ever at his duty's call,
Each sailor arms, each sailor flies.

To snatch from stern oppression's gripes
The sacred boon of freedom dear;
T' unfurl Columbia's warlike stripes,
Or wipe away the Orphan's tear.

But joys alas! no more I taste,
Each morning brings its keen felt pain!
The world to me's a barren waste,
Who still am doom'd to drag the chain.

Ah! when shall Albion's pride be crush'd?
That cruel monster of the main:
Ah! when shall all my sighs be hush'd!
When shall I meet my Ann again?

Rise vengeance rise, awake from sleep:
Unfurl thy banners—quickly fly
To tame the usurpers of the deep.
And hush the widowed mother's cry.

TO A ROSE TREE AND A MYRTLE SENT TO A LADY.

Go little blooming fragrant Rose,
Go to my love and take thy place,
Unfold thy leaves, thy sweets disclose,
And be an emblem of her face.

And thou, my Myrtle, ever green,
Go with the Rose, and there impart,
By thy unchanging, humble mein,
An emblem of thy master's heart.

Then, if ELIZA, we should twine,
The Myrtle and the Rose together,
Would not the Myrtle's leaves combine,
To guard the Rose from stormy weather.

Ten Cents reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, an apprentice boy by the name of Hosea Dailey, about 16 years of age. What way he has bent his course it is not in my power to determine. Any person apprehending said boy and bringing him home, or securing him, so that I get him again, shall be entitled to the above reward, but no charges paid.

EDWARD GLEAVES.

Queen-Ann's county, Oct. 31, 1809—3

Fifty dollars reward.

RAN away from the subscribers, on the 30th day of September last, a very black negro man named Peter, about twenty three years of age, about five feet ten or eleven inches high, is left handed, generally speaks loud, and is very bold—Had on when he went away a blue cloth over jacket, a pair of blue linsey-woolsey trowsers, and country tow linen shirt; he may also have taken other clothes with him. Whoever will take up and secure the said negro, so that the owners may get him again, (if out of the state) shall have the above reward, or if in the state twenty dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home.

Tuckahoe Neck, Caroline county, Md. October 10, 1809. m

100 dollars reward.

RAN away from Dorsey's Anchor Manufactory, near Baltimore, on the 25th August, a negro man named HARRY, about 21 years of age, stoops a little in the shoulders, clumsy made, large feet, which he turns out, smooth face, slow speech, and drawls out his words; he has a scar below one of his shoulders; he pretends to be a very strict Methodist. He had on when he went away, striped gingham pantaloons, white waistcoat, brown cloth coat, and new shoes with thick soles—It is probable he will change his clothes, as he has a variety. Whoever will deliver the said negro to the subscriber, at the said manufactory, shall receive the above reward, or Fifty Dollars if confined in any jail, and notice be given, so that I receive him again.

150 Dollars reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, living on Bennett's Point, Queen-Ann's county, Maryland, on Saturday, the 2d instant, a negro man named Charles, but calls himself Charles Dolly, about 28 or 30 years of age, five feet 10 or 11 inches high, very black, a little pock-marked, with large mouth and teeth, stout and well made; wears large whiskers; polite when spoken to, but has not much to say—Had on a grey cloth jacket, and country linen trowsers and shirt, and took with him other clothes, not recollected. Said negro was raised on the farm near Smyrna, on the line between Queen-Ann's and Delaware, now the property of John Cummins, Esq. of that town, and lately taken home, where he has a wife, and probably may be now lurking. The above reward will be paid to any person delivering said negro to the subscriber, or securing him so that he gets him again.

JOHN LLOYD TILGHMAN.

Bennett's Point, Queen-Ann's county, Sept. 12, 1809. m

Two hundred dollars reward.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber, a few days since, negro Joseph Cooper—He is about five feet ten inches high, tolerably black, with rather small eyes, and a very long under lip; his feet are large, and remarkably full and round on the inner side of the instep above the hollow of the foot. He moves clumsily in his common walk, and has a loud and rather hoarse voice. The above reward will be given for delivering him to the subscriber, if taken out of the state—fifty dollars if taken out of the county—and thirty if taken in the county.
