TO THE EDITOR OF THE STAR.

Sir,

If you think the following lines worthy of a place in your paper, you are at liberty to insert them.

On seeing a piece of needle work, entitled, Sacred to the memory of Washington—done by Miss E—— T——s.

BLESS'D be the hand, that brings thee to my mind,
In youth, in beauty, and to folly blind,
And every virtue centre in her breast,
That can make her happy & make her bless'd
Sacred to thy memory a Tomb in silk appears,
Done by a lady in her tender years;
A pensive willow o'er it seems to weep,
And mourns thee "wrapt in everlasting sleep:"
Two weeping damsels wipe their watery eyes,
From throbbing breast, they heave heart-rending sighs;
They seem to say, beneath this marble stone
Our Country's Hero, Father, Friend is gone
Invincible Hero! freed from the jars of strife,
Freed from the dangers of a stormy life,
Freed from the tempests of your death-like foes,
You sleep in silence and in calm repose.
Life's furious billows, now do cease to roll,
Which vex'd, which mov'd, which try'd thy mighty soul;
Thy mortal part in cold marble lies,
Thy soul immortal, soars above the skies:—
Unnumbered ages shall unwaried roll,
Of purest joys and pleasures to thy soul.
No more shall direful war, with its alarms,
Perturb thy breast and brighten the with arms
No more the tented field with thee appears,
With chan'ging trumpets, and with bristled spears,
No more thy country calls thee from repose,
To deal just vengeance on insulting foes.
The time was once, when all your country's word,
Fire'd at her call, you snatch'd the flaming sword;
To martial glory and to warlike lands,
You led her troops—you led her conquering bands.
Terror in your countenance, vengeance in your eye,
You made the legions of proud Britain fly,
In such confusion, as the roaring main,
When stormy winds disturb its watry plain.
From east to west, from north to south they pour,
Embark their troops, with terror quit the shore;
Old England shook—her king with sorrows crown'd,
And solemn sadness spreads the nation round
When war's dread din, and storms were hush'd to rest,
You met Peace coming with an Angel's breast.
In war. * * * * * * * *
The first the sword to draw, the first to sheath
At the bright prospects of a glorious peace.
The first in council and the reins to weild,
As glorious there, as mighty in the field:
By thy transactions the American name
Shines forth in glory and immortal fame:
O may it like thee always happy be,
'Till time shall wander in eternity.
Thy country's father hail! Illustrious all
Thy name shall echo round this "earthly ball,"
Thy fame shall last, till sun shall cease to rise,
Till earth to roll, till darkness seize the skies.

FEMALE EDUCATION.

THE subscribers, considering Female Education of the first importance, have since the first of April endeavoured to establish a Female School in this place, upon a basis which might, under every circumstance, ensure its permanency. The seminary commenced under the management of Mr. Andrews some time last year, and though they have always entertained the highest opinion of his capacity for that purpose, yet they had little reason to expect that his superintendance of the school would be of long continuance; nevertheless they were well assured he would not abruptly withdraw himself without procuring a successor of equal talents or qualifications.

They therefore beg leave to inform the parents and guardians of the young ladies of Easton particularly, together with Talbot & the neighboring counties, that with all the solicitude of parents, they have taken upon themselves the character of trustees for the purpose of superintending the school at Easton, established for the exclusive benefit of Female Education, and give every assurance to the public, that the school shall be provided with good Globes and Maps, and that every useful branch of Female Education shall be taught under the personal care of Mr. Lester Kimberly, of Yale College in Connecticut, the immediate successor of Mr. Andrews.

The terms of tuition will be as heretofore, at $20 per annum, paid quarterly, with the necessary charge for firewood and school-house rent.

Application may be made to Mr. Kimberly, at his school room, directly opposite the Bank, in one of Doctor Martin's houses, or at his lodgings at Mrs Bell's, on Washington street, a little below Dover street, or to the subscribers.

EASTON ACADEMY.

THE Trustees of this Institution being of opinion that the appointment of a Principal, with power and authority to teach, direct, and superintend the various branches of Education proposed to be taught in the Seminary, will best promote its interests and prosperity, have accordingly engaged the Revd. Archibald Walker, in that character. He has on his part engaged to provide and employ such and so many Teachers and Assistants for the instruction of the Scholars in the Classical and Mathematical Departments, as shall be necessary for their education therein, and to direct and superintend their instruction in all the branches attached to those departments.

The trustees therefore announce to the public, that the schools will be opened at Easton, on the first Monday of September next; and they give special notice to the parents and guardians of boys in this and the neighbouring counties, that scholars will be admitted in both departments; and, in the one, will be carried through a course of education in the Latin and Greek languages; and, in the other, will be taught the English Grammar, Arithmetic, History, Geography, and all the branches of Mathematics.

The experience and success of Mr. Walker as an instructor of youth for many years, and his high reputation as a professor well qualified to teach his scholars in the branches of both departments, enable the trustees to recommend the institution under their care, to the serious attention of those who are solicitous for the useful education of their children; and all such may be assured that, besides the dependence they may place upon the steady care of Mr. Walker to the instruction of his scholars in science, manners and morals, they may likewise rely upon the anxiety of the trustees to have the schools so managed, visited, and superintended, as to promote the advantage of the pupils, and establish the character of the institution.

The prices of tuition are $20 in the Classical, and $16 in the Mathematical Department: and convenient board for the scholars may be obtained in the town upon reasonable terms.

By order of the Trustees,

P. BENSON, Pres'dt.

Attest—Ns. HAMMOND, Sec'ry.
