JOHN JOHNSTON,

SADDLER AND HARNESS-MAKER,

Washington Street, Easton:

HAS the pleasure of informing his friends and the public, that he has lately returned from Baltimore with a new assortment, selected by himself, of the most fashionable GOODS, proper for his line of business. He is now ready to receive the orders of all who would favor him with their custom, and pledges himself that the workmanship of his saddles and bridles shall be neater and stronger than those imported — He has received patterns of the most fashionable saddles, both for Ladies and Gentlemen, now in use in England, and requests his patrons and friends to call on him and view his assortment.

Those who favor him with their custom may depend on having their work executed with neatness and dispatch—and the liberal patronage of a generous public will be duly appreciated and acknowledged by integrity, attention and promptitude. ☞ Leather Trunks for travellers, and hair trunks of the newest patterns, made at the shortest notice
