4-H Club Boys and Girls to Meet At University.

Two new features will be introduced at the twentieth annual 4-H Club Week, which will be held at the University of Maryland on August 3 to 13. The event is expected to attract between 600 and 700 club members from all counties in the State. Plans are being completed for the formation of a State organization of 4-H club members, which will probably be known as the Maryland 4-H Club Council. The other departure from previous club weeks is a series of discussion on youth problems, under the leadership of Dr. T. H. Manny, designed especially for the older 4-H club members. Charles E. Potter and Miss Ella Gardner, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will give instructions in 4-H club and recreational leadership.

The program for the week includes assemblies, demonstrations on a wide range of subjects pertaining to agriculture and the home, discussions, recreational activities and evening entertainments. Girls will have demonstrations in such subjects as posture, foods, home management, etiquette, room furnishing, music, grooming and crafts. Boys will study various phases of dairying, animal husbandry, farm machinery, handicraft, poultry and grooming.

Speakers on assembly programs include Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University; Dr. Thomas S. Symons, acting dean of the College of Agriculture, and Hester Beall Provensen, of the department of speech.

The style revue, which has been a prominent feature in recent years, promises to surpass former events of its kind. Added interest is found in the fact that boys, as well as girls, will take part this year.

An invitation in the way of evening programs will be a talent night, in which club groups throughout the State will participate. The All-Star Conservation service will be held on Friday evening and will be the closing event of the week.

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict.

The jury of inquest summoned by Justice William W. Duke to investigate the death of William Warren Gantt, whose body was found near his home at Parker's Creek, on Tuesday evening of last week, met for the second time, in the Court House at Prince Frederick on Friday afternoon of last week, and completed its report The only witness was Corporal Charles W. Magaha, of the Maryland State Police, who testified to the successful efforts made to run down those responsible for Mr Gantt's death; that acting on the call from Fredericksburg, Va., he, Officer Magaha, State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell, Sergeant Kries and Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Bucher went there and took in custody Walter Stinnett and Margaret Abell, of this county, and Evelyn Bajowsky, of Baltimore, who had been with Mr. Gantt on Sunday and Monday, and whom the Virginia authorities had arrested on suspicion, and that the Gantt car in which they went away in was recovered; that all three prisoners confessed their participation in the crime, which was planned the day before and the day of his death, and that robbery was the motive.

The jury, after a short deliberation, returned the following verdict: "that on the 12th day of July, in the year 1938, at Parker's Creek, in the said county, a certain William Warren Gantt came to his death as a result of bullet wounds, the inflicting of which was participated in by Walter Stinnett, Margaret Abell and Evelyn Bajowski, and so the said Walter Stinnett, Margaret Abell and Evelyn Bajowski then and there feloniously killed and murdered the said William Warren Gantt against the peace and dignity of the State of Maryland."

Statement from Calvert Council of Churches.

The following is a statement by the executive committee of the Calvert County Council of Churches on alcoholic beverage and gambling in Calvert county, which was read from the pulpit of the churches throughout the county on Sunday:

A primary concern of every Christian church is the moral welfare of the community it serves. As Christians, we cannot fail to be disturbed by the presence in our community of factors which tend strongly to undermind character and break down human well-being.

I. The past five years have witnessed an unprecedented increase in the sale and use of intoxicating beverages in Calvert county. Easy accessibility and false advertising propaganda are combining to enable the legalized liquor traffic to poison the bodies and minds of young people and adults at a rapid rate. Restrictions on the sale of alcoholic beverages on Sunday are either disobeyed or circumvented by various devices to enable the seller to come within the letter of the law while violating its spirit.

Therefore, we urge the Christian people of the county: (1) to do everything possible, by precept and example, to discourage the use of alcoholic beverage; (2) to cooperate to the fullest degree with the officers of the law in enforcing existing regulations, and (3) to begin now to work for such legislation as will at least give the people of Calvert county the right to prohibit the sale of alcohol beverages within the bounds of the county

II. The depression years in America have been marked by an ominous increase in gambling Our national gambling bill is now six-at six billion dollars annually. Commercialized gambling exceeds all other markets in scope. Our own county is naturally not immune Various types of slot and pinball machines abound, not only in saloons, but also in stores throughout the county. In all of them the odds are overwhelming against the player. Since these machines may be played with coins of small denominations, they are a menace especially to our children and youth, infecting them early with the gambling virus Recently we have seen the inauguration of "bank nights" and "ten spot nights" at the movies, a gamble device for increasing attendance at third-rate pictures through the promise of unearned gain. The "bank night" development is an open admission on the part of motion picture producers and exhibitors that most pictures are so inferior as to be inexpable to themselves of attracting profitable audiences. It is a menace to social health and moral well-being

In order to combat such evils as these, (1) we call upon our members, before patronizing slot machines or other forms of gambling, to weigh carefully the serious consequence of such action for themselves, their children and society at large, and to govern themselves accordingly, (2) where "bank nights" or "ten-spot nights" have been instituted in county movies, we recommend that our people at least refrain from participating in the gambling aspect of the evening's program. (3) We vigorously recommend the passage in Maryland of legislation definitely making illegal all mechanical gambling devices. (4) We urge our members to vote in the fall elections against the repeal of the provision in the Maryland Constitution prohibiting lotteries.

May all of us, in the name of Christ, devote our energies to these and other ways toward the building of a Christian community.

July 18, 1938.

June Weather.

The temperature in Maryland for June was a little below normal. The rainfall was principally in the form of thunderstorms and averaged about normal, though it was unevenly distributed, says John E. Weaks, State meteorologist. The mean temperature was 70.3 degrees, or 0.4 degree below normal. The highest mean was 72.3 degrees at Solomons and the lowest 69.1 degrees at Oakland. The highest temperature was 99 degrees at Lundale on the 15th and the lowest 35 degrees at Hell, Oakland and Sines on the 1st. The average monthly rainfall was 3.98 inch es, or 0.09 inch below normal. The greatest monthly was 9.32 inches at Elkton and the least 1.49 inches at Baltimore and Laurel. The greatest 24 hour amount was 6.06 inches at Elkton on the 26-27th, two thirds of the month's rain falling in 24 hours.

Poultry Improvement Schools Listed.

To meet the demand in various parts of the State, seven Poultry Improvement Schools have been scheduled by the Poultry Department of the University of Maryland, it is announced by Wade H. Rice, extension poultry specialist.

Official poultry improvement work in Maryland increased substantially last year, as compared with the preceding year, he states. Last fall, more than 1,000 poultry raisers attended a series of meetings held in all the counties and two judging and selection were held. Farmers and poultry raisers have asked that more of these schools be held this summer and fall.

In response to this request, Mr. Rice announces the following schedule:

Salisbury—Monday night, August 1, and Tuesday, August 2, for the lower Eastern Shore.

Easton—Wednesday and Thursday, August 3 and 4, for the central Eastern Shore.

Chestertown—Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5, for the upper Eastern Shore.

Bel Air—Monday and Tuesday, August 8 and 9, for northern Eastern Shore.

Smithsburg—Wednesday and Thursday, August 10 and 11, Western Maryland.

Westminster Monday and Tuesday, August 15 and 16, northern Central Maryland.

College Park—Wednesday and Thursday, August 17 and 18, Central and Southern Maryland.

The object of these schools, Mr. Rice states, is to provide an opportunity for greater participation in official breed improvement and pullorum disease control, through the qualification of hatcherymen and breeders as flock-selecting agents under supervision of the Maryland Poultry Improvement Board.

The evening sessions will be devoted to various brooding and pullorum control subjects, with emphasis on systematic breeding. Poultry and egg marketing problems will also be discussed.

Demonstrations in culling and selection of the popular breeds of chickens will be the feature of the day sessions.

Fine Home for Washingtonian.

Bert L. Olmstead, well known restaurateur of Washington, proprietor of the Olmsted Grill on G street, northwest, in that city, has given to Lyons, Gibson & Co., inc., of Huntingtown, contractors, the contract to erect a residence on his estate at Sandy Point, on the Patuxent River. When completed the house will be one of the handsomest and best appointed in Calvert county. To be two and one-half stories, the dwelling will be pure colonial in design, with a two story porch in front. Finished in clapboard, the exterior and interior will be of genuine white pine. The home will be air-conditioned, with all other modern conveniences, including four baths, rooms, and a large amount of built-in cabinet work. The residence will be beautifully located on a bluff facing the river. It is connected with a two-car garage. The estate comprises twenty acres. Off to one side of the estate is a natural lake, and Mr. Olmsted plans to construct a canal through a swamp, connecting the lake with the river.

Resolution.

Whereas the term of the Honorable Joseph C. Mattingly and the Honorable William M. Loker, Associate Judges of the Seventh Judicial Circuit expires in the latter part of this year, and because of the expiration of the term of office there are to be elected at the General Election in November, two Associate Judges of the Seventh Judicial Circuit;

And Whereas members of this Bar, recognizing the outstanding ability and conscientious and faithful services rendered by Judge Mattingly and Judge Loker during the fifteen years they have served, and being interested in the personel of the Judges of this Circuit, the Bar Association of Prince George's county, Maryland, does therefore endorse and advocate the nomination and election of the Honorable Joseph C. Mattingly and the Honorable William M Loker as Associate Judges for the Seventh Judicial Circuit.

The above resolution was passed on June 20, 1938, at a regular meeting of the Bar Association of Prince George's county, by unanimous vote of all members present.

Death of Miss Olivia Humphreys.

The family and many friends of Miss Olivia Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Humphreys, of Rosaby Hall, were greatly shocked by her sudden death on Thursday morning about 11 o'clock at the Calvert County Hospital, where she was taken for treatment on Wednesday. Miss Humphreys was 18 years old, and was quite a popular and attractive young lady. She attended the Solomon's High school, and with her family attended Middleham Chapel, where she was a member of the Girls Friendly Society. Her death is a great bereavement to her devoted family, who have the sincere sympathy of all who know them.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a younger sister, Miss Elizabeth Humphreys, and a brother, Leslie Humphreys.

The funeral will be held this (Saturday) morning at 10.30 o'clock at Middleham Chapel. Rev. Harry L. Paff will con uct the service.
