JULY 30, 1938.

The action of the Calvert lawyers on Tuesday last in advocating the nomination and re-election of Associate Judges Joseph C. Mattingley and Wm. Meverell Loker for another term was a well deserved tribute. For fifteen years they have rendered faithful and valuable service, and earned the full confidence and respect of all. While under our law Judges, like all other elective officials must be selected by the voters at the polls, there is no reason to consider theirs a political office and their selection to depend on the hazard of politics. Judges Mattingley and Loker have made valuable and worthy successors to the long line of Judges who have graced the Bench in the past, and their re-elections will be an insurance for a continuation of the good work.
