The public is cordially invited to attend and meet old friends and at the same time enjoy a real Southern Maryland dinner.

Amateur Night Successful Affair.

The amateur night show and carnival given at Seaside Park on Thursday evening of last week, sponsored by Mrs. Roland Ripperger and others, was a very successful affair, and attended by a large number of persons. The amateur night show brought forth a surprising amount of talent, mostly of Calvert contains, and was much enjoyed, combined with it being what were known as carnival days, it was held in the Seaside Park ballroom. Harry M. Bedell, Mayor of Chesapeake Beach, made a short introductory address and T. C. Crump, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the various participants in the show. Indeed it is not too much to say that Mr. Crump was very much a part of the show, carrying out his role in the best Major Bowes style. The following were the winners in the amateur hour, as decided by the judges, Mrs. L. Herbert Chaney, Mrs. Samuel C. Cox, Mrs. Harry M. Bedell, Robert S. Mead and William W. Duke:

First prize, won by Walter Bowen, who sang "Somewhere A Voice Is Calling"; second, tap dance, Patsy Dorr; third, song, "There's a Rainbow in the Skies," Glenn Insley; monologue, "At the Doctor's Office," Miss Mary Ellen Hance.

Carnival prizes were won in the following order: First, "Aunt Jemima," Mrs. Bean, of Chesapeake Beach; second "The Little Recruit," Jerry Lentz, and third, "The Goddess of Liberty," Miss Betty Ripperger. The judges of this contest were Perry G. Bowen, Mrs. H. M. Hector, Mrs. Oscar Marshall, Mrs. Harry Lane and Mrs George Klein.

The prize waltz was won by Mrs. Doris Owings and Winfield Hutchins. The judges making this decision were Douglas Parran, Albert Posenblood and Mrs Rider.

The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Beach community Christmas tree fund.

Death of Miss Mary C. Chew.

Funeral services for Miss Mary Clagett Chew, who died Saturday last at her home near Chesapeake Beach, were held at 11 a. m. Monday at All Saints' Protestant Episcopal Church. George Norris, lay reader at All Saints', conducted the services. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery

Miss Chew was the daughter of the late Thomas John and Jane Benson Chew and lived all of her life at Upper Bennett, the ancestral home of the Chews, which has been in their possession since the founding of the colony of Maryland.

Active in charitable and church work, Miss Chew devoted much of her time to All Saints', an old Colonial church, which was designed by the English architect and artist, Sir Christopher Wren. She was in her ninety first year

Miss Chew is survived by a sister, Miss Jane Benson Chew, of Baltimore; four nieces, Miss Jane R. Gantt, of Calvert county; Mrs. Theodore W. Forbes, Mrs. Samuel Claggett and Mrs. Richard C. Williams, of Baltimore, and a nephew, Edward Gantt, of Calvert county.

Death of Miss E. Louise Trott.

Miss E. Louise Trott, daughter of John W. E. Trott and the late Mrs. Emma C. Trott, died on Wednesday at the University Hospital, Baltimore. She had been in failing health for some time past, and recently underwent an operation at the above hospital. Miss Trott is survived by her father; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas King, of Lower Marlboro, and Mrs George Eckenroger, of Baltimore, and three brothers, William, Trott, of Baltimore, and Herbert and Olin Trott, of Owings. With her family, Miss Trott lived at Friendship for some years, but they moved to Birdsville, in Anne Arundel county, some time ago. She was well known in Huntingtown community, where she leaves quite a number of relatives.

The funeral took place from her residence at Birdsville yesterday afternoon at 1 o clock, with services at Mount Harmony Methodist Episcopal Church, this county, at 2 o'clock, and Interment in the adjoining cemetery.

The Mutual Tournament.

Elaborate preparations are under way now for the annual tournament at Mutual, to be given on Saturday, August 27th, for the benefit of Christ Church Parish. This tournament, it is confidently believed, will be the best ever held in Southern Maryland, though, judging by the enormous success which has crowned the efforts of the manager, Dr. Everard Briscoe, and the chairman, John S. Williams, in other years, they will neither be a slouch if they exceed their own past record, for the Mutual tournaments have indeed attained an enviable record and popularity.

Mayor Howard W. Jackson, of Baltimore, will make the address to the knights on the field in the afternoon, and at night at the ball in the Parish Hall the coronation address will be delivered by Governor Harry W. Nice.

Much interest is attached to the contest for the Parran cup, dedicated to the tournament riding a son of the late Thomas Parran, which is offered for the first time this year. The handsome trophy will shortly be on display at the Prince Frederick Department Store.

Farmers Picnic Well Attended.

On Wednesday, July 20th, the Maryland Tobacco Growers' had the largest picnic in its existence, at Seaside Park. Great interest was displayed by the large gathering in the problems of the tobacco growers, particularly relative to the prices being secured, and what the growers ought to get for their tobacco.

The speakers of the day, who were introduced by Hon. Thomas Parran, president of the Maryland Tobacco Growers' Association, were Senator Sasscer, Senator Tydings, Mayor Jackson, of Baltimore; Comptroller Gordy, Congressman Lewis, Warden Questadt, Attorney-General O'Conor and Mr. Herbert Brune, of the Baltimore Bar.

Much interest was shown in the tobacco judging contest and prizes were awarded as follows: Anne Arundel county, 1st, Lawrence King, Jewell; 2nd, Raymond Armstrong, Lothian. Calvert, 1st, William King, Owings; 2nd, John D. Wells, Owings. Charles, 1st, Ernest Keller, Waldorf; 2nd, J. Spencer Irving, Bel Aiton. Prince George's, 1st, Russell and Louis Cross, Croome; 2nd, James Cross, Brandywine. St Mary's county, 1st, Sidney Wood, Mechanicsville; 2nd, Benjamin Wood, Oraville. Sweepstakes, best sample in Southern Maryland, Ernest Keller, Waldorf, Md.

Soil Erosion Meeting.

A meeting on practices to use in controlling soil erosion will be held on the farm of Grover Cleveland Young, Prince Frederick, on Monday, August 15th. Mr. L. N. Shepherd, of the Soil Erosion Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be on hand for the meeting. Mr. Shepherd has had a great deal of practical experience in erosion control in Southern Maryland. He is a successful farmer himself, and many of these soil conserving practices are being carried out on his farm now.

The problem of preventing soil erosion in Calvert county is a problem of grave concern, when we consider that the value per acre of farm land in our county has decreased from $49.55 in 1930 to $37.13 in 1935 (Bureau of Census figures). Each year we can see that this problem of soil washing is becoming more and more destructive, and so the longer we put off trying to control it the harder it will be to control. There are a few simple practices that will not cost the farmers of Calvert county any extra money, and can be applied with little change in present farming operations. A great many of these practices will be discussed and demonstrated at 8.30 o'clock on Monday, August 15th. The meeting will begin with a short discussion in the class room of the Agricultural Department of the Calvert County High School.

Areal Farm Maps.

In the office of County Agent John B. Morsell, at Prince Frederick, he and his two assistants, Mrs. William Kratz and Mrs. George H. Gray, are working over time, checking up on the areal maps made of Calvert county recently. Sixty-five maps were made, showing every section of Calvert county and its eight hundred and fifty farms. The photographs taken from an altitude of 18,000 feet, show the main highways in Calvert, and the farms represented by tiny irregular patches of lighter land among uncultivated soil and woodland.

Done by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the maps are of vast importance to the county farm supervisors selected to check up on the Adjustment Administration farm program. These maps with necessary forms, are used by the supervisors in designating the crops and soil building practices in each field. They are filed in the County Agent's office and the acreage of each field shown is checked up on the areal maps. A delicate and scientifically instrument, the planimeter, is used by the county Agent force in making the records.

The farm supervisors in Calvert county are: First District—Phillip Briscoe, Sidney W. Asbury and A. Claude. Turner. Second District—Guy P. Bowen and Lester J. Hall.

Third District—Carroll T. Frost, William P. Norfolk and Calvert C. Buckler.

The county committeemen for Calvert are Perry G Bowen, William P. Norfolk and H. Clare Briscoe.

Talks Over Radio.

A number of persons in Calvert on Monday evening at 8.30 o'clock (9.30 daylight saving time) tuned in on station WOR and listened to the Hamilcer broadcast of "Famous First Facts," in which John Hansen Briscoe, son of Dr. and Mrs. Everard Briscoe, of Prince Frederick, participated. His subject consisted of facts about his eminent ancestor, John Hanson, sometimes spoken of as the first president of the United States by virtue of his office as first president of the United States Continental Congress Assembled. Mrs. Briscoe and her son flew from Baltimore to New York in an Eastern Air Lines plane on Sunday, returning Tuesday, and were royally entertained during their stay in the metropolis. The young man acquitted himself very well in his first radio talk.

Death of James W. Hardesty.

John W Hardesty, formerly of Mt Harmony, this county, died on Tuesday last at his home in Washington, where he had been living for a number of years. The deceased was the husband of the late Mrs. Maude E Hardesty, and was aged 69 years His father was the late John Wesley Hardesty. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs Wilbert P. Cooke, of Los Angeles, California, and a sister, Mrs. Benson Posey, of Baltimore.

The funeral took place on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at Mount Harmony Methodist Episcopal Church.

Tournament at Prince Frederick.

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Paul's Parish, Prince Frederick, Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to hold a tournament at Prince Frederick on Friday afternoon, September 2nd, followed by a ball at night in the Town Hall here, for the benefit of the church. John B. Morsell is chairman of the tournament committee, and general manager. Chairmen of other committees will soon be published. Senator Lansdale G. Sasscer has been invited to make the address to the knights on the field in the afternoon, and a speaker of prominence selected from the State candidates in the primary election will make the coronation address at night. Every effort will be made to place his tournament in the best class, and to conform to the true Southern Maryland tradition in respect to this old institution. Further facts will be published soon.

Farmers Making Greater Use of Credit Loans.

Maryland farmers are making greater use of services of production credit associations than at any other time in the five years of operation of the system, J. Ellis Bowen, secretary-treasurer of the Southern Maryland Production Credit Association, announced today.

In the 12-month period ending July July 1, 1937, four production credit associations in Maryland made 1,436 loans amounting to $[illegible], while for a similar period ending July 1, 1938, 1,039 loans for $1,361,150 were made, Mr. Bowen said. On July 1 the Southern Maryland association had 165 loans outstanding amounting to $[illegible]. This association serves farmers in Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Prince George's and St. Mary's counties, and is managed by a board of directors consisting of Carl H. Shipley, Brooklyn, Md.; G Goldstein, Prince Frederick, Md.; F. B. Bolton, Pomonkey, Md.; Harry W. Townshend, Mitchellville, Md., and Horace H. Bowling, Mechanicsville, Md.

Mr. Bowen said that production credit loans are made to finance the production of crops and livestock, the purchase of supplies and equipment and general farm and household expenditures of short term nature. Associations do not lend government money but secure their funds by discounting their members' notes with the intermediate credit bank, which, in turn, obtains its funds through the sale of securities in the financial markets of private investors.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the House of Delegates, subject to the Democratic primaries, and solicit the support of my friends and the Democratic voters of Calvert county in general.
