OCTOBER 8, 1938.

This afternoon and evening the voters of Calvert county will have an opportunity to meet and hear all the Democratic State wide candidates. They will hold meetings here in the afternoon, and at North Beach at night. Millard E. Tydings and Herbert R. O'Conor, candidates for the United States Senate and Governor, respectively, together with all the others on the State ticket, are booked for both meetings.

This will be the opening of the campaign, and it is hoped that both meetings will be largely attended, notwithstanding the short notice.

The recent primary election brought out more Democratic voters than ever before participated in a primary election, and the result was the closest. An excellent ticket was the result, and the losing candidates have shown a splendid spirit in accepting the result and pledging support of the nominees.

Tentative Provisions of 1939 AAA Program Are Announced.

The 1939 AAA farm program for Maryland and the rest of the country will be similar in most respects to the 1938 program, according to C. Z. Keller, State executive officer.

As in 1938, the 1939 program will include establishment of individual allotments for wheat and potatoes, as well as an allotment for total soil-depleted acreage. Payment will be made for keeping within soil-depleted acreage allotments and for attaining soil building goals by carrying out approved practices. On farms where no wheat or potato allotments are established, payments will be earned only by soil building practices.

In general, approved soil building practices will be similar to those approved for 1938. Crop classification will be practically the same as in 1938, stephrid fall, exception being that lantoprn-sante beets, barley, rye or a mixture of these crops will not be classified as soil depleting when such crops are used as nurse crops for legumes or perennial grasses of which a good stand is established in 1939, and the nurse crop is cut green for hay and is not harvested for grain.

Wheat acreage allotments will be established for all commercial wheat farms. Agricultural conservation payments with respect to wheat and wheat price adjustment payments will be made for such farms. On non-commercial wheat farms, no payment will be made with respect to wheat and deductions will be made from other payments for an acreage of wheat harvested for grain or hay in excess of the usual wheat acreage, or 3 acres, whichever is larger.

Compliance on commercial wheat farms will be checked late this fall on the basis of wheat seed for all purposes, including wheat seeded for hay or pasture, green manure and cover crop purposes. If the planted acreage exceeds the allotted acreage, no wheat price adjustment payment will be made and a deduction will be made from the conservation payment at the rate of 50 cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre times each acre in excess of the wheat acreage allotment.

The wheat conservation payment will be reduced on farms where the 19[illegible] seeded wheat acreage is less than [illegible] per cent of the wheat allotment established for such farms. The allotment used in calculating the payment for such farms will be reduced to 125 per cent times the acreage of wheat seeded in 1939. Therefore, no conservation payment with respect to wheat will be made to farmers not seeding wheat for harvest in 1939. A deduction at the rate of $5 per acre mill fee made for growing soil depleting crops in excess of the total soil depleting allotment, except that if the excess is in wheat the deduction will be made at the rate specified above for wheat.

Payment for not exceeding the wheat acreage allotment will be made at the rate of 16 to 18 cents per bushel, plus a price adjustment payment of 10 to 12 cents per bushel (or a total of 26 to 30 cents per bushel) on the farm's normal yield per acre in the wheat allotment.

Payment for reducing potatoes on commercial potato farms will amount to approximately 3 cents per bushel on the farm's normal yield per acre grown, not in excess of the potato allotment.

Payments for carrying out soil building practices will be practically the same as in 1938.

Good Game Season Anticipated.

Game conditions in Maryland should be better than they have been since 1934, says E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden. The severe winters of 1935 and 1936 greatly depleted the supply of some species of upland game. However, the increase this year is wonderful. Reports from throughout the State on all species of upland game birds and game animals are very encouraging. The Department has received more complaints from farmers as to destruction of crops by cottontail rabbits and squirrels this season than has been received for a number of years past.

Wild waterfowl, especially the migratory species, have shown a great increase in the breeding grounds. This also applies to the native black duck and Blue winged Teal.

Open seasons are as follows:

Rail, September 1 to October 31; wild water fowl and jack snipe, November 1 to December 29; squirrels and woodcock, November 15 to December 15; dove, male pheasants, ruffed grouse, cottontail rabbits, wild turkeys and partridge, November 15 to December 31, except in Allegany and Garrett counties where the season is November 1 to November 30; raccoon and opossum November 1 to January 31; muskrat, January 1 to March 15; male deer with two or more points to one antler, December 1 to December 5, except Woodmont Rod and Gun Club property where the season will be December 15 to 24.

Bag limits—Wild ducks, 10 in aggregate of all kinds of which 3 may be canvasback, redhead, ruffedneck or roddy. Federal regulations prohibit possession of more than 10 in any one day or more than 20 in any one calendar week. Wild geese, 9 in the aggregate of all kinds. Federal regulations prohibit possession of more than 5 in any one day or more than 10 in any one calendar week. Jack snipe 15; rail birds, 15; woodcock 4; doves 15; cottontail rabbits 6; squirrels 6; partridge 6; pheasants 3, not over 5 per season; wild turkeys 1, not over 4 per season; deer, male only, 1, not over 1 per season.

All upland game, except deer may be hunted with shotgun or rifle capable of holding not more than three shells at any one loading. Therefore, all guns, whether shotgun or rifle used for hunting Maryland game must be plugged.

Every person hunting game of any species, except on their own property or property tenanted by them, must have in possession hunter's license and tag displayed on outer garment.

Every person hunting wild waterfowl must have a Federal duck stamp in possession in addition to State hunting license.

Shore front owners have until October 10th to procure a duck blind license and select a site off shore of their property for erecting their duck blind, which must be stationary.

It is unlawful to set any steel trap, net or snare for taking any upland game except steel traps may be used for muskrats.

It is unlawful to sell, offer for sale, purchase or offer to purchase bob-white, pheasants, ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, rabbits or waterfowl or have same in possession dead during closed season, whether same were killed in Maryland or in any other State, territory or country.

TELLING THE WORLD

New York . . . Telephone service from the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico to the S. S. "Nieuw Amsterdam," new flagship of the Holland-American line, was inaugurated recently. The rate for a three-minute call between the ship and points in northeastern United States is $9.00 while she is in the western half of the Atlantic and $18.00 in the eastern half. For calls involving points beyond this area there are additional charges depending upon the distance. This installation aboard the "Nieuw Amsterdam" now makes it possible for people in the United States to hold telephone conversations with twenty-three transocean liners.

* * *

Rome, Italy . . . The work of laying the telephone cable between Sicily and Tripoli, which will be the longest submarine telephone cable in the world, has begun. This cable will be 886 nautical miles in length. The longest submarine telephone cable now in use is that between Australia and Tasmania.

* * *

New York . . . The highest telephone above the surface of the earth is installed in the Empire State Building in New York City. The instrument is a public telephone, and is located in the lower observatory on the eighty-sixth floor, at the 1,000 foot level, 250 feet below the top of the building. The height of this telephone is approximately the same as that on the top of the Eiffel Tower in Paris, which for more than forty years held the record for being the world's highest structure.

* * *

Dublin, Ireland . . . The extension of telephone service in Ireland continued at an accelerated rate during 1937. The number of telephones in the Free State area at the end of 1937 was estimated at 39,000, an increase of 2,500 for the year. The largest increase in the number of subscribers' lines was in the Dublin area, but there was also a steady increase throughout the country. Local calls increased by about 100,000, and long distance calls by about 300,000.

* * *

San Francisco . . . In the latest edition of the San Francisco, Calif., telephone directory of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is a new prefix, "Fair Ground," commemorating the Golden Gate exposition to be opened in this city next year.

* * *

Capetown, South Africa . . . The demand for telephones in Capetown has been increasing steadily since the introduction of the automatic system in 1934. In the past twelve months 2,000 lines have been added to the exchange, and there are now more than 30,000 telephones in the peninsula.

CONFERENCE TELEPHONE CALL LINKS NINE ARMY CORPS AREAS AT ONCE

Coast-to-Coast Hook-up Connects War Department's Headquarters For First Time

General Malin Craig, Chief of Staff, (left) listens while General J. O. Mauborgne converses with the 9 Army Corps Areas during the telephone conference call which linked them via a coast-to-coast circuit recently for the first time.

The first occasion in its history in which the War Department in Washington, D. C., was in two-way voice contact with all of its nine Army corps areas at one and the same time occurred recently when Major General Joseph O. Mauborgne, chief signal officer, conferred with the signal officers in the headquarters of all nine corps areas over a coast-to-coast telephone conference circuit. This demonstration of fast intercommunication was arranged with the cooperation of the Bell Telephone System.

Included in the conference circuit were the headquarters of the corps areas at Boston, New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, Columbus, Chicago, Omaha, San Antonio and San Francisco. The commanding officer and his staff in each area heard the demonstration and conversed with one another and with General Malin Craig, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, who attended in Washington with members of the War Department general staff.

The conference circuit used in this demonstration is the speed with which the War Department can communicate with all its major divisions throughout the country by means of Bell System development in telephony. Special switchboard equipment makes it possible to link together by telephone persons at separate points anywhere in this country and even abroad, so that all may hear and join in the conversation. While specially arranged, the conference circuit set up for the War Department was not essentially different from those regularly used to interconnect groups of people for business or social conversation.

First Patterns for Clothes

In 1863 Ebenezer Butterick, a tailor of Sterling, Mass., conceived the idea of making a set of men's graded shirt patterns. These were the first standardized patterns for clothes.

Finding the Worthy

"Many may toil to make resplendent robes," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "When the task is completed it seems small compared to that of finding one worthy to wear them."

Road Notice.

We, the undersigned taxpayers of Calvert county, do hereby give notice that after thirty days from the date of this notice we will petition the County Commissioners of Calvert county to establish a public road over the private road leading northward from the State road which runs from Fairview School to Lower Marlboro.

Sports Facts.

The snook or robalo is a game fish caught in Florida waters and is much prized not only because of its gamey fight, but because of its delicious flavor as a food fish. The snook will weigh from 5 to 10 pounds and even heavier. It has a long and body like a pike, but with a much smaller head.

System Head Honored

Walter S. Gifford, president of The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, who was awarded the gold medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences, for distinguished service to humanity.

The award was in recognition of Mr. Gifford's service "as director of the Council of National Defense; president of the Community Organization Society of New York; trustee of Johns Hopkins University, General Education Board, Carnegie Institute of Washington; director of the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief; president of The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the greatest non-governmental organized service in the United States; and as trustee of manifold educational and scientific foundations."

In responding to the presentation of the medal, Mr. Gifford said in part:

"I like to feel that your award of this medal to me is a recognition that business is an activity which plays an important part in the betterment of mankind, and that a business man, in attending to business, can render distinguished humanitarian service thereby. Those, I understand, are the activities and qualities for which your awards are made.

"I should like to suggest that business men, like others, do not live by bread or material comforts alone and that they, like others, will respond and do their best for the betterment of mankind when their efforts to that end are encouraged.

"America's leadership of the world in well-being did not just happen. Neither is it just because of an abundance of natural resources. It is largely because we have made better use of our natural resources. It is because we have kept opportunity open to all. More than anything else it is because of our encouragement to enterprise and to management, produced more often than not from the ranks."
