County Churches Act on Civic Questions.

At a recent meeting of the Calvert County Churches, unanimous action was taken in favor of the 48-hour marriage law and against the lottery amendment both of which will be voted on in the State election November 8th.

The marriage law enacted in 1937, provides a 48-hour waiting period between the time when a marriage license is applied for and the time when it issues. A petition originating in Howard County to operate until a referendum vote of the people either approves or rejects it. Jews, Catholics and Protestants alike, along with many civic groups throughout the State, whole-heartedly approve the law, which is similar to others enacted in neighboring states.

In 1935 the legislature voted to repeal a provision of the Maryland Constitution prohibiting lotteries. The amendment now before the electorate for action. The Council of Churches is vigorously opposing the suggestion, on the ground that the legalization of lotteries would open the way to an unprecedented amount of gambling in the state, with extremely undesirable social consequences.

The stand taken by the Council of Churches was unanimously approved at its recent session of the Quarterly Conference of Calvert Circuit, Methodist Episcopal Church.

New "Pocahontas" Play.

So far as Calvert county is concerned "Pocahontas," the Indian musical comedy to be given in Prince Frederick some time in November for the benefit of the agricultural department of the Calvert County High School, had its birth nearly twenty-six years ago. It was given here first in December, 1912, and quite a few of the original cast are married with grown soldiers. The musical comedy was repeated a least six times, given the last time in 1926. For the last one or two performances an additional act was written but that particular act has since been lost, and a new one written to take its place. It is felt that "Pocahontas" has improved with the years, and now is better than ever, with the addition of new songs, new dances, new faces and added characters. The probable date of the performance to be given here in the Town Hall, will be on Saturday night, November 19th, but it will be definitely announced next week. The next rehearsal will be on Monday night next, October 24th in the Town Hall, and it is hoped as many of the cast as possibly can attend will be present.
