OCTOBER 29, 1938.

Governor Lane in his campaign claims credit for constructive measures that the Democrats passed and at the same time claims that the same Legislature are responsible for the short comings of his administration. If he is correct in the latter claim it is a strong argument in favor of having a Governor who has the right influence in obtaining legislation necessary to enable him to carry out his constructive measures. No one will doubt for a minute that the homes of the next General assembly will be Democratic, and to obviate any such condition as the Governor claimed as obstructive, it behooves the voters to select as Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, who will have the support of the Legislature.

In this connection the people of Calvert will find it to their interest to elect a Senate and members of the House of Delegates who will be affiliated with the party in power.

Gate Post to be Dedicated.

On Sunday, November 6th, the handsome new brick gate posts, with tablet, at All Saints Protestant Episcopal Church will be dedicated with appropriate and impressive services. The service of Holy Communion will be celebrated at 11 A. M. by the Rev. Frank Meisle, of Virginia, and the dedication will take place after the service.

The brick gate posts at the north and south entrances to the cemetery were erected by the Ladies Guild of the parish. These at the southern entrance are supported by a short formal wall on either side, and on one of the posts at that entrance is a bronze plate presented by Mrs. Gertrude Smith Graham, of Baltimore, a former member of the Parish. On the plate or tablet is the inscription, "All Saints, Founded 1692."

Rev. George W. Norris is minister in charge of All Saints.

County Fair.

The Calvert County Fair held here on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week, brought out a splendid display of exhibits in every department. The exhibits were considerably larger than last year, and of great excellence, especially in some shown for the first time, we think. This particularly applies to the exhibits of tobacco, corn, fruit and vegetables, jellies and preserves, flowers and household articles. The judging was not finished in time for this paper to publish the names of any of the prize winners, but we hope to publish the awards in our next issue. John E. Morsell, County Agent, and his large and able staff of workers are to be congratulated on this bigger and better Calvert County Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ward were given a shower at their home on Saturday evening last by their many friends.

Miss Hazel Owings, of Washington, is spending a week at the home of her parents.

Miss Virginia Norfolk spent the week-end in Baltimore.

Churches to Fight Lottery Amendment.

The Interracial Committee of the Calvert county churches is absolutely opposed to the lottery amendment and calls upon the good citizens of Calvert county to vote against this enemy of good government. Legalized lotteries will mean legalized gambling, and gambling in any form is the great destroyer of personality, always destructive to the home and the community. A legalized lottery is the door through which new racketeers enter the community. Therefore, the International Legislative Committee of Calvert County Churches urge the members of our churches and citizens to vote against the lottery amendment which will be on the ballot November 8th for your consideration.
