A cordial invitation is extended to any persons who may care to attend the service.

The December meeting of the North Beach Town Council was held on Monday, December 12th, at the Town Hall Mayor George W. Calver presided, and all of the councilmen and treasurer were present. A budget committee of three councilmen, Robert S. Mead, J. J. Sanders and B. I. Burdette, was appointed by the Mayor. Mrs. Willard Ward was elected town clerk. The Judges of election appointed were J. C. Shaw, M. Tucker and S. C. Cockrill. The appointment of various other committees was deferred until the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Merrill Ward, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the North Beach Volunteer Fire Department, and Mrs Robert S. Mead, member of the Executive Board of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Mary and State Firemen's Association, attended a meeting of the Board held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, on Wednesday December 7th. Mrs Lassie Marshall, of Reisterstown, president of the State organization, appointed Mrs. Mead as chairman of District No. 1, to serve on the nominating committee. This District covers Prince George's, Anne Arundel, Charles, St. Mary's and Calvert counties, and comprises twenty two auxiliaries.

"Pocohontas" Achieves Marked Success.

"Pocohontas," like springtime and other perennial experiences, blossomed forth again last Saturday night, when given in the Prince Frederick Town Hall, before a large and very appreciative audience. New and old members of the Players Club presented it with immense success. The proceeds will be applied to needs of the agricultural department of the Calvert county High school. Of particular significance were the addition of new characters and an entire new act which brightened the offering without altering its atmosphere. The costuming was particularly rich and elaborate, and authentic.

Miss Alma Hughes Harkness appeared to splendid advantage in the title role, while Alonza Young, with his fine baritone, made a stalwart "John Rolfe." William W. Duke, as, in the past, played the role of "John Smith." Mrs. Harry H. Harkness carried off top honors as "Ann Elias Brown." Carey E. Lacey, as "Powhatan," was most impressive and quite in character. Laveille Hance showed much acting ability as "Mahogony." Mrs. Alonza Young was most amusing as "Eagle's Hind Foot." "Little Flirt With Anything" was interpreted with decided grace and charm by Mrs. T. Newton Gibson, Jr. James Young made the small part of "Speckled Hand-r" most interesting.

Mrs. T. Reed Hofstetter sang "Indian Love Call" during the second act. Carl Gibson, as "Little Singing Foot," showed a definite sense of rhythm in his solo dance.

Here who appeared as Indian maids were Misses Harper Hardesty, Dorothy Tucker, Anne Carpenter, Dorothy Trott, Virginia Skinner, Thelma Buckler, Dorothy Hance, Theresa Trueman Mary Ellen Hance and Vivien Cox.

The boys who acted the part of Indian braves were: Maurice J. Bowen, Jr., Leroy Denton, Benjamin Dowell, Jr., William Bowen, Elliott Theckelle, Stewart Sheckells, Samuel Bowen, Charles Cox, Homer Hardesty, John Hall, Jr., and Alfred Young.

Mrs. Robert Harkness at the piano, showed her usual skill as accompanist, and played select one between acts.

Mrs William W. Duke was prompter and business manager.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius S. Trott celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Tuesday last at their home at Huntingtown. Owing to the slightly frail health of Mrs. Trott, it was a quiet celebration, with their children, near relatives and a few intimate friends present. A fine dinner was served, and a wedding cake was in the center of the refreshment table.

Mr. and Mrs Trott were married at Miranda, M. E. Church on December 13th, 1888, by Rev Daniel Hassell. Before his marriage Mrs. Trott was a Miss Lyons

Other couples married at Huntingtown the same year were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gibson, Sr., and Mrs Bernard L. Crawford Mr. and Mrs. John L. Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Elisha L. Gibson. The first mentioned couple celebrated their golden wedding some weeks past.

To Stamp Collectors.

If you are a stamp collector or looking around for an interesting hobby, here is a suggestion from Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the Maryland State Department of Health. "If you haven't done so already," Dr. Riley said, "start this year to make a collection of tuberculosis Christmas seals."

"Just as in postage stamps," he continued, "there is some distinctive feature in each series of the tuberculosis seals to add to the interest. This year it happens to be biographical. In the corners of each sheet of a hundred seals you will find the portraits of four pioneers in the fight against tuberculosis. First comes Theophile Laennec, the young French doctor and research worker, who, in 1816, accidentally discovered from observing some boys at play, that sounds were greatly intensified if listened to through some appropriate medium. He applied the principal, crudely at first and laterdevel oped it into what he called a 'stethoscope,' meaning chest examiner, a device that is now an essential part of the equipment of every doctor. The stethoscope was only one of Laennec's contributions to the early study of tuberculosis.

"In another corner is a tiny portrait of Robert Koch, the great German bacteriologist, who in 1882, after years of painstaking study, isolated the germ that causes tuberculosis. Koch's discovery eventually revolutionized the treatment of the disease, which for centuries had ranked as the 'Captain of the Men of Death.'

"Portrait number three is that of a great American leader in the fight against tuberculosis Edward Livingston Trudeau—a young New York physician, who developed the disease, and, in 1873, went to the Adirondacks to spend what he thought would be the few years remaining to him, in his beloved mountains. Instead of dying, he began to improve, and took up again the practice of medicine. A translation of Koch's research on his discovery reached him. He communicated with him; got a supply of the living germs from Koch's laboratory, and began his own study of them. In 1884, at Saranac Lake, he opened the first sanitorium in the United States for the modern treatment of tuberculosis. The great laboratory and the sanatorium that bear Trudeau's name were developed from these early beginnings, and led the way for similar services in other parts of the country.

"The last portrait in the quartet is that of Holbpoll, the Danish postal clerk, who in 1904, suggested the use of the tuberculosis Christmas seals, as a means of raising funds for the fight against tuberculosis. The idea was widely adopted and the annual Christmas seal sale soon became an important way of raising money for the tuberculosis campaign in many countries. Each country originates i s own designs and many are very beautiful. All have one symbol in common—the double barred cross that is the mark all over the world of the fight against tuberculosis.

"The seals sold in this country are gotten out by the National Tuberculosis Association. The four tiny portraits are only a part of this year's series. The remaining 96 seals in each sheet of a hundred, carry a tiny picture of a family and emphasize the thought of protecting the home from tuberculosis."

Convicted of Manslaughter.

Mrs. Margaret Abell was tried here in the Circuit Court before a jury on Friday of last week, charged with the murder of William Warren Gantt on July 12th last. The jury, of which Bernard G. Loveless was foreman, after deliberating twenty minutes, rendered a verdict of manslaughter, immediately after the jury announced the verdict, Associate Judge William Maverell took and sentenced the prisoner to ten year's imprisonment in the Maryland Penitentiary. She was taken to the Penitentiary to begin her sentence the same night. Mrs. Abell had as her attorneys David A. Harkness and J. Frank Parran. Benjamin Lance was her senior counsel at the time of the preliminary hearing, but he had to retire from the case due to illness. State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell was the prosecuting attorney. As at the trial of Walter Stinnett in December last and 2nd, the Court Room where the trial was held was packed with people, many standing, from the morning when the trial began, until after 10 o'clock at night, when it ended.

Stinnett, who was convicted here in the Circuit Court Friday night of last week by a jury of murder in the first degree without capital punishment, was sentenced by the Court to life imprisonment. Mrs. Evelyn Bajowski the third member of the trio accused of the crime, will be tried probably next week at Frederick, Md., where her case was taken after her attorneys, Elliott and Elliott, of Baltimore, were granted a change of venue.

Items from Solomons.

On Thursday evening, December 22nd, at 8 o'clock, a Christmas program will be given by the pupils of the Solomon's high and elementary schools in the school building

On Christmas Eve at midnight service will be held in St Peter's Church. There will be special music. The soloists will be Mrs. Ormsby F. Webster and Mrs Charles Dagnall. On Sunday morning at 9 30 o'clock a short Christmas service will be held at St. Peter's, and at 11 o'clock at Middleham Chapel.

Mrs J. C. Webster has closed her home here and gone to Indian Head, Md., to spend the winter.

We are sorry to report that the condition of Mr. Perry F. Evans, sick for some while, is definitely worse.

Miss Grace Webster returned yesterday from Hannah More Academy, to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ormsby F. Webster.

Billy Hellen, of Dickinson College will return here next week to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halvor H. Hellen.

Elementary School Entertainment.

The children of the Prince Frederick school will present a very interesting program on Saturday, December 17th, in the school, beginning at 8 P. M. The program will consist of two parts. The first part, a pageant, "Christmas Night," consists of carols and the lovely Christmas story. The second part, "The Toy Bazaar," an operetta in one act, is a very unusual feature, characterized by clever lines and pleasing music. The program promises to be as good as any former productions given at the school. Your attendance is requested. Admission—Adults, 25 cents; children not enrolled in the school, 15 cents.
