NEW THEATRE

Jimmy Lewis' New Theatre program opens next week with one of the most "dangerous" films of the year. The picture is said to give Bette Davis an even greater opportunity to display her rare dramatic genius than did "Of Human Bondage" or "Bordertown" has been booked by Mr. Lewis for showing on Monday and Tuesday.

The picture is the Warner Bros. drama "Dangerous," in which Miss Davis is supported by Franchot Tone who has the leading masculine role and Margaret Lindsay, again her rival in love.

"Dangerous," which has been hailed as a masterpiece wherever it has been produced, is sheer, stark drama, featuring both the glamor and the shadows of Broadway life. It is the story of the most brilliant actress of her day, who was loved by many, but who loved only her own career and who sacrificed everything and everybody to her ambitions.

Faith Baldwin's ultra-modern metropolitan conflict between the loves of two women—his wife whom he adores and his secretary whom he respects—is recommended by this reviewer to all those in search for the best entertainment of 1936.

Above everything else, however, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Wife Versus Secretary," next Wednesday and Thursday playing at the New Theatre, has the great starring combination of Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Myrna Loy heading the admirable cast so ably directed by Clarence Brown.

"Wife Versus Secretary" is a most modern story of Van Sanford (Clark Gable), prosperous young magazine publisher; his wife Linda (Myrna Loy), and his lovely and capable secretary, Miss Wilson (Jean Harlow).

One of the most thrilling adventure pictures of the season is "Dangerous Waters," the Universal drama which shows next Friday and Saturday with Jack Holt in the starring role.

Here, indeed is a picture that you will want to see. The action takes place against the romantic background of the Pacific, with Holt as a sea captain who is constantly the center of exciting events.

"Grand Exit," Columbia's timely and dramatic production of the G-men of the fire-investigators, will be on view at the New Theatre Saturday of next week. Seen in the leading roles are Edmund Lowe and Ann Sothern, blonde star of "The Girl Friend," who made her screen debut about two years ago opposite Lowe in "Let's Fall in Love."

NORTH EAST THEATRE

Forty dollars to the lucky winner at J. M. Smith's North East Theatre next Tuesday night and all you have to do is purchase a ticket to see one of the most outstanding pictures of the year, "The Bride Comes Home." • If your ticket happens to be the lucky one, and you never can tell, Mr. Smith will present you with the substantial amount of forty simoleons. Of course you will have to be present on Tuesday night for the drawing.

It has taken Fred MacMurray just a year to establish himself as a top man in Hollywood and the people of the film capital, who have made a favorite of him, say he is one of the most refreshing personalities to come among them in a long time.

The tall black-haired, blue-eyed actor is co-starred with Claudette Colbert, in "The Bride Comes Home," which shows at North East Monday and Tuesday. It is his second engagement playing opposite Miss Colbert and critics say it is his second "smash" picture.

The role of Bella Street, efficient but flip secretary of Perry Mason, lawyer detective in the First National picture, "The Case of the Lucky Legs," which comes on Wednesday and Thursday, came easy for Genevieve Tobin.

None of the involved secretarial routine which she had to go through bored her at all. She reeled off shorthand notes that were the real thing, not just scrawls. She also typed her notes at a furious rate of speed.

Yet when asked by Warren William, the star, whether she had held a job as secretary in the past, she had to admit that she never did.

Adventure and romance, drama and comedy, are deftly blended in "Whipsaw," which brings Myrna Loy to the screen in a new hit with Spencer Tarcy as her co-star.

The picture shows Wednesday and Thursday at North East.

Seldom has Hollywood given America can theatregoers a more happily mated team of stars than Miss Loy and Tracy. The latter has a role in which his delightful brand of egotism and bombast is temptered with an entirely human romance.

STATE THEATRE, NEWARK

Tonight is the "big night" at the State Theatre, Newark, when Manager Louis Handloff will hand some lucky theatre patron the sum of seventy-five dollars in cash. Five additional prizes of one dollar each will also be presented.

The feature picture for tonight and Friday night at the State is "The Petrified Forest," starring two of the most popular dramatic stars of the screen, Leslie Howard and Bette Davis. The Saturday show is a double feature attraction, "The Garden Murder Case," featuring Edmund Lowe, also "Eagles Brood," with William Boyd and Jimmy Ellison.

Al Jolson's latest starring picture, "The Singing Kid," is the attraction for Monday and Tuesday while "Preview Murder Mystery," with Reginald Denny and Frances Drake, will be shown next Wednesday and Thursday.

Beginning Monday, April 27, the State will be operated on Daylight Saving Time. Two shows will be presented each night at 7:30 and 9:30 D. S. T. and the Saturday show starting at 3 o'clock daylight time.

W. C. Glee Club Program At North East

The Washington College Glee Club, of Chestertown, will present a program in the high school auditorium at North East on the evening of Friday, May 8. This will be the Chestertown group's first appearance in North East and a large attendance is expected.

Several Injured In Shooting And Stabbing Affair

Several colored men were seriously injured Monday night late in a general "free for all" fight at Cecilton. One man, Russell Fields, alleged to have been shot by William Coates, is in a serious condition at Union Hospital.

Sheriff Eugene Racine arrested Richard Carleton, James Harris, Norman Wilson, Wesley Garrison and Wilbur Wilson, all colored, and is holding them at jail pending the outcome of Fields' injuries.

Edward Harris was cut in the throat and was also taken to the hospital. Carleton was stabbed in the chest and several of the others were treated for cuts and other injuries.
