Transcriptions from Dover Gem.—I have just returned from a short, but very pleasant trip to the town of Easton, Talbot county. In order to reach Easton, and more particularly to systematically accomplish the object of my visit, I passed through several important districts of Queen Anne's and Caroline, and made quite a stay in the little town of Denton, and became acquainted with several members of the School Board of that county. I found their Examiner to be a very pleasant gentleman, fully alive to the interest of his charge. I reached Easton on the day previous to the close of the High School conducted by my friend Julius G. Miller, whom I was very glad to meet, and especially under such flattering circumstances. He has a flourishing military school, in which he takes great pride, being, as you possibly know, a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute. This is not, however, a mere drill school, unless Cæsar, Cicero, Virgil, Horace, Zenophon and Homer, Bourdon, Legendre and the Calculus are drill matters. I was present at the examinations, which were conducted mainly by the Professor, assisted by the accomplished examiner of the school board. It is due to this gentleman to say that he is a teacher as well as examiner. Of this I was forcibly struck by his questions during the examination, and thoroughly convinced of it on the next day from a speech he made upon, now the vexed question of School Boards, Text Books or no Text Books, in the school room during recitation.

As a matter of course I was not altogether forgetful of our Institution. Neither did I find the people at all unmindful that Washington College was a Maryland College; a home institution for the education of the sons of Maryland.

I found your brethern of the Press willing to do their part, and from the interest manifested by the people generally, all that we have to do as a college is, to make our claims known throughout this Peninsula, and show that we are able to teach those seeking our instruction, and a large increase will be the result. I met the other gentlemen, professors in Colleges, making acquaintances, and advertising in the papers. It must be profitable to them. Would it be hazardous to follow their example, "bid on their judgment," if ours does not wholy accord in this matter.

I should do the farmer great injustice, [illegible] to pass silently by the beautiful farms under the highest state of cultivation.

I should do enterprise and progress greater injustice were I to fail to mention that in this very short trip, I crossed two railroads, almost completed. Let no longer our tide-water people be trameled with the trite and vulgar censure "your'e behind the times."

My stay in Easton, I leave to you to decide whether pleasant or not. I expect to return again in a few days, when possibly you may be troubled with another trip. Your friend and ob't. sev't.,

ALEX. HOGG.

THE SIAMESE TWINS.—Chang and Eng Bunker, the Siamese Twins, returned from Europe in the City of Antwerp, which arrived on Sunday at New York. They deny that they left America for the purpose of being separated, and say that the rumor to that effect was merely a sensation of Barnum's. The link which binds them seems to have shrunken of late, and they are more closely joined than before. The say that they are now determined to settle down for the remainder of their lives in Mount Airy, North Carolina, their old home, in which they spent thirty years as Southern planters. In the evening Mr. Newall, father of Gen. Grant, Jr., and Miss Jennett Swan, a fair young sister of the celebrated giantess, called upon the twins, who were highly delighted to see them. Messrs. Bunker inquired after the physical condition of their old friend, the petite General, and were informed that he was in excellent health and spirits, and would pay them a visit on the following evening. Chang and Eng Bunker are now over 58 years of age. Chang has a family of nine and Eng of eight.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE LATE ECLIPSE.—A correspondent of a Philadelphia paper thus writes of a prolonged "totality:"

"Few people trouble themselves to think what the effect would be if the eclipse of Saturday were to last any length of time, and the sun were blotted from the heavens. Philosophy declares that not only would a horror of darkness cover the earth, but the moisture of the air would be precipitated in vast showers to the earth, and the temperature fall to a fearful point of cold, nothing less than 230 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. The earth would be the seat of darkness and more than Artic desolation. Nothing could survive such freezing cold a moment more than one could breath in scalding water. In three days after the cooling process began, nothing created would be alive but the monsters that wallow in deep ocean, and the eyeless reptiles that make their haunts in caves which penetrate far underground."

THE DEATH OF THE POPE'S BROTHER.—The Pope has been much distressed by the sudden death of his elder brother, Michael Mastal, who died July 15th, [illegible] at the advanced age of nine[illegible] months. A letter from [illegible] was of such a vig[illegible] he would probably [illegible] more had he not [illegible] down stairs, the acci[illegible] him a concussion of [illegible] injuries [illegible] recover from. Result of the Tennessee Election —Repudiation of the Brownlow Debt Advocated.

NASHVILLE, August 11.—Senter's majority is 62,000, with nineteen counties to hear from. The State Senate, composed of 25 members, stands 21 conservatives, 4 conservative republicans. The House, composed of 84 members, stands 65 conservatives, 9 radicals and 6 conservative republicans, with two districts to hear from.

In a speech at Milan, Tenn., on State affairs, Mr. Ethridge announced his opposition to paying any portion of the $20,000,000 debt contracted under the Brownlow administration.

A GERMAN CUSTOM.—A letter from Weimar says they have two very pretty customs there connected with the erection of houses. One is that a young child always drives the first nail into one of the timbers, and an inscription is made upon the wood, bearing the name and age of the child, date of erection, &c. Then when the house is raised a few planks are laid for flooring in an upper story, when the master builder, his workmen and all well-disposed friends assemble to sing a song of praise to God for the safe accomplishment thus for of their undertaking. Then a band of music plays, numerous bottles of wine are drunk, and there are speeches, toasts and huzzas from stentorian German throats.

RAILROAD OPENED.—On Tuesday Mr. Sewall, Superintendent of the Delaware Railroad, formally opened the newly completed section of the Kent and Queen Anne Railroad, from Twonsend to Millington, and on Wednesday peach cars commenced running, the Delaware company operating the road. This opens to trade and travel thirteen miles more of our Peninsular railroad system. The company have not yet issued a time table, nor made any announcement regarding passenger traffic. Arrangements are now making to run the mail stage to Millington instead of Clayton. This ought to effect a reduction in fare, from Crumpton to Philadelphia, of at least one dollar.—Crumptonian.

DIPTHERIA—Look to Your Cellars.—Many cases of diptheria are known to arise from undue dampness of cellars. The importance of a careful examination of his premises should not be overlooked by any really practical and considerate man. A writer in the Boston Journal of Chemistry thus speaks of this matter: "Diptheria, typhoid and scarlet fever, and many other serious illness have their origin in cellars both in the city and country, and we can do our readers no greater service than to urge them to see that, at all times, they are in dry, sweet, wholesome condition."

ANDREW JOHNSON'S IDENTURE.—The following is a copy of ex-President Johnson's indenture as a tailor's apprentice.—The original document is said to be in possession of a person in Detroit:

"This is to certify that it is my desire that my son Andrew Johnson is bound an apprentice to James J. Selby to learn the taylor's trade, and that he is to serve him faithfully until he is 21 years old.

"Andrew Johnson was born in the year 1808, December 26th.

A CURIOSITY FOR THE LADIES.—There is now on exhibition, at Mr. J W. Collins' store, in Chestertown, by the Agent of the firm of Peterson & Carpenter of Baltimore, a new style Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine. It will work button holes, gather and sew on at the same time, ruffle and hemstitch, beside doing all other kinds of sewing. Instruction is given at the house of the purchaser before pay is demanded. Machines are warranted, and sold on six months time, or by monthly payment of ten dollars, remitted by mail: it uses no shuttle, and makes the lock-stitch.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC ADVOCATE.—"My wife from a six years' previous use of a Wheeler & Wilson Machine, came to the use of a Grover & Baker with reluctance. But in a few weeks prejudice vanished, admiration succeeded, and now the Grover & Baker has no more enthusiastic advocate than she.—The simplicity of its construction, the facility with which its use is acquired, the beauty, strength, and elasticity of its stitch, and its adaptability to all kinds of work, are qualities which do not all belong at once to any other machine."—Letter from Professor Henshaw, of Williston Seminary.

RUTH'S
Challenge Soluble Phosphate,

THE most active and durable FERTILIZER ever offered to the Farmer. This article is manufactured expressly to take the place of A. No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and will be found as active as Guano and much more durable in its effects. It is made upon the principle that the measure of our prosperity is the prosperity of the farmer, and every farmer who uses it may confidentially rely upon large Crops unless injured by providential acts. It is indeed the "Challenge" Fertilizer of the times and to order that it may always remain such we have engaged in its preparation the very best chemical skill in this country.

Combination Burning Fluid.

THE undersigned announces to the citizens of Kent that he is the possessor of the right to make and vend the above named fluid in this county, and for that purpose has taken up his residence in Chestertown, on Queen St., opposite the Tabernacle of the M. E. Church, South.

This fluid is universally conceded to be in every respect the equal, and in many respects the superior of Kerosene. Among the many advantages it possesses may be mentioned the following:

1st. It is not explosive. 2d. It may be burned in hand lamps without a chimney and without smoke. 3d. It does not grease or soil any article of clothing, carpet, book, or print upon which it may be accidently spilled. 4th. It makes a better light, and and more of it, than any other illuminating compound—soft, clear, steady, and uninjurious to the eyes. 5th. It is the cheapest and best renovating compound known, extracting grease, pitch or paint, without injuring the finest fabrics. 6th. It emits no unpleasant odor, while burning, however low the wick may be turned down.

The M. P. Church in Chestertown is lighted with this fluid.
