DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

DANIEL M. HENRY,

OF DORCHESTER COUNTY.

BUTLER'S campaign in Massachusetts causes the "solid men of Boston" and the prunes-and-prism aristocracy of Beacon street many groans. It will be a disgrace to the "venerable old Commonwealth" to have such a man as Butler for Governor, and yet they find they cannot defeat him by holding on to their fortresses of respectability. They must come down from their mountain heights, and come down heavily, too, in the way of contributions to the campaign funds, if they want to keep the shrewd old agitator out of the object of his ambition. Butler came very near getting the Republican nomination for Governor a short time back, and in the towns and cities he has a noisy and active following, who may be able to much more than neutralize the Beacon street vote, and may, perhaps, destroy the majority which the western part of the State may roll up against him. Massachusetts, as the experience of 1876 showed, is no longer necessarily safe for a Republican candidate, and the Greenback movement is reported to have made great headway there, as it has also in Maine.—Baltimore Bulletin.

DISCHARGED.—A hearing in the case of John Mines, the colored man who shot his wife near Hillsborough on Saturday week, was had before Esquire Tarman on Wednesday last. States Attorney Brown representing the state. It appeared in testimony that Mines had said to a friend that "Margaret [his wife] was sick and wanted a squirrel, and that he would in the afternoon go out and shoot her one." It was whilst capping his gun that the accident occurred, as Mines claims the hammer slipping from under his thumb exploding the cap and thus discharging the gun into the left breast of the woman who happened to be standing in front of it, killing her instantly. Witnesses were brought upon the stand who testified to the good character of Mines and wife, and to the apparent happy life lead by them as man and wife.—The testimony so clearly set forth the man's innocence of any wilful killing that the State's Attorney directed that the prisoner be discharged, which was done.—Centreville Observer.

THE reason given by Guizot for the prosperity of the French is full of interest: "Habits of prudence have penetrated all classes. There are very few families, even among the lower classes, that spend all their income. A single manufacturer in my town of Sisieux puts by, and has long done so, 600,000 francs a year. The wealth of France has at least doubled during fifty years; and, as the population has augmented during that time by only one-tenth, it is obvious that the comfort of the people has increased enormously.

MR CHAS. DERRICKSON, near Middletown, met with a serious accident last week. He was directing a colored driver who was operating a reaper, how to drive to avoid peach tree stumps in a field, when getting too near the reaper he came in contact with the knives, which striking the back part of both ankles, he was seriously cut, the tendon of the left ankle being severed. His physicians entertain hope of his recovery without permanent lameless.

A CHURCH THAT DOSEN'T HARBOR BEECHERS.—The Protestant Episcopal House of Bishops has sustained the high moral reputation of the Church in its deposition of the Rev. Dr. McCoskry, of Michigan, from all offices of the ministry. This Christian organization has never yet failed to assert the requirement of a wholly blameless priesthood. Bishop McCoskry's fall takes its place with the melancholy record of the Onderdonks, and leaves no blemish upon the Episcopalians such as attched to the Congregationalists in the Beecher case.—Springfield Republican.

AND has it come to this! that a wife no longer has the right to chastise her husband without being considered a lunatic? Here is a Mr. Fagan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who wants his wife adjudged insane simply because she poured boiling coffee down his back. If a precedent is established in this case extra accommodations for lunatics will be necessary in the vicinity of New York, where such little incidents are of almost daily occurrence.

MR ADAM MAHOOD of Clayton, has raised the present season the champion acre of clover. He has already harvested 10,630 lbs., or nearly five tons and from the third crop which will soon be ready to cut, he expects to gather another ton. Last spring he spread broad cast fifty-five one horse cart loads of well-rotted stable manure to this acre, hence the yield.

THE total levy for Caroline county for 1878, including State and county, is $1,05¾ on the $100. Last year the levy was $1,03¼ on the $100, being two and a half cents increase upon last year. The increase in the county tax is one cent over that of last year.

THE Hartford Democrat is responsible for the statement that at a recent crab dinner by a party of fishermen the meal of one of the party consisted of 50 crabs, a large dish of tomatoes, a large canteloup and drank a pitcher of butter milk. He afterward complained of feeling badly.

QUININE has advanced in price, until it is now higher than it has before been in this country since the war. This is attributed not only to the spread of malarial disease, but to the falling off of the supply of bark, owing to troubles among the South American tribes of Indians, who are the principal gathers. They have shipped no bark for eight or nine months.

A CURIOUS AFFLICTION.—Several days ago Miss Maggie Lewis, of Glendon, was in the act of passing a cup of coffee to a person at the table when she felt a tickling sensation run the entire length of her arm, and suddenly the arm and hand became numb—perfectly dead, her hand closed, and the strongest man in Glendon is unable to open the fingers. The arm and hand are perfectly senseless. Miss Lewis is a robust and healthy woman of eighteen years of age.—York (Pa.) Daily.

THE pay of a Congaessman is five thousand dollars a year, ten cents per mile traveling expenses, going to and from the seat of government, and about $100 a year as an allowance for stationery and newspapers.

COFFEE AND RHEUMATISM.—One of our late exchanges narrates with much detail a case of a merchant who was very fond of coffee, drinking it twice a day, and three or four cups at a time. About two years ago he began to suffer from rheumatism, his attacks being so severe that he could not sleep, and for days together depriving him of the use of his arms. His physician, after trying various remedies without avail, recommended the discontinuance of coffee, which as it increased bile and nervousness, contributed to the disorder. The patient followed the medical advice with excellent effect. The rheumatism decreased steadily. In three months he was entirely free from it, and has never had it since except some six months since, when, returning to his coffee, the trouble immediately reappeared. We should have thought there might be reason to believe coffee a creator of rheumatism, if we had not read the same week of a well-authenticated instance of a woman suffering from the disease to such an extent that she had to keep her bed for weeks at a time. She was advised to drink strong black coffee (she had always used tea) twice a day, and in six weeks she experienced relief, and in four months her pain had wholly ceased. In one case coffee caused, and in another coffee cured, rheumatism. Which story is to be believed? Both may be true, for medical, like general experience, proves the old saw, that one man's meat is another man's poison.

The thirteenth section provides that no person shall be entitled to be or remain registered in any precinct or election district, unless he shall have been a resident of the State for one year, and of the city of Baltimore, or of the county in which registration is claimed, for six months next preceding the next ensuing election, at which such registration would be evidence of the right of the person so registered to vote; and in case any county or city shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of representatives in congress, delegates or other officers, then to entitle a person to be or remain registered in any particular section or part of such county or city, he must have been a resident of that part or section of the electoral district in which he claims to be or is registered for six months next preceding the next election, at which such registration would be evidence of the right of the person so registered to vote; and the residence necessary to entitle any person to be or remain so registered, shall be an actual bona fide residence within the precinct or district within which such person may claim to reside and to be registered, and such actual bona fide residence shall be established upon the oath or affirmation of competent evidence to the satisfaction of the register to whom the application is made, and to the satisfaction of the judge or judges to whom any appeal is made under the provisions of this Act; and the neglect or refusal of any person deeming himself aggrieved by the refusal of any officer of registration to register his name, or by the striking off of his name from the list of qualified voters, to appeal by petition from such action, as provided for in this act, shall be deemed and taken to be conclusive evidence that the said person was rightfully refused registration, or that the name of such person was rightfully stricken from the list of qualified voters of such precinct or election district.

The law further provides, that whilst discharging the duties imposed by the several sections of this act, said officers of registration shall have and exercise the powers of a Justice of the Peace for the preservation of order around the place of registration, and may compel the presence of witnesses for the purpose of obtaining any information necessary to an intelligent discharge of the duties of their office; they shall have power to issue summonses, attachments and commitments, to any constable or sheriff, who shall serve such process as if issued by a Judge of a court or a Justice of the Peace.
