GEN. GRANT is now expected to arrive in San Francisco about the 21st inst.

JAY GOULD contributed $5,000, to the yellow fever sufferers of Memphis, and instructed the Howard Association to draw on him when they needed more money, until he forbade.

A BRITISH embassy, recently sent out to Cabul has been massacred. The Embassy was accompanied by fifty infantry and twenty-five cavalry, all of whom were murdered excepting nine soldiers who were not with the company.

MRS. SPRAGUE has filed a petition for the appointment of a trustee to take in charge her property. It is thought that Gov. Sprague will resist in this matter, and that the filing of this petition is only the beginning of a long and bitter contest.

KALLOCH, the laboring men's candidate, for Mayor of San Francisco, and who was recently severely shot by Charles De Young, has been elected. His majority was 1432, and it is highly probable that his being shot gained him that many votes. The laboring men's party also elect sheriff, attorney and several other officers.

WHETHER Mr. John Sherman uses the secretaryship of the treasury successfully or unsuccessfully in forwarding his plan for capturing the presidential nomination, there is said to be little doubt as to one thing, and that is that he is using his present position in such a manner that he will be able to retire rich. There is a certain New York bank in which Sherman has an interest, that has favor shown it in connection with the purchase and sale of U. S. bonds, that will ultimately redound very handsomely to the pecuniary benefit of Mr. John Sherman, so that whether he ultimately fills the presidential chair or not, he will at least be well provided for.

THE latest great scheme in way of national enterprises, that has been placed before the public for discussion, is the bridging of the English channel. The shortest distance across the channel is twenty-one miles. About nine miles from the English coast is a rocky shallow varying from seven to fifty feet in depth, and here it is proposed to build a dividing station. The channel is to be spanned by two bridges one of nine the other of twelve miles in length, the station built up in the Channel to be the end of one bridge and the beginning of another. There will very likely be several years to elapse before these bridges are built. The average Englishman will prefer making his tour to the Continent on a steamboat, to trusting himself to a ride in a railway carriage over a twelve mile bridge.

THE Republican county convention met again last Thursday for the purpose of filling out the ticket. J. Frank Wilson had declined to serve as delegate to the legislature, and Wilbur C. Stevens was put on in his place. George W. Harper was put on in the place of F. H. Harper, who had declined to serve as county commissioner. It is said that only one colored delegate was present at the meeting. This looks as though the colored people were not quite able to swallow that ticket. When they first made out the ticket they left off Col. Hanson. (THEY DIDN'T CUT HIM, THOUGH, WE WANT THAT UNDERSTOOD, BECAUSE WE HAVE BEEN RELIABLY INFORMED THAT HE DIDN'T FEEL CUT AT ALL, NOT AT ALL.) Perhaps the Colonel is the pill, however, that the colored folks can't swallow. It is quite true that the Colonel did write a glowing, eloquent, high sounding Democratic pamphlet in which the idea was conveyed that it was a matter of impossibility for himself and friends ever to be anything else than white souled Democrats. That has been two or three months ago, however, and the Colonel has doubtless changed his mind since then. He should write another pamphlet and correct the wrong impression that has gone out about himself, and should show up the error of his past life—in being a white souled Democrat. The Colonel and his friends are not pining after office. No, no, no. Perish the thought! It is to be hoped that the colored voters may not think that.

RULES FOR THE SENDER OF REGISTERED LETTERS.

"Postmasters before receiving a letter for registration must require the sender to have it fully and legibly addressed; to have his or her name and address indorsed across the end; to have placed all its contents in a firmly sealed envelope; and affixed the necessary stamps to pay postage and fee. See page 177, Sec. 814, Postal Laws and Regulations."

POSTMASTERS MUST NOT ADDRESS AND SEAL LETTERS.—"Postmasters and their employees are forbidden to address a registered letter for the sender, to place contents in a letter, or to affix the stamps. This must, in all cases, be done by the sender, as required in 814. See page 177, Sec. 816, Postal Laws and Regulations."

MATTER CANNOT BE DELIVERED UNTIL POSTAGE DUE IS PAID.—No mail matter shall be delivered until the postage due thereon has been paid. See page 88, Sec. 268, Postal Laws and Regulations.

"Postage—due stamps must be affixed and cancelled, before the matter on which the postage due goes from the office, under a penalty of fifty dollars for neglecting to affix."

Peninsula News.

The Reed bird season has opened in Delaware.

On Friday night of last week 20,000 crocus were hauled upon the beach at Lewes.

It is said that a single merchant in Harrington lost $1,000 in ten days in buying and shipping peaches.

About fifty distilleries are in operation in Sussex county this season, and each distillery will turn out from eight to ten barrels of brandy.

Mr. Cox, near Felton, has picked 800 baskets of peaches from 600 trees, and has about 500 more baskets yet. His profit from six acres of trees will reach $500, or $83.33⅓ per acre. His orchard has borne a full crop for six consecutive seasons. He carefully cultivates and fertilizes it every year.

John Ash, of Chestnut Hill, near Newark, hanged himself, early on Monday morning of last week, while laboring under an aberration of mind. He attempted to take his life by laudanum a short time ago. The rope with which he ended his life was made fast to one of the rafters of the porch. He was formerly a resident of Wilmington. He leaves a wife and six children.

WILMINGTON CITY ELECTION.—The city election in Wilmington, on Tuesday, resulted in a sweeping Democratic victory. Harry Sharpley, Democratic candidate for President of City Council, was elected by a majority of 404 over Lichtenstein; and Guthrie, Democratic candidate for Treasurer, was chosen over Vincent by a majority of 163. The Democrats also elected ten of the fifteen Councilmen that were chosen.—Middletown Transcript.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

The phylloxera insect is inflicting great injury in the vineyards of Lombardy.

The French revenue had on July 31 exceeded the estimate of it by more than $17,000,000.

In quantity the French harvest will be below the average, but the quality will be excellent.

The proportion of suicides for the quarter ending 30th of June in London was much larger than usual, due partly, no doubt, to the miserable weather.

Since 1859 the average duration of life in Paris has increased by 1½ years. The mean annual morality is put at 20 in 1,000, against 27 in 1,000 in New York.

William Hart of Cambridge, Mass., sat up night after night to read the Bible, but the more he studied it the more he was puzzled, and in final despair he committed suicide.

A party of tourists sought accomodation of a Quakeress in Nantucket. She said: "I can give thee all board, but thee must sleep in coffins." They went away hastily.

The deaths from diarrhœ—the most fruitful cause of mortality in summer in England—have been only one-twelfth of these in 1878, and the season has been generally very healthy.

Victoria (Australia) produced in the first quarter of 1879 2,123 ounces more gold than in the same quarter of last year. Of the miners in the first quarter this year over one-fourth were Chinese.

Messrs. Rothschild were, according to a Parliamentary report, paid £90,414 for advancing the £3,976,582 required suddenly by Lord Beaconsfield to purchase in 1874 Suez Canal shares.

In consequence of the failing crops, the Italian Home Minister has issued a circular to the prefects of the various provinces directing them to call on property owners for work for needy laborers.

The London Spectator complains that the Commission of Inquiry into Agricultural Distress has upon it no representative of the agricultural laborers. The appointment of Mr. Arch would have cost the Government too many votes.

The handsome Boston Globe Theatre is owned in sections by several persons, and one of them, disgusted by failure to agree with the others, is putting up a wall at the edge of his portion. This cuts off a third of the stage and part of the auditorium.

An infant daughter of John Wagner was without his consent, baptized by a Roman Catholic priest in Indianapolis. Wagner, being a Protestant, was displeased, and has sued to compel the erasure of the child's name from the baptismal record of the church.

The Mongols ascertained the number of the enemies slain by cutting off the right ear of each of the dead. In 1239 they collected 270,000 of these from the plains of Russia, and after the battle of Leignitz, in 1241, filled with right ears nine enormous sacks.

Three hundred barrels of illicit whiskey were emptied into a creek by a revenue collector, at Waco, Texas. A crowd of men plunged into stream and drunk all of the liquor possible before it flowed away. They got enough of it to make them all very drunk.

David Yeakle, candidate for re-election as Treasurer of Butler county, Ohio, has withdrawn from the canvass. His stealing of $6,000 of public money was made public in time to blight his prospects, although he confessed the crime and offered to make restitution.

At the present moment England has in commission twenty-four seagoing ironclads and three coast defence ironclads, besides five ironclads and six coast defence ships ready for sea now, and nine seagoing ironclads which might be ready in a month or six weeks.

The London Economist says that only one section of the House of Commons will look back with satisfaction to the past session. The Home Rulers "have done all they can have hoped, and far more than they can have expected. They have made the year little more than a blank in the matter of general legislation."

Policeman John Collins of Chicago shot and killed a thief, whom he caught stealing, and a Grand Jury decided not to indict him, although the homicide was deemed hardly justifiable. Later he clubbed a boy who was noisy in the street, and when the lad ran away fired at him, sending a bullet through his coat. Contrary to what would have been done if the outrage had been committed in the city, Collins was thereupon dismissed from the police force.

George Saunders, of Stanford, Ky., a known desperado, was jocose when intoxicated, and especially delighted in frightening folks by making threats of assault. His acquaintances knew him too well to attach much importance to his drunken freaks. But he went into the store of Mr. Meyers, who had never heard of him as a joker, pointed a pistol at his head and told him that his time had come to die. Meyers hastily drew a revolver and fired four bullets into Saunders, killing him on the spot.

The first performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by that moral dramatic company, under the sanction of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, has been given. It took place in the Michigan Avenue Baptist Church, Chicago. The desk was removed from the platform, and a stage erected, with suitable scenery. The Uncle Tom was Sam Lucas, a genuine negro, formerly a performer in a minstrel company. The rest of the cast contained the names of more or less known actors and actresses. The audience plainly showed their unfamilarity with theatricals, and were vastly pleased; but it is said that the question of the propriety of the show will be discussed before a religious tribunal.

A feature of Austrian prison discipline is the practice of compelling the convict to reflect upon his offence. It is in the discretion of the Judge, on passing sentence of imprisonment, to prescribe also compulsory fasting at stated intervals every year, and to direct in addition to abstention from food, a period of solitary confinement on each anniversary of the commission of the crime. Imprisonment for twenty years, with these additional rigors to the sentence, was recently imposed upon a youthful murderer in Prague. The fasting and solitary confinement are believed by German jurists to have a valuable reformatory influence.

The Assize Court at Perugia, in Italy, has just condemned to death a man named Thomas Londari, who had not only murdered his bother but eatenhim. The two brothers, Thomas and Sebastian Longari, had been on bad terms for a long time, and on Good Friday last Thomas waited for his brother as he returned from mass, and, coming up behind him in a sequestered spot, knocked him down with a blow from an axe, and then chopped his head off. Having done this, he belabored the body with his knife, took out the heart, lungs, and other organs, and placed them upon one side with the head, while he cut up the rest of the body in small pieces and concealed it in a ravine. Taking the head and viscera home with him, he pulled out the teeth and eyes from the head, while the intestines he fried and gave to his wife and children to eat. The other pieces of the body were found soon afterward, and the crime was traced home to him. When his house was searched his wife at once guessed what a horrible meal she had eaten, and her husband frankly told the police that it was so, and declared that he would do the same thing over again if he had the chance.

The Siberian exiles, when released from prison and the mines, have had to choose between starving or stealing the means of subsistence; being deprived of all civil rights, they were not allowed to adopt any honest calling. Such has been the situation of Siberian exiles for centuries. Under the circumstances it was natural that during the warm seasons the Siberian forests should be filled with criminal vagrants, who resorted to begging, stealing, robbing, and murder, in order to keep soul and body together. Both the economical and the moral interests of Siberia suffered from these evils, and the Government has often been petitioned to remedy them. It had been found that, in order to keep all the exiles in prison, it would be necessary to erect a large additional number of prisons, costing not less than fifty millions of roubles. The Government could not spare such a sum of money, and so the Czar recently promulgated an order allowing the exiles to pursue different occupations upon the recommendation and under the surveillance of the local authorities.—The political exiles, however, are denied this right of honestly making a living.

SOME of the friends of Lloyd Lowndes, Jr., are moving to secure for him the Republican nomination for Governor. Mr. Lowndes is a clever gentleman but his nomination would add at least 10,000 to the majority of Mr. Hamilton. The Republican party of Maryland is essentially a negro party. At least 50,000 of its voters have dark pigment under the skin and wool on the cerebrum. While in Congress Mr. Lowndes voted against the Civil Rights bill and opposed nearly all the legislation designed to specially benefit the colored man. For this reason the negroes of Maryland are inclined to look on Mr. Lowndes with distrust. Enough of them remember his treachery to keep alive the prejudice which his acts engendered and if Mr. Lowndes is placed at the head of the State ticket he will be mercilessly cut. In view of all the circumstances the Republicans of Maryland couldn't do a better thing than nominate for Governor Mr. Emory Jackson, of this city. Mr. Jackson is a colored man of marked political sagacity. He is at present employed at Barnum's Hotel and although he has never held a political office he is qualified to hold any position in the gift of the Republican voters of the State.—Balt. Gazette.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS.—The project of a line of steamers between Baltimore and Barrow-in-Furness, a growing port in Lancashire, on the Irish sea, has apparently suggested an effort by the owners of the Anchor Line to anticipate the development of that enterprise by the company which has been formed in England, not only to put on steamers but also establish abattoirs both at Barrow and Baltimore, and carry on an extensive cattle as well as other trade between the two ports. The London Times states that it has been decided to inaugurate within a month a line of steamers between Barrow and New York in connection with the Anchor Line. This shows that Barrow in its progress is exciting attention, though this may be only such a measure as the seeking of employment for idle steamers, of which we have had similar instances of late in the dispatch of steamers for attractive points, or the temporary putting on of lines where freights for the time may be obtained. The docks and buildings designed to be erected on properties at Barrow, as well as at Baltimore, by the Baltimore and Barrow Live Stock Company, imply a deliberate and substantial purpose which is not dependent upon any exigency of the moment. The full facts in regard to this new company were given in The Sun a few weeks since.

BOUND TO SPEND IT.—During an excursion from this city to Niagara Falls, and while at Cleveland, an incident occurred which will never be forgotten by those who heard it. The Kennard House at that city was crowded with guests, when an eccentric and witty druggist of Smithfield street appeared late at night at the hotel office and demanded a bed. The clerk replied that there were only two vacant beds in the house, one wherein was quartered a Pittsburg morning newspaper man, and the other in a room wherein was a Pittsburg evening newspaper man, who were with the excursion.

"To tell the truth, they are pretty drunk—so you may take your choice as to which room you will sleep in."

The druggist said that on general principles he would take his chances with the evening newspaper journalist, as they excelled the morning men in more ways than one, and he would doubtless be so drunk that he would lie dormantly quiet all night. He went to bed and was soon sound asleep. The journalist, however, awakened about 12 o'clock, and thinking it a long time between drinks, dressed himself, unconsciously, in the druggist's clothes, and sallied out to make a night of it.—Ever and anon he muttered, as he treated all present:

"Funniest thing I ever heard of. When I went to bed last night I only had twenty-five cents to my name, and now I've got over a hundred dollars (showing a corpulent roll of bills), and I'm bound to spend every cent of it before morning." He did.

AN UNKNOWN HERMIT'S SUICIDE.—An old German, with a curious history, committed suicide at Atlanta, Ga., Friday. He came to Atlanta many years ago, and took lodging at a country house. He refused to give any name, and was known as Uncle Henry. He lived as a hermit, never leaving his room. A day or two since he said he was seventy-two years old, and that he was getting too old to live. Friday he took an old army musket, and, resting it between his legs, fired it into his face. He left absolutely nothing that would solve the mystery of his identity, and died unknown. He was a man of culture and refinement.

1st. That it is well made, being manufactured by the latest improved machinery and methords; it is thoroughly mixed and all the ingredients are well incorporated with each other.

2nd. That it contains a much larger per centage of Bone Phosphate than any other compound on the market at the same price.

3rd. That a much larger proportion of this Bone Phosphate is available for the use of the growing crop.

4th. That it contains a larger percentage of Ammonia.

5th. That it is a much more valuable goods for the price asked for it than any heretofore sold in this county.

The above Goods was largely used last Fall in this County by many of our best Farmers, giving excellent results,—in many instances giving a larger yield of wheat than the most expensive goods—in one case as high as FORTY-TWO BUSHELS TO THE ACRE.

$33 Per Ton, and interest on crop term.

Give it a fair trial and I believe you will be satisfied.

THE POPPLEIN
Silicated Phosphate Co.
MANUFACTURERS
Of the only complete Mineral Fertilizer.
No Refuse Organic Matter.

Contains every mineral ingredient removed from the soil by cropping. Does not burn the plant. Feeds and does not exhaust the land. Contains one-third more bulk than any other Fertilizer. Is fine, light, dry and drills beautifully, no clogging and no time lost in cleaning the drill. It is entirely free from odor and can be handled without offence.

FOR WHEAT.

This Fertilizer will grow more Wheat to the acre, under same circumstances, than any other. The grain will be larger, plumper, heavier and will bring more money in the market or at the mill. The roots will be longer, stronger and more numerous, thus affording protection against winter killing. The straw will be stiffer and stronger and will not lodge under ordinary storms or on bottom lands as with other fertilizers.

FOR GRASS

It has no equal. The good effects of the application will be evident for years. Plants grown with this fertilizer will resist any ordinary drought, remaining green and vigorous when others are parched. Grass lands, on which this article alone has been used, will be free from weeds. A liberal application of this fertilizer will increase the productive capacity of the land, as it contains no stimulants, but is entirely solid plant food. The ingredients are available Phosphoric Acid, Silicic Acid, Potash, Soda and Magnesia, which are in the form best adapted to the needs of the plant and far superior in condition to any other fertilizer.

After the fertilizer is removed, the bags can be used to hold anything, without cost. Packed in good strong bags of 200 lbs. each.

It has been used the past season by some of our most intelligent farmers, and a number of cases tests were made with other leading fertilizers, where the wheat was threshed separately, and the result was decidedly in favor of the POPPLEIN in each case.

Successful Wheat Growing

The Popplein Silicated Phosphate

If asked to define successful wheat growing I should describe it as that which returns money into the pocket of the grower. To accomplish this continuously, good crops must be produced. It will not do to have an extra yield occasionally and a half crop or less at other times. The loss for the poor year eats up the profits for the good ones. No question connected with successful culture is of more interest than that of the Fertilizers to be applied. With some exception, wherever I have heard of our Phosphate being applied alongside of other Phosphates the result is in favor of ours.

I will refer you to gentlemen that made tests last fall in Kent county, Md.:

TEST MADE BY MR. WM. H. STEWART, near Chestertown, for the benefit of the Agricultural Club. He used his own make, Turner's Excelsior, Horner, and Popplein Phosphate. Excepting the "home make," the Popplein phosphate produced very largest yield.

MR. GEORGE S. DEIHL made a trial between the Popplein and other Phosphates; result of the trial was decidedly in favor of the Popplein.

DEL PENNEL, ESQ., used Popplein along side of 250 lbs. ground Animal Bone, 250 lbs. Sun Guano, making 400 lbs. per acre, and the Popplein produced 1½ bushels more than the Animal Bone and Guano mixed. I refer to Ed. Biddle and Mr. Pennel, on lately purchased by Mr. Pennel of Mr. T. W. Hynson. The public say that the crop on his fertilizer this year, there, is far the best production that they ever saw on the Hynson farm.

MR. H. CLAY LUSBY made a trial alongside of his home-made fertilizer which cost thirty-three dollars per ton and other fertilizers, and the result was favorable to the Popplein.

JAS. A. PEARCE, ESQ., Chestertown, in his trial says, it produced a larger yield than any other and he is so much pleased that he intends to use only the Popplein and Baker's Potash.

MR. THOMAS. BAKER, NEAR CHESTERTOWN, in his test with others, says, the Popplein produced three bushels per acre more than the others, stood up and drilled better.

JOHN SCOTTON, near Massey's X Roads, in his trial, says it produced more wheat, stood up better, weighed 63½ lbs. per bushel, and of brighter color.

MR. SAMUEL ROSEBERY near Kennedyville, produced 27½ bushels per acre; was much pleased with the results of the Popplein—says it drills well, and if the fly had not cut of the field, thinks he would have gotten 33 to 35 bushels per acre.

MR. WASHINGTON PRICE, near Kennedyville, in his trial, says, shortly after he began to see the superiority of the Popplein Silicated Phosphate develop itself until it left all the other kinds he used.
